Everest South West Face:

Everest, South West Face Chris Bonington, 1975 The south west face of Everest has never yet been conquered The greatest unclimbed challenge in the world remains to test the limits of man's courage skill and audacity In the autumn of 1972 cutting manpower and equipment to a minimum Chris Bonington led an all British team including Hamish MacInnes and Dougal Haston in an attempt to climb the south west face After overcoming seemingly impossible conditions and circumstances they established five camps and were almost within reach of the summit when they were forced to abandon the attempt because of the intense cold and jet stream winds Day by day tape recorded and written diaries give a true picture of the ebb and flow of emotions and the complex interplay of problems This is the authentic and frank record of what Lord Hunt in his foreword calls one of the great stories of our time Back cover Everest the Hard Way Chris Bonington, 2025-09-24 50th Anniversary Edition Everest the highest peak in the world the ultimate challenge to a mountaineer's skill and endurance It had been climbed before but never like this Chris Bonington and his team had ambitions to climb it the hard way Yet before Bonington and his team set out in August 1975 even their well wishers gave them only a fifty fifty chance of success The South West Face of Everest had already defeated five expeditions including one led by Bonington himself Everest the Hard Way is an exhilarating story of courage endurance and teamwork Bonington's narrative celebrates the big moments and recreates the excitement and danger of the climb with vivid immediacy He shares the logistical problems involved in keeping a large expedition moving and the very real psychological ones of balancing and pairing lead climbers and giving each a chance to make the route on the face He describes the constant avalanche threat which made the Western Cwm more dangerous than the ever treacherous Ice Fall and explains how lowering the sites of camps 4 and 5 solved a supply problem and kept the upward momentum for the attack on the notorious thousand foot tall Rock Band at 27 000 feet which had barred the way to the summit for all previous attempts Drawing upon his experiences and the first hand accounts and diaries of his fellow climbers Bonington gives us the first time jitters and unexpected emergencies the pressures of balancing egos and skills the meticulous planning and the undiluted joy of mastering a seemingly impossible climb which would see Britons stand on the summit of the world for the first time It is an immensely absorbing narrative stunningly augmented with photographs and maps with eleven appendices on everything from communications and equipment to food and medicine How Bonington's team climbed on Everest in 1975 bears no relation to how Everest is climbed fifty years on with endless resources and helicopter support It was much riskier in 1975 Weather forecasts were threadbare and although equipment was improving it was much more basic than today so the risk of frostbite was much greater for mountaineers in the 1970s These climbers the best of their generation were leading hard new ground in the only style which gave them a meaningful chance of success Chris Bonington's Everest the Hard Way is a beautiful fascinating and tragic story of their legendary achievement 1976 American Alpine Journal American Alpine Club,

Keeper of the Mountains Bernadette McDonald, 2012-10-15 Beginning in 1946 Elizabeth Hawley worked for Fortune magazine as a researcher Shortly thereafter she left both her job and the United States itself to travel the world and thus began her lifelong attraction to the exotic and remote sovereign state of Nepal In the years that followed she began reporting on the political and cultural events taking place in her adopted homeland for the likes of Reuters and Time Inc letting the world in on the strange community of mountaineers pilgrims and politicians who were descending on Kathmandu whether in search of adventure enlightenment or prestige Despite the fact that Elizabeth Hawley has never climbed a mountain or visited the hallowed grounds of Everest base camp she has become the most important record keeper and inspirational authority figure regarding the expeditions stories feats scandals and disasters in the Nepal Himalaya Now 90 years of age she has commanded the respect of such legendary personalities as Edmund Hillary Reinhold Messner Chris Bonington Toma Humar and Ed Viesturs With production under way on a film examining her life and legacy it is likely that Hawley will continue to hold a special place in the hearts and minds of all visitors looking to experience the legend and grandeur of the world's most celebrated mountain landscape

Ascent Chris Bonington, 2017-10-19 He is the David Attenborough of mountaineering Bonington's most personal memoir yet The Times This is a compelling tale of fortitude and endurance The Sunday Times Chris Bonington is Britain's best known climber having spent a lifetime among the world's highest and wildest mountains In the 1960s he made the first British ascent of the north face of the Eiger In the 1970s he led some of the most important first ascents ever achieved in the Himalaya including the south face of Annapurna and the south west face of Everest the hard way Along with successes came the agony of friends losing their lives on the mountain gambling with the highest stakes of all In the 1980s he reached the summit of Everest aged fifty one a moment of fulfilment that only renewed his passion for adventure In the years since he has led countless expeditions to remote peaks with small teams all over the world his enthusiasm for remote and little known places still burning as he enters his ninth decade He now looks back on his extraordinary life recounting his family's adventurous roots his mother's struggle to bring him up through the Blitz on her own his discovery of the mountains his fierce ambition and the long marriage that gave a sensitive boy the security to find his place in the world Honours and fame follow the decades of risk and adventure but nothing could protect him from the devastating fatal illness of his wife Wendy Open honest and full of hardwon wisdom Ascent is the epic saga of an unrepeatable life on the edge

In High Places Dougal Haston, 2009-11-26 In his own words Dougal Haston covers the years from his childhood in Scotland where his love of climbing was first sparked through to his development into perhaps the most formidable climber of his generation his reputation was forged by his successful ascents of familiar peaks by unfamiliar routes of which the most famous was the Eiger Direct Infused throughout with his passion for climbing and his great determination to succeed In High Places is a compelling and eye opening portrait of the climber as a young man and a must read for all those with an interest in mountaineering the world's second highest mountain but its savage reputation is second to none The loss of Alison Hargreaves and six companions in 1995 was a grim echo of the multiple deaths in 1986 and of earlier disasters which have become part of climbing legend K2 has always attracted the greatest names in mountaineering Wiessner Houston Bonatti Diemberger and Bonington are among those whose lives have been permanently scarred by their experiences on it At the same time some inspiring new routes have been achieved on the world's most difficult 8000 metre peak Jim Curran himself a survivor of 1986 has traced the history of the mountain from the nineteenth century pioneer explorers down to the present and sees a repeating pattern of naked ambition rivalry misjudgement and recrimination He has also found selfless heroism and impressive route making on the mountain that top climbers will always covet as the ultimate prize Alpine Warriors

Bernadette McDonald, 2015-09-21 From internationally renowned mountain historian Bernadette McDonald comes a highly readable intense and exciting look at the explosion of Slovenian alpinism in the context of that country's turbulent political history After the Second World War a period of relative calm began in Josip Broz Tito's Yugoslavia During the next thirty years citizens could travel freely if they had the money Most did not but alpinists did Through elaborate training regimes and state supported expeditions abroad Yugoslavian alpinists began making impressive climbs in the Himalaya as early as 1960 By the 70s they were ascending the 8000ers These teams were dominated by Slovenian climbers since their region includes the Julian Alps a fiercely steep range of limestone peaks that provided the ideal training ground After Tito died in 1980 however the calm ended Inter ethnic conflict and economic decline ripped Yugoslavia apart But Serbian strongman Slobodan Milošević misread the courage and character of several Yugoslavian states including Slovenia and by 1991 Slovenia was independent The new country continued its support for climbers and success bred success By 1995 all of the 8000ers had been climbed by Slovenian teams And in the next ten years some of the most dramatic and futuristic climbs were made by these ferocious alpinists Apart from a few superstars most of these amazing athletes remain unknown in the West Mixed

Emotions Greg Child, 2012-08-21 Includes five previously unpublished essays Powerful prose sparked with Child's unique wit Well known for his Himalayan expeditions and first ascents on rock walls in Australia and the United States Greg Child freely admits his mixed feelings about climbing Overwhelming are the loss of friends the thrill of achievement and the soul shattering moments of risk and survival but it is precisely these experiences that compel him to write and to continue climbing In Mixed Emotions Child remembers the mountains the people and the episodes that have made him feel his life acutely including the 1986 K2 tragedy that killed 13 climbers a near fatal snakebite in his native Australia and the loss of climbing partner Pete Thexton He recalls his associations with world renowned mountaineers Doug Scott John Roskelley Voytek Kurtyka and Don Whillans Child also narrates fascinating off mountain journeys to a secluded Hindu shrine and the remote harsh landscape of the Baltoro Glacier where progress has left its indelible mark Finally Child comments on some less tangible aspects of climbing such as the ghostly presence that accompanies climbers under duress and the meanings of and inevitable meetings with death      Fallen Giants Maurice Isserman, Stewart Angus Weaver, Dee Molenaar, 2010-01-01 In the first comprehensive history of Himalayan mountaineering in 50 years the authors offer detailed original accounts of the most significant climbs since the 1890s and they compellingly evoke the social and cultural worlds that gave rise to those expeditions      Sacred Summits Peter Boardman, 2013-10-01 Mountaintops have long been seen as sacred places home to gods and dreams In one climbing year Peter Boardman visited three very different sacred mountains He began on the South Face of the Carstensz Pyramid in New Guinea This is the highest point between the Andes and the Himalaya and one of the most inaccessible rising above thick jungle inhabited by warring Stone Age tribes During the spring Boardman made a four man oxygen free attempt on the world's third highest peak Kangchenjunga Hurricane force winds beat back their first two bids on the unclimbed North Ridge but they eventually stood within feet of the summit leaving the final few yards untrodden in deference to the inhabiting deity In October he climbed the mountain most sacred to the Sherpas the twin summited Gauri Sankar Renowned for its technical difficulty and spectacular profile it is aptly dubbed the Eiger of the Himalaya and Boardman's first ascent took a gruelling twenty three days Three sacred mountains three very different expeditions all superbly captured by Boardman in Sacred Summits his second book first published shortly after his death in 1982 Combining the excitement of extreme climbing with acute observation of life in the mountains this is an amusing dramatic poignant and thought provoking book Peter Boardman and Joe Tasker died on Everest in 1982 whilst attempting a new and unclimbed line Both men were superb mountaineers and talented writers Their literary legacy lives on through the Boardman Tasker Prize for Mountain Literature established by family and friends in 1983 and presented annually to the author or co authors of an original work which has made an outstanding contribution to mountain literature      As Told At the Explorers Club George Plimpton, 2020-03-24 For more than a century The Explorers Club has been the meeting place for some of the most daring adventurers on the planet It's a legendary oasis where a man just back from the Gobi Desert might kick back and over some port have a chat with a fellow off to Bandung This updated edition includes a new foreword by Richard Wiese the 44th president of The Explorers Club and an all new photo insert that takes readers inside the exclusive club and its world famous adventure archives Here then are some of the best tales ever swapped at that capital of adventure including Anthony Fiola on being in close quarters with a polar bear Charles Lindbergh on his famous flight Felix Reisenberg on the Arctic Anne Keenleyside PhD on cannibalism Roald Amundsen on the explorer Stefansson Mervyn Cowie on hunting killer lions Jean Marc Boivin on hang gliding Curtis and Kathleen Saville on oceanic rowing E W Deming on Sitting Bull's mysterious death It's some of the finest writing on some of the most hair raising journeys ever made all selected by the late George Plimpton himself a member of The Explorers Club      The Villain Jim Perrin, 2010-11-30 Don Whillans has an iconic significance for generations of climbers His epoch making first ascent of Annapurna's South Face achieved with Dougal Haston in 1970 remains one of the most impressive climbs ever made but behind this and all his other formidable achievements lies a tough recalcitrant reality the character of the man himself Whillans carried within himself a sense of personal invincibility forceful direct and uncompromising It gave him sporting superstar status the flawed heroism of a Best a McEnroe an Ali In his own circle his image was the working class hero on the rock face laconic and bellicose ready to go to war with the elements or with any human who crossed his path on a bad day The Wildest Dream Peter Gillman, Leni Gillman, 2001-09 A biography of the British mountaineer George Mallory whose death near the summit of Everest in 1924 has become legendary 2001 American Alpine Journal , Articles on all significant climbs of 2000 Authors include some of the finest climbers of our time such as Scott Backes Marko Prezelj Valeri Babanov and Thomas Huber as well as virtuoso newcomers Jonathon Copp and Ian Parnell More than 150 photos maps and topos This latest volume of climbing's journal of record offers the most complete picture available of who did what in 2000 Jonathon Copp relates the stunning accomplishments of his light and fast Karakoram expedition with Michael Pennings while Steve House and Rolando Garibotti discuss the state of the art in Alaskan and Patagonian alpinism If it happened in the world of climbing it's in the AAJ Founded in 1902 the American Alpine Club AAC is the leading national organization devoted to mountaineering and rock climbing to the conservation and study of mountainous regions and to representing the interests of the American climbing community The AAC is based in Golden Colorado

Sea, Ice and Rock Chris Bonington, Robin Knox-Johnston, 2020-01-23 When leading mountaineer Sir Chris Bonington was researching Quest for Adventure his study of post war adventure he contacted Sir Robin Knox Johnston the first person to sail single handed and non stop around the world for an interview This simple request turned into an exchange of skills which then grew into a joint expedition to Greenland's unexplored Lemon Mountains Sea Ice and Rock is the story of this epic journey With both Bonington and Knox Johnston having little experience in the other's craft their expedition was not without difficulty But through one another's support the two men and their team sailed from Britain to Greenland going on to twice attempt the Lemon Mountain's forbidding highest peak the Cathedral Though their attempts ended in a dramatic descent this could not dampen the unfailing optimism with which the two approached their task They recount their experiences not only with appreciation for the awe inspiring nature that surrounded them but also for one another Layers of alternate narration between Bonington and Knox Johnston make this a truly collaborative memoir In the same way they exchanged skills on their expedition the two authors rely on one another's recollections to fill the gaps in their own Full of ambition and perseverance anyone wondering why Bonington and Knox Johnston are masters in their fields need only read Sea Ice and Rock

I Chose To Climb Chris Bonington, 2013-10-17 The early climbing years of Britain's greatest living mountaineer from his schooldays to his ascent of the Eiger in 1962 I CHOSE TO CLIMB first published in 1966 was Chris Bonington's first book He was recognised then as now as one of the outstanding members of a brilliant generation of mountaineers which included such personalities as Hamish MacInnes Don Whillans and Ian Clough Here he describes his climbing beginnings as a teenager as well as successful ascents all over the world the first ascent of the Central Pillar of Freney the first British ascent of the North Face of the Eiger in 1962 Annapurna II in 1960 and in an unhappy expedition in 1961 Nuptse the third peak of Everest The first volume of Chris Bonington's autobiography is written with a warmth and enthusiasm that he has made his own It tells of his climbing tastes and practice and of family friends and partnerships cemented over many years Mountain Heroes Huw Lewis-Jones, 2011-11-22 A fascinating view of the personalities that make up the world of mountaineering from world famous explorers to native sherpas No Place to Fall Victor Saunders, 2013-03-14 No Place to Fall is Victor Saunders's follow up to his Boardman Tasker Prize winning debut book Elusive Summits Covering three expeditions to familiar and unfamiliar ranges in Nepal the Karakoram and the Kumaon each shares the exhilaration of attempting new alpine style routes on terrifyingly committing mountains In 1989 Victor Saunders and Steve Sustad completed a difficult route on the West Face of Makalu II only to be brought to a storm bound halt above 7000 metres while descending Without food or bivouac gear they endured a tortuous descent after a night in the open Two years later the pair were with a small team in the Hunza valley exploring elusive access to a giant hidden pillar on the unvisited South East Face of Ultar one of the highest and most shapely of the world's unclimbed peaks Climbing at night to avoid being caught out by the torture of sun on ice they were a few pitches from the summit ridge on soft snow and rotten ice before equipment failure committed them to a dire descent In 1992 Victor Saunders was part of a joint Indian British team climbing various peaks in the Panch Chuli range and exploring its approaches from the west A happy and successful expedition narrowly avoided ending in tragedy when Stephen Venables broke both legs in a fall on the descent from Panch Chuli V and Chris Bonington survived another fall going to his aid The dramatic evacuation of Venables in which the author took a major part forms an exciting climax to a book which describes at first hand what it is like on the cutting edge of contemporary alpine style climbing in the world's highest mountains As well as exciting climbing action No Place to Fall offers enviable mountain exploration enriched by sharing the lives of the mountain peoples along the way Victor Saunders also casts a perceptive if bemused eye over his fellow climbers and reflects on the calculation of risk that drives them back year after year to chance their lives in high places The Ogre Doug Scott, 2017-11-16 Some mountains are high some mountains are hard Few are both On the afternoon of 13 July 1977 having become the first climbers to reach the summit of the Ogre Doug Scott and Chris Bonington began their long descent In the minutes that followed any feeling of success from their achievement would be overwhelmed by the start of a desperate fight for survival And things would only get worse Rising to over 7 000 metres in the centre of the Karakoram the Ogre Baintha Brakk is notorious in mountaineering circles as one of the most difficult mountains to climb First summited by Scott and Bonington in 1977 on expedition with Paul Tut Braithwaite Nick Estcourt Clive Rowland and Mo Anthoine it waited almost twenty four years for a second ascent and a further eleven years for a third The Ogre by legendary mountaineer Doug Scott is a two part biography of this enigmatic peak in the first part Scott has painstakingly researched the geography and history of the mountain part two is the long overdue and very personal account of his and Bonington's first ascent and their dramatic week long descent on which Scott suffered two broken legs and Bonington smashed ribs Using newly discovered diaries letters and audio tapes it tells of the heroic and selfless roles played by Clive Rowland and Mo Anthoine When the desperate climbers finally made it back to base camp they were to find it abandoned and themselves still a long way from safety The Ogre is undoubtedly one of the greatest adventure stories of all time
