Eve in Three Traditions and Literatures Caspi, Mishael Maswari Caspi,2004 Eve in Three Traditions and Literatures Mishael Caspi,Mohammad Jiyad,2004 This book revives the tradition of Eve in three traditions and literatures The discussion of Islamic material is particularly valuable since it examines the exchanges of ideas between early Islam and Judaism It displays an amazing ability to uncover irony and sarcasm in ancient writings that have a profound implication for understanding ancient religion and also examines contemporary references to Eve A ^AGuide to Early Jewish Texts and Traditions in Christian Transmission Gabriele Boccaccini,Lorenzo DiTommaso,David Hamidovic,Michael E. Stone,2019-10-04 The Jewish culture of the Hellenistic and early Roman periods established a basis for all monotheistic religions but its main sources have been preserved to a great degree through Christian transmission This Guide is devoted to problems of preservation reception and transformation of Jewish texts and traditions of the Second Temple period in the many Christian milieus from the ancient world to the late medieval era Texts in Transit in the Medieval Mediterranean Y. Tzvi Langermann,Robert G. Morrison,2016-09-01 This collection of essays studies the movement of texts in the Mediterranean basin in the medieval period from historical and philological perspectives Rejecting the presumption that texts simply travel without changing the contributors examine closely the nature of these writings which are concerned with such topics as science and medicine and how they changed over the course of their journeys Transit and transformation give texts new subtexts and contexts providing windows through which to study how memory encryption oral communication cultural and religious values and knowledge traveled and were shared transformed and preserved This volume broadens how we think about texts communication and knowledge in the medieval world Aside from the editors the contributors are Mushegh Asatryan Brian N Becker Leonardo Capezzone Leigh Chipman Ofer Elinor Zohar Hadromi Allouche B Harun K k Israel M Sandman and Tam s Visi A Life in Parables and Poetry: Mishael Maswari Caspi John T. Greene,2020-08-10 No detailed description available for A Life in Parables and Poetry Mishael Maswari Caspi Specters of Paul Benjamin H. Dunning,2011-02-07 The first Christians operated with a hierarchical model of sexual difference common to the ancient Mediterranean with women considered to be lesser versions of men Yet sexual difference was not completely stable as a conceptual category across the spectrum of formative Christian thinking Rather early Christians found ways to exercise theological creativity and to think differently from one another as they probed the enigma of sexually differentiated bodies In Specters of Paul Benjamin H Dunning explores this variety in second and third century Christian thought with particular attention to the ways the legacy of the apostle Paul fueled shaped and also constrained approaches to the issue Paul articulates his vision of what it means to be human primarily by situating human beings between two poles creation Adam and resurrection Christ But within this framework where does one place the figure of Eve and the difference that her female body represents Dunning demonstrates that this dilemma impacted a range of Christian thinkers in the centuries

immediately following the apostle including Clement of Alexandria Irenaeus of Lyons Tertullian of Carthage and authors from the Nag Hammadi corpus While each of these thinkers attempts to give the difference of the feminine a coherent place within a Pauline typological framework Dunning shows that they all fail to deliver fully on the coherence that they promise Instead sexual difference haunts the Pauline discourse of identity and sameness as the difference that can be neither fully assimilated nor fully ejected a conclusion with important implications not only for early Christian history but also for feminist and queer philosophy and theology

Covenant Marriage in Comparative Perspective John Witte (Jr.), Eliza Ellison, 2005-10-20 Covenant marriages requiring premarital counseling and tighter strictures on divorce have recently emerged in some American states At the same time the doctrine of covenant has reemerged in religious circles as a common way to map the spiritual dimensions of marriage Covenant Marriage in Comparative Perspective brings together eminent scholars from Jewish Orthodox Catholic Protestant and Islamic religious traditions as well as experts on American covenant marriage The introduction carries out an unprecedented comparison of contract and covenant in Jewish

Christian and Muslim understandings of marriage The rest of the book elucidates various facets of marriage from the perspectives of both jurisprudence and religion producing an enlightening integrated picture of the legal and spiritual dimensions of marriage

Winning Revolutions J. Harold Ellens, 2013-11-26 The product of 35 senior scholars research these volumes examine the psychology driving the religious political and economic forces that cause turbulence and violence in human society Religious political and economic revolts have defined the human experience throughout history These kinds of universal turbulence continue to be the dominate source of human suffering and perplexity during the first decade of the 21st century What can intensive study of the psychodynamics of cultural and social eruptions tell us that may serve to move cultures around the world beyond ongoing strife This work seeks to find out examining the spectrum of cultural and social eruptions from ancient Jewish Christian and Muslim revolutions to the modern day economic and political turbulence in Eastern Europe the Near East and Latin America The breadth of this three volume set ranges from the 12th century BCE to the current struggles in Iraq Afghanistan and Syria and from the irrational violence of the French Revolution to the genuine quest for liberty of the American Revolution and the Singing Revolutions in the Baltic States in recent decades Each volume is introduced with a description of its philosophical perspective and concludes with a brief summarization of the takeaways of the research presented

Renaissance and Rebirth Brian Ogren, 2009-09-30 Metempsychosis was a prominent element in Renaissance conceptualizations of the human being the universe and the place of the human person in the universe A variety of concepts emerged in debates about metempsychosis human to human reincarnation human to vegetal human to animal and human to angelic transmigration As a complex and changing doctrine metempsychosis gives us a well placed window for viewing the complex and dynamic contours of Jewish thought in late fifteenth century Italy as such it enables us to evaluate Jewish thought in relation to non Jewish Italian developments This book addresses the problematic question of the roles and achievements of Jews who lived in Italy in the development of Renaissance culture in its Jewish and its Christian dimensions Throughout the book Ogren demonstrates the scholarly pertinacity and intellectual and linguistic versatility that crosscultural intellectual history requires He finds and digests the essential studies and obscure remarks in modern scholarship as well as from the fifteenth century that substantiate the argument and he constantly strives to discern larger patterns This research will reward scholars who follow his leads Arthur M Lesley in Renaissance Quarterly 63 3 2010

Judaism and Islam Stephen Hunt, 2017-03-02 This volume on Judaism and Islam in The Library of Essays on Sexuality and Religion series overviews perceptions of human sexuality through two major monotheistic faiths namely Judaism and Islam Part 1 presents previously published articles on Judaism and sexuality from a historical perspective in particular through the writings of the Tanakh and traditional Judaic attitudes Part 2 focuses more cogently on contemporary themes including both the contestation and defence of conventional Jewish standpoints on sexuality via orthodox and liberal renderings of the faith Part 3 includes articles examining Islamic views of sexuality from a historical perspective Here there is a special focus on the faith's construction of sexual categories as well as the relationship between sexuality, gender and patriarchy. Part 4 takes a cross-cultural and global perspective of the subject with a particular emphasis on the connection between sexuality and moral regulation besides scrutinising varying and contrasting cultural attitudes in Islamic communities today.

Interpreting Islam Hastings Donnan, 2002-02-15 Islam is one of the most misunderstood concepts in the West. Myths and stereotypes surround it. This clear and penetrating volume helps readers to make sense of Islam. It offers a penetrating guide to the diversity and richness of contemporary knowledge about Islam and Muslim society. Throughout the emphasis is upon the value of pluralistic approaches to Islam rather than condensing complexity with unifying concepts such as Orientalism. Interdisciplinary in scope and organization, the book cuts through the bewildering and seemingly anarchic diversity of contemporary knowledge about Islam and Muslim society. The methodological difficulties and advantages of Western researchers focusing on Islam are fully documented. The book demonstrates how gender, age, status and insider/outsider status impacts upon research and inflects research findings. God's Joust, God's Justice John Witte, 2006-10-31 God's Joust, God's Justice provides a vista of the major debates over law and religion in the West, enabling readers to proceed toward a more integrated understanding of the foundational elements of modern democracy. Veiling Esther, Unveiling Her Story Adam J. Silverstein, 2018-10-24 Veiling Esther, Unveiling Her Story: The Reception of a Biblical Book in Islamic Lands examines the ways in which the Biblical Book of Esther was read, understood and used in Muslim lands from ancient to modern times. It focuses on case studies covering works from various periods and regions of the Muslim world, including the Qur'an, pre-modern historical chronicles and literary works, the writings of a nineteenth-century Shia feminist, a twentieth-century Iranian encyclopaedia and others. These case studies demonstrate that Muslim sources contain valuable materials on Esther which shed light both on the Esther story itself and on the Muslim peoples and cultures that received it. Adam J. Silverstein argues that Muslim sources preserve important pre-Islamic materials on Esther that have not survived elsewhere, some of which offer answers to ancient questions about Esther such as the meaning of Haman's epithet in the Greek versions of the story, the reason why Mordecai refused to prostrate before Haman and the literary context of the plot of the eunuchs to kill the Persian king. Throughout the book, Silverstein shows how each author's cultural and religious background influenced his or her understanding and retelling of the Esther story. In particular, he highlights that Persian Muslims and Jews were often forced to reconcile or choose between the conflicting historical narratives provided by their religious and cultural heritages respectively. Tradition, Transmission, and Transformation from Second Temple Literature through Judaism and Christianity in Late Antiquity Menahem Kister, Hillel Newman, Michael Segal, Ruth Clements, 2015-10-05 Many types of tradition and interpretation found in later Jewish and Christian writings trace their origins to the Second Temple period, but their transmission and transformation followed different paths within the two religious communities. For example, while Christians often translated and transmitted discrete Second Temple texts, rabbinic Judaism generally preserved earlier traditions integrated into new literary frameworks In both cases ancient traditions were often transformed to serve new purposes but continued to bear witness to their ancient roots Later compositions may even provide the key to clarifying obscurities in earlier texts The contributions in this volume explore the dynamics by which earlier texts and traditions were transmitted and transformed in these later bodies of literature and their attendant cultural contexts

The Tree of Life Douglas Estes, 2020-03-17 The tree of life is an iconic visual symbol at the edge of religious thought over the last several millennia As a show of its significance the tree bookends the Christian canon yet scholarship has paid it minimal attention in the modern era In The Tree of Life a team of scholars explore the origin development meaning reception and theology of this consequential yet obscure symbol The fourteen essays trek from the origins of the tree in the texts and material culture of the ancient Near East to its notable roles in biblical literature to its expansion by early church fathers and Gnostics to its rebirth in medieval art and culture and to its place in modern theological thought
