European Industrial Organization:

The European Corporation Klaus Gugler, Evgeni Peev, 2023-06-15 Discusses ownership and control change in Europe in the decades following the global corporate governance revolution in the 1990s Industrial Organization in the European Union Stephen Davies, Bruce Lyons, 1996 This book fills an important gap in our knowledge of the organization of EU manufacturing industry At the empirical level it draws on a newly constructed micro level database the European market share matrix to present the first ever comprehensive picture of the concentration integration multinationality and diversification of EU industry and firms However its purpose is not primarily descriptive At the theoretical level it develops a new way of integrating the insights of international trade industrial organization international business and corporate strategy A central thesis is that by understanding the reasons for the industrial structure we observe much can be understood about the underlying competitive process that generated this structure in the context of current European integration In this RandD advertising and government intervention each play important and pervasive roles The insights from an econometric analysis of the various dimensions of industrial structure are applied to address policy relevant questions such as is the industrial organization of the member states integrated at the EU level Are diversification and multinationality random or do they follow an industrial logic Which industries and firms pose the most serious potential problems for competition policy How do the largest EU firms achieve their size Do certain member states dominate the ownership or location of production European Industrial Organisation Alex Jacquemin, H. W. de Jong, 1977 Production Networks in Asia and Europe Rogier Busser, Yuri Sadoi, 2004-02-24 This study explains the various influences of the Japanese automobile industry on industrial development in both Southeast Asia and Europe European Business Debra Johnson, Colin Turner, 2007-01-24 Fully revised and updated this new edition of an already well established text is easy to use engagingly written and contains a wealth of pedagogical features Exploring the European business environment paying particular attention to the role of member states and how Europe interacts with the rest of the world the authors examine what is unique about the European business environment integration how it has affected the strategy and behaviour of businesses with a European presence New to this edition is new material on the single European market the single currency and related policy issues issues not dealt with elsewhere such as the European consumer entrepreneurship sustainability and Europe s relationship with emerging economies like China an attractive new design and new pedagogical features including numerous topical case studies to illustrate the themes explored chapter objectives discussion questions boxed supporting information and extensive further reading and resources a companion website to provide extra material for students and lecturers European Business is an essential read for all students of international business Visit the Companion website at www.routledge.com/textbooks/9780415351355 The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies for 1994 Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 1997-05-31 This text provides a source of citations to North American scholarships relating specifically to the area of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union It indexes fields of scholarship such as the humanities arts technology and life sciences and all kinds of scholarship such as PhDs Competition in Europe P. de Wolf, 2012-12-06

Competition in Europe which has been chosen as the title for the Essays in Honour of Henk W de Jong contains two key concepts that characterize his scientific contribution to Industrial Organisation Professor H W de Jong is in the first place an economist who is highly inspired by the dynamics of markets in general and the dynamics and conditions of competition in particular In the second place H W de Jong is a real European economist not in the sense that his theoretical insights are limited to Europe but in the sense that his ideas and policy suggestions especially those concerning competition policy reflect his sincere involvement in the European integration process and the economic conditions and perspectives of a Common Market for the European Community In his many illustrations of the evolution of markets and the performance of enterprises in different business environments H W de Jong also demonstrates his knowledge of historical and political aspects of different economies in Europe often in comparison with the United States and Japan The Structure of European Industry H. W. de Jong, 2013-12-01

The Structure of European Industry is a collection of essays on the economic organization of industrial sectors in Europe which may serve either of policy makers in business and in Government and staff and students at Universities The first group increasingly needs a focus on the longer term developments of European industry now that the positive growth effects of the economic integration of the sixties have worn off Restructuring is the current catch word and nobody can deny the necessity and urgency of the task But it has become a day to day affair and there may be a loss of perspective The second group is growing up in an international environment and should be equipped accordingly Many faceted tasks are involved with serving either depending on the problems which differ according to industries And here the bewildering complexity of the European industrial scenery strikes Some of these industries are old fashioned some are new some are national in orientation some have become integrated some have a competitive structure some are cartelized or heavily concentrated some have been interfered with by national Governments others were free from such policing etc Moreover a number of industries show various combinations of these and other facets at the same time Market Power in EU Antitrust Law Luis Ortiz Blanco, 2011-12-02

The notion of market power is central to antitrust law Under EU law antitrust rules refer to appreciable restrictions of competition Article 101 1 Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union TFEU ex Article 81 1 EC Treaty the elimination of competition for a substantial part of the market Article 101 3 TFEU ex Article 81 3 EC dominant positions Article 102 TFEU ex Article 82 EC and substantial impediment to effective competition in particular by creating or reinforcing a dominant position Article 2 of the EU Merger Regulation At first sight only the concept of dominant position relates to market power but it is the aim of this book to demonstrate that the other concepts are directly linked to the notion of market power This is done by reference to the case law of the EU Courts and the precedents of the European Commission The author goes on to argue that for very good reasons clarity and enforceability among others the rules should be interpreted in this way Beginning with market definition the book reviews the different rules and the different degrees of market power they incorporate Thus it analyses the notion of appreciable restriction of competition to find a moderate market power obtained by agreement among competitors to be the benchmark for the application of Article 101 TFEU ex Article 81 EC It moves on to the concept of dominance under Article 102 TFEU ex Article 82 EC which is equivalent to substantial or significant market power and then focuses on the old and new tests for EU merger control Finally it addresses the idea of elimination of competition in respect of a substantial part of the market Article 101 3 TFEU ex Article 81 3 b EC in which the last two types of market power Article 102 TFEU ex Article 82 EC and EU Merger Regulation converge To exemplify this an in depth study of the notion of collective dominance is conducted The book concludes that a paradigm of market power exists under the EU antitrust rules that both fits with past practice and provides for a useful framework of analysis for the general application of the rules by administrative and even more importantly judicial authorities in the Member States under conditions of legal certainty

Multinationals and Europe 1992 (RLE International Business) Beat Burgenmeier, Jean-Louis Mucchielli, 2013-01-25 When it was originally published this book presented the first independent review of the critical role played by multinationals in Europe Extending its focus beyond 1992 the book examines both the economic and business strategy frameworks the firms need to develop to maintain a competitive advantage Using case studies from specific industries it looks not only at the activity of multinationals within the single market but explores the competitive strategies of non European firms with special emphasis on Japanese companies which were poised to exploit 1992 The importance of interaction between multinationals and national government policies is also analysed taking into account the integration already achieved

Regulating Trade in Services in the EU and the WTO Ioannis Lianos, Okeoghene Odudu, 2012-03-22 This volume assesses the viability of various theories of economic integration that take into account the legal economic political and social challenges of incorporating free trade with retaining the plurality of social welfare standards and consumer protection Chapters cover the governance of trade in services at the European and global level studies on the recent Services Directive and how this interacts with the principle of managed mutual recognition and harmonization in different sectors of trade in services social services financial services the recent case law of the European Courts on the enforcement of the principle of free movement of services and how this accommodates various national public interest concerns and the interaction of the freedom to provide services with fundamental rights including social rights The operation of the principle of managed mutual recognition in other economic integration regimes in particular in the context of the WTO is also discussed

Economic Growth in Europe Since 1945 N. F. R. Crafts, Gianni Toniolo, 1996-04-18 This compelling volume re examines the topic of economic growth in Europe after the Second World War The contributors approach the subject armed not only with new theoretical ideas but also with the experience of the 1980s on which to draw The analysis is based on both applied economics and on economic history Thus while the volume is greatly informed by insights from growth theory emphasis is given to the presentation of chronological and institutional detail The case study approach and the adoption of a longer run perspective than is normal for economists allow new insights to be obtained As well as including chapters that consider the experience of individual European countries the book explores general European institutional arrangements and historical circumstances The result is a genuinely comparative picture of post war growth with insights that do not emerge from standard cross section regressions based on the post 1960 period

Democracy, Federalism, the European Revolution, and Global Governance Andrea Bosco, 2020-06-10 The European Union is facing today the greatest crisis since its creation Brexit could mean not only the reversal of its steady enlargement from 6 to 28 member states but also the beginning of an inexorable decline leading to its disintegration However few today seem to recollect that it was precisely the British who were the first to promulgate the political culture which inspired the European Union s construction democracy and federalism and the first who tried to realise in June 1940 a European federation on the basis of an Anglo French union This volume traces the fundamental stages of the European unification process placing it in relation to the wider process of world economic and political integration In particular it analyses the historical significance of the European Revolution which is identified in the overcoming of the nation state namely the modern political formula which institutionalised the political division of mankind and the birth of the first truly international state The universal historical significance of the European Revolution lies in its exportability as for the other great European revolutions and therefore its potential as progressively extensible to all the states of the planet Europe was indeed the first region of the world where the barriers between national states fell and a post national political identity emerged complementary to national political identities It is in fact in the context of the European Union that democracy beyond the borders of the nation state has first been realized constituting a guiding principle for global governance

In the Mirror of the Third World Sandra Halperin, 2018-09-05 In Marx's familiar dictum the more developed country shows the less developed an image of its own future Turning this idea upside down In the Mirror of the Third World looks to the contemporary Third World for a reflection of European history The resulting view challenges standard accounts of European social economic and political development Sandra Halperin's analysis of the European experience begins where studies of Third World development often start considering the legacies of colonial domination Europe also had a colonial past she reminds us and the states of Europe like those of today's Third World were the product of colonialism and imperialism From this starting point Halperin traces features characteristic of Third World development through the history of European capitalism enclave economies oriented to foreign markets weak middle classes alliances among the state traditional landowning elites and new industrial classes unstable and partial democracy sharp inequalities and increasing poverty all as much a part of European society on the eve of World War I as they are of developing countries today Halperin also emphasizes the emergence of a militant literal religion in Europe and its critical role in the class struggles of the nineteenth century
