Ethnic Minorities and Inter-ethnic Relations in Context Karen Phalet, Antal Orkeny, 2017-10-19 This volume is based on papers presented on ethnic minorities and inter ethnic relations in Hungary and The Netherlands which were presented and discussed in three conferences and a series of meetings from 1997 1999 This work builds on comparative studies of the rise of a radical right and the mobilization of anti immigrant feelings It presents cross national comparative research due to the credence that shifting national angles is a powerful strategic tool with which to correct national bias and to uncover submerged or overlooked aspects of specific national cases The book brings together contributions from Hungarian and Dutch scholars in the field of ethnic minorities and inter ethnic relations The two countries are used as exemplary cases of distinct ethno political patterns in Central and Western Europe Combining complementary configurational and dimensional approaches to cross national comparison the diverse forms of ethnic relations in Hungary and The Netherlands are analyzed and competing explanations of ethno political conflict or co ordination are tested in both national contexts

European Nations and Nationalism A. Hagendoorn, 2000 A comparative analysis of the political and social economic past and present of fifteen European countries The development of nation states the nature of political structures institutions and parties the ethnic composition of populations and definitions of citizenship are all explored An Anthology of Migration and Social Transformation Anna Amelina, Kenneth Horvath, Bruno Meeus, 2015-12-01 The contributions of this book examine contemporary dynamics of migration and mobility in the context of the general societal transformations that have taken place in Europe over the past few decades The book will help readers to better understand the manifold ways in which migration trends in the region are linked to changing political economic constellations orders of power and inequality and political discourses It begins with an introduction to a number of theoretical approaches that address the nexus between migration and general societal shifts including processes of supranationalisation EU enlargement postsocialist transformations and rescaling It then provides a comprehensive overview of the political regulation of migration through border control and immigration policies The contributions that follow detail the dynamic changes of individual migration patterns and their implications for the agency of mobile individuals The final part challenges the reader to consider how policies and practices of migration are linked to symbolic struggles over belonging and rights describing a wide range of expressions of such conflicts from cosmopolitanism to racism and xenophobia This book is aimed at researchers in various fields of the social sciences and can be used as course reading for undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses in the areas of international migration transnational and European studies It will be a beneficial resource for scholars looking for material on the most current conceptual tools for analysis of the nexus of migration and societal transformation in Europe

The Catholic Ethic and Global Capitalism Bryan Fields, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2003 Fields traces the origins of recent economic growth in Ireland over a long period of development In doing so he opens up an old debate with new data interpretations and evidence that will force many to question existing truths about the role of religion in economic growth The work is founded on an innovative methodology and unique primary and secondary resource material that has never been used in a study of this kind This is timely as the area has a growing international market and addresses some recently ignored themes in the Social Sciences in particular religion Whilst concerned with global issues this text also focuses on one country which economists and sociologists as well as those in other Social Sciences areas will find of great interest

International Migration and Ethnic Relations Magnus Dahlstedt, Anders Neergaard, 2015-05-22 Each day in so many aspects of daily life we are reminded of the significance of migration and ethnicity This book is a critical contribution to the understanding of the phenomena of migration and ethnicity from a Swedish vantage point looking outwards towards a European context It presents current academic debates and gives a theoretical overview of nine key concepts in the field of ethnic and migrations studies but it also exemplifies how these concepts could be used in analysing specific empirical cases It explores the following concepts ethnicity migration diaspora citizenship intersectionality racism right wing populism social exclusion and informalisation The book is interdisciplinary embracing areas such as labour studies economic history ethnicity business administration gender studies literature studies economics educational science social anthropology social work sociology and political science

The International Handbook of Sociology Stella R Quah, Arnaud Sales, 2000-09-19 The most up to date survey of the range of research in contemporary sociology extremely useful to students teachers and researchers alike Indispensable for collective and personal libraries Immanuel Wallerstein Maison des Sciences de l'Homme Paris This unique Handbook provides state of the art reviews of sociology conducted by prominent scholars Drawing on dedicated knowledge and expertise the book constitutes an unrivalled guide to the central theoretical and methodological perspectives in the discipline as a whole The book is organized into six parts o conceptual perspectives o social and cultural differentiation o changing institutions and collective action o demography cities and housing o art and leisure o social problems Each chapter includes a comprehensive review of the literature covering the full range of work from contrasting traditions of thought and approaches No existing work matches this Handbook for scholarly coverage and relevance It is a primary resource for understanding the discipline As such it will appeal to lecturers researchers and advanced graduate and undergraduate students in Sociology

Migration Theory Caroline B. Brettell, James F. Hollifield, 2014-08-25 During the last decade the issue of migration has increased in global prominence and has caused controversy among host countries around the world To remedy the tendency of scholars to speak only to and from their own disciplinary perspective this book brings together in a single volume essays dealing with central concepts and key theoretical issues in the study of international migration across the social sciences Editors Caroline B Brettell and James F Hollifield have guided a thorough revision of this seminal text with valuable insights from such fields as anthropology demography economics geography history law political science and sociology Each essay focuses on key concepts questions and theoretical frameworks on the topic of international migration in a particular discipline but the volume as a whole teaches readers about similarities and differences across the boundaries between one academic field and the next How for example do political scientists wrestle with the question of citizenship as compared with sociologists and how different is this from the questions that anthropologists explore when they deal with ethnicity and identity Are economic theories about ethnic enclaves similar to those of sociologists What theories do historians the essentializers and demographers the modelers draw upon in their attempts to explain empirical phenomena in the study of immigration What are the units of analysis in each of the disciplines and do these shape different questions and diverse models and theories Scholars and students in migration studies will find this book a powerful theoretical guide and a text that brings them up to speed quickly on the important issues and the debates All of the social science disciplines will find that this book offers a one stop synthesis of contemporary thought on migration

The SAGE Handbook of Nations and Nationalism Gerard Delanty, Krishan Kumar, 2006-06-14 With its list of distinguished contributors and its wide range of topics the handbook is surely destined to become an invaluable resource for all serious students of nationalism Michael Billig Professor of Social Sciences at Loughborough University and author of Banal Nationalism SAGE 1995 The persistence some would say revival of nationalism across the recent history of modernity in particular the past two decades has taken many scholars in the social sciences by surprise In response interest in the analysis of nationalism has increased and given rise to a great variety of new angles under which to study the phenomenon What was missing in the cacophony of voices addressing nationalism was a volume that brought them together and confronted them with each other This handbook does just that It deserves particular praise for the wide range of approaches and topic included and for the systematic attempt at studying nationalism as a phenomenon of our time not a remnant from the past Peter Wagner Professor of Social and Political Theory

European University Institute and Professor of Sociology University of Warwick For students concerned with the contemporary study of nationalism this will be an invaluable publication The three fold division into approaches themes and cases is a very solid and sensible one The editors have commissioned essays from leading scholars in the field and this handbook provides the best single volume overview of contemporary nationalism John Breuilly Professor of Nationalism and Ethnicity London School of Economics Nationalism has long excited debate in political social and cultural theory and remains a key field of enquiry among historians anthropologists sociologists as well as political scientists It is also one of the critical media issues of our time There are however surprisingly few volumes that bring together the best of this intellectual diversity into one collection This Handbook gives readers a critical survey of the latest theories and debates and provides a glimpse of the issues that will shape their future Its three sections guide the reader through the theoretical approaches to this field of study its major themes from modernity to memory migration and genocide and the diversity of nationalisms found around the globe The overall aim of this Handbook is to relate theories and debates within and across a range of disciplines illuminate themes and issues of central importance in both historical and contemporary contexts and show how nationalism has impacted upon and interacted with other political and social forms and forces This book provides a much needed resource for scholars in international relations political science social theory and sociology

The Transformation of Citizenship, Volume 2 Jürgen Mackert, Bryan S. Turner, 2017-03-16 This volume Boundaries of Inclusion and Exclusion examines the many different and newly emerging ways in which citizenship refers to spatial symbolic and social boundaries Today in the context of citizenship we face processes of inclusion and exclusion on national and supranational level but no less on the level of groups and individuals The book addresses these different levels and discusses processes of inclusion and exclusion with regard to spatial social and symbolic boundaries referring to such different problems as political participation migration or identity with regard to religion or the EU This book will appeal to academics working in the field of political theory political sociology and European studies

Migrant Integration Between Homeland and Host Society Volume 1 Agnieszka Weiner, Anne Unterreiner, Philippe Fargues, 2017-05-23 This book provides a theoretical framing to analyse and examine the interaction between origin and destination in the migrant integration process Coverage offers a set of concrete conceptual tools which can be operationalised when measuring integration This title is the first of two complementary volumes each of which is designed to stand alone and provide a different approach to the topic Here the chapters offer a detailed look at integration across eight key areas labour education language and culture civic and political participation housing social ties religion and access to citizenship Readers are presented with an examination into the globally available knowledge on interactions between emigration diaspora policies on one hand and integration policies on the other Migrants actively belong to two places the land they left behind and the home they are seeking to build This book gives an insightful argument for the need to include information about countries and communities of origin when examining integration which is often overlooked

It will appeal to academics policymakers integration practitioners civil society organisations as well as students Overall the chapters establish a cohesive analytical framework to this important topic A complementary volume Migrant Integration between Homeland and Host Society Volume 2 How countries of origin impact migrant integration outcomes an analysis edited by A Di Bartolomeo S Kalantaryan J Salamonska and P Fargues builds upon this foundation and presents an empirical approach to migrant integration Paradigms of Social Change Waltraud Schelkle, 2000 Rethinking Migration and Return in Southeastern Europe Eda Gemi, Anna Triandafyllidou, 2021-05-27 This book provides an important new analytical framework for making sense of return remigration and circular mobility conceptualising them as different phases of a wider migration process Using an in depth case study of Albania and its two main destination countries Italy and Greece the book demonstrates that instead of being viewed as a linear path between origin and destination migration should be seen as a segmented or cyclical pattern that may involve several localities and more than two countries Characterised by important previous historical social economic and political linkages geographical proximity but also high migration volatility and sustained flows in either directions Albanian migration to Italy and Greece offers an optimal case study for analysing complex return reintegration and mobility processes While interesting as a unique regional migration system the lessons learned cast light on important migration and mobility dynamics that are relevant for labour migration in Europe also from other important migrant origin countries in the EU's neighbourhood such as for instance Morocco or the Ukraine This rich theoretical and empirical study will be of interest to researchers within European Studies and Migration Studies as well as providing a useful contribution to policy debates on how to govern return migration reintegration and circular migration The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429344343> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Ideational Legacies and the Politics of Migration in European Minority Regions Christina Isabel Zuber, 2022-05-02 In this book Christina Zuber outlines a theory of ideational policy stabilization to explain stable policy choices despite changing incentives Historical legacies are frequently invoked in popular and academic accounts of the politics of migration but the mechanisms of transmission are left underspecified This work contributes to research on migration and to theories of public policy by arguing that the missing link between past events and present choices is ideational initially a historical constellation of interests leads actors to defend policy ideas that match the historical environment but over time ideas can detach themselves from interests and stabilize into societal dispositions shared values and identities This occurs if elites build a discursive consensus around a policy idea and if bureaucrats develop concomitant policy practices The book's empirical section analyses ideational stabilization in Catalonia Spain which takes an inclusive approach to immigration and in South Tyrol Italy where immigration is framed as a threat The comparison shows that these differences can be explained by the political economy of historical industrialization and internal migration Catalans were in the driving seat of industrialization receiving unskilled migrant workers from the rest of Spain to boost their own economy South Tyroleans on the other hand were in the passenger seat perceiving incoming Italians as colonizers Over time socioeconomic conditions changed and internal migration was replaced with international migration Yet with historical ideas having stabilized into dispositions political and administrative elites continued to understand immigration through the now obsolete perspective of economic opportunity in Catalonia and ethnic competition in South Tyrol Transformations in Governance is a major academic book series from Oxford University Press It is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism and environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states to supranational institutions subnational governments and public private networks It brings together work that advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance The series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars The series is edited by Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Walter Mattli of the University of Oxford

Marxism and National Identity Robert Stuart, 2006-06-01 Provides the first sustained analysis of the collision between Marxism and nationalism in France at the time of the Dreyfus affair

Diaspora and Citizenship Claire Sutherland, Elena Barabantseva, 2013-09-13 This collection of papers discusses the impact of diasporas on the articulations and practices of legal political cultural and social citizenship in their country of origin While the majority of current citizenship debates focus on the challenges and directions in which diasporic and migrant communities impact on the citizenship regime in their country of settlement the papers in this volume approach the study of citizenship from the perspective of the link between the sending state and its diasporic communities abroad The papers discuss the role of language religion kinship and other ethnic markers in diaspora politics and trace their implications for the articulations and practices of citizenship Through discussing cases across political and geographical spectrums and from different historical epochs the book broadens and enriches the debate on citizenship by demonstrating important ways in which diasporas impact on the delineation of citizenship regimes and the politics of national identity in their homeland This links to the continued use of language as an ethnic marker but also one which may be learned allowing a certain degree of choice and shifting affiliations amongst putative members of a diaspora This book was published as a special issue of Nationalism and Ethnic Politics

Yearbook of Transnational History Thomas Adam, 2018-05-31 The Yearbook of Transnational History is dedicated to disseminating pioneering research in the field of transnational history This inaugural volume provides readers with articles on topics such as soccer travel music and social policy These articles highlight the movement of ideas people policies and practices across various cultures and societies and explore the relations and connections and spaces created by these movements These articles make clear that historical phenomena from travel to music cannot be contained and explained within just one national setting The volume offers further a number of theoretical and methodological articles that provide insights into the concept of transnational history and the approach of intercultural transfer studies Last but not least the volume also includes a number of review articles These review articles provide an examination of books central to teaching transnational history as well as a historiographical exploration of the impact of transnational history on the field of sports history     Integrating Immigrants in Europe Peter Scholten, Han Entzinger, Rinus Penninx, Stijn

Verbeek, 2015-06-02 This open access book explores how research and policymaking in the field of migrant integration have developed historically and how this interrelationship plays out in the strongly politicised climate of opinions on migration in Europe It features interdisciplinary theoretical contributions as well as original empirical studies on research policy dialogues at both the EU and country level The chapters study not only how the dialogue between research and policy is structured such as advisory bodies research agencies and ad hoc committees but also how these dialogues affect policymaking and the development of migrant integration research itself as well The analysis reveals profound changes in the dialogue structures associated with the research policy nexus in the domain of migrant integration On the one hand dialogue structures have become more ad hoc often established in response to distinct political events or to specific problems On the other politicisation has not thwarted all efforts to develop more institutionalised dialogue structures between producers and users of knowledge In addition research has contributed to policymaking in very different ways in various European countries This edited volume is unique in this effort to reflect on the impact of research policy dialogues both on the development of migrant integration policies as well as on migrant integration research It will be of importance to scholars in this field as well as to policymakers and other stakeholders involved in migrant integration policymaking     Beyond Turkey's Borders Banu Senay, 2012-12-05 In an increasingly connected world the engagement of diasporic communities in transnationalism has become a potent force Instead of pointing to a post national era of globalised politics as one might expect Banu Senay argues that expanding global channels of communication have provided states with more scope to mobilise their nationals across borders Her case is built around the way in which the long reach of the proactive Turkish state maintains relations with its Australian diaspora to promote the official Kemalist ideology Activists invest themselves in the state to see both for and like the state and as such Turkish immigrants have been politicised and polarised along lines that reflect internal divisions and developments in Turkish politics This book explores the way in which the Turkish state injects its presence into everyday life through the work of its consular institutions its management of Turkish Islam and its sponsoring of national celebrations The result is a state engineered transnationalism that mobilises Turkish migrants and seeks to tie them to official discourse and policy Despite this individual Kemalist activists dissatisfied with the state s transnational work have appointed themselves as the true cultural attaches of the Turkish Republic It is the actions and discourses of these activists that give efficacy to trans Kemalism in the unique migratory context of Australian multiculturalism Vital to this engagement is its Australian backdrop where ethnic diversity policies facilitate the nationalising initiatives of the Turkish state as well as the bottom up activism of Ataturkists On the other hand it also complicates and challenges trans Kemalism by giving a platform to groups such as Kurds or Armenians whose identity politics clash with that of Turkish officialdom An original and insightful contribution on the scope of transnationalism and cross border mobilisation this book is a valuable resource for researchers of politics nationalism and international migration     Diasporas and Ethnic Migrants Rainer Munz, Rainer Ohliger, 2004-08-02 This work adopts a comparative approach to explore interrelations between two phenomena which so far have rarely been examined and analysed together namely the dynamics of diaspora and minority formation in Central and Eastern Europe on the one hand and the diaspora migration on the other
