A Philosopher at the Admiralty Peter Johnson, 2012-05-29 This book is volume one of a two part series volumes sold separately Taken together the two volumes of A Philosopher at War examine the political thought of the philosopher and archaeologist R G Collingwood against the background of the First and Second World Wars Collingwood served in Admiralty Intelligence during the First World War and although he was not physically robust enough to play an active role in the Second World War he was swift to condemn the policies of appeasement which he thought largely responsible for bringing it about The author uses a blend of political philosophy history and discussion of political policy to uncover what Collingwood says about the First World War the Peace Treaty which followed it and the crises which led to the Second World War in 1939 together with the response he mustered to it before his death in 1943 The aim is to reveal the kind of liberalism he valued and explain why he valued it By 1940 Collingwood came to see that a liberalism separated from Christianity would be unable to meet the combined evils of Fascism and Nazism How Collingwood arrived at this position and how viable he finally considered it is the story told in these volumes

A Christian Peace Experiment Ian M. Randall, 2018-03-14 This book examines part of the development of the Bruderhof community which emerged in Germany in 1920 Community members sought to model their life on the New Testament This included sharing goods The community became part of the Hutterite movement with its origins in sixteenth century Anabaptism After the rise to power of the Nazi regime the Bruderhof became a target and the community was forcibly dissolved Members who escaped from Germany and travelled to England were welcomed as refugees from persecution and a community was established in the Cotswolds In the period 1933 to 1942 when the Bruderhof's witness was advancing in Britain its members were in touch with many individuals and movements This book covers the Bruderhof's connections with among others the Fellowship of Reconciliation Dietrich Bonhoeffer the Peace Pledge Union the social work of Muriel and Doris Lester in East London Jewish refugee groups and artistic pioneers like Eric Gill As significant numbers of British people joined the Bruderhof its farming publishing and arts and crafts activities extended considerably But with the outbreak of the Second World War German members came to be regarded with suspicion and British members became unpopular locally because they were pacifists Although the Bruderhof was defended in Parliament notably by Lady Astor it seemed that German members would be interned as enemy aliens The consequence was that by 1942 over 300 community members had left England With Mennonite assistance they began to forge a new life in South America This book traces a remarkable Christian peace experiment being undertaken in a time of great political upheaval

Archangels & Archaeology Geoffrey A. C. Ginn, 2012 John Sebastian Marlow Ward 1885-1949 was an English antiquarian mystic occult scholar and museums pioneer Ward's provocative works on Masonic symbolism secret societies and spirit communications remain in print and the innovative social history museum the Abbey Folk Park which he founded in New Barnet north London in the 1930s was later transplanted to Queensland Australia where it continues to flourish His career demonstrates a remarkable fusion of the esoteric and spiritual pre occupations of the early 20th century with the deeper currents of antiquarianism and Christian mysticism Ward s life of energetic work spiritual exploration and public activity presents a compelling narrative His career moved from Cambridge Freemasonry and Edwardian Britain s occult revival to wartime spirit communications and mystical visions of a Pentecostal apocalypse as World War II approached His unique and populist history museum fused a passion for Britain s disappearing heritage with his conviction that the collapse of Western civilization was imminent When Ward was unfairly disgraced in a sensational court case in May 1945 he and his followers departed England for Cyprus in self imposed exile Archangels and Archaeology examines Ward s extraordinary life and career demonstrating how these religious intellectual and cultural themes so often treated in isolation came together in the turbulent decades of the early 20th century But his career also has its own tragic arc from youthful antiquarian to the mature scholar to full blown mystic and eccentric religious leader and finally to his own fall from public grace in exile and decline

Protestant Spiritual Traditions Frank C. Senn,2000      Friendship in God A. M. Allchin,2025-02-11 The slow progress of the churches in the twentieth century towards the unity for which Christ prayed is measured chiefly by official records of conferences debates declarations and agreements What are less often recorded and rarely noticed at the individual relationships between one Christian and another of different confessions Such personal encounters sustained by mutual attraction profound respect and above all by prayer make a contribution which cannot be measured to the healing of wounds inflicted by centuries of division on the Body of Christ This short study explores with care and sensitivity the spiritual friendship between an English Anglican and an Italian Roman Catholic both women dedicated to the love and service of God and both now commemorated in the Calendars of their several Churches      The Return to the Mystical Peter

Tyler,2011-06-16 The most recent mystical theology scholarship a discipline that has found new energy and influence This is examined through the lens of Wittgenstein s philosophy      An Introduction to Religious and Spiritual Experience

Marianne Rankin,2008-01-01 Spiritual experiences mystical and near death incidences are interpreted from scientific philosophical and religious viewpoints      Mystic Moderns James H. Thrall,2020-01-21 Mystic Moderns examines the responses of three British authors Evelyn Underhill 1875 1941 May Sinclair 1863 1946 and Mary Webb 1881 1927 to the emerging modernity of the long early twentieth century moment encompassing the First World War As they explored divergent but overlapping understandings of what mystical experience might be these authors rejected claims that modernity s celebration of the secular and rational left no place for the mystical rather they countered sensitivity to a greater reality could both establish and validate personal agency and was integral to their identities as modern women Their preoccupations with the dynamism of human connection drew on prevailing ideas of vital energy or life force developed by Arthur Schopenhauer and Henri Bergson in ways that channeled modernity s erotic energy of change By using their fiction to describe new self authenticating forms of mysticism separate from either the prevailing orthodoxy of establishment

Christianity or the extreme heterodoxy of their era's enthusiasm for paranormal experimentation they also contributed to the rise of a generic concept of spirituality. Mystic Moderns thus offers historical perspective on contemporary claims for self-constructed non-institutional spiritual experience associated with the claim 'I'm spiritual not religious.' Working as they did within the shadow of the First World War, Underhill, Sinclair, and Webb were in the end attempting to determine what might be of authentic value for a modern age marked by ubiquitous death. While not themselves utopian authors, each was touched by her era's complicated hunger for the best of all possible worlds. Their constructions of how an individual should be and act in the midst of modernity thus simultaneously projected visions of what that modernity itself should become.
