Architecture in Nineteenth-Century Photographs Micheline Nilsen, 2017-07-05 Revealing that nineteenth century photography goes beyond the functional to reflect the aesthetic intellectual and cultural concerns of the time this study proposes that each photographic image of architecture be studied both as a primary visual document and an object of aesthetic inquiry This multi faceted approach drives Architecture in Nineteenth Century Photographs Essays on Reading a Collection Despite three decades of post colonial post structuralist and gender conscious criticism the study of architectural photography continues to privilege technical virtuosity This volume offers a thematic exploration of the material and a socio historical examination that allows consideration of questions that have not been addressed comprehensively before in a single publication Themes include exoticism and armchair tourism the absence of women from architectural photography the role of photographs as commodities vernacular architecture and the picturesque and historic preservation urban renewal and nationalism Micheline Nilsen analyzes photographs from France and England the two countries where photography was invented and from around the world representing a corpus of over 10 000 photographs from the Janos Scholz Collection of Nineteenth Century Photographs of the Snite Museum of Art at the University of Notre Dame Failure of Polymer Products Due to Photo-oxidation , See ,1996 Gary Hill Gary Hill, 2000 Time this is what is central to video it is not seeing as its etymological roots imply Video s intrinsic principle is feedback Gary Hill From Inter view For more than twenty years Gary Hill has been at the cutting edge of video often setting the terms for its development and pointing it in new exciting directions Since the mid eighties Hill has established himself as one of the major voices in the medium His work has been the focus of major exhibitions and retrospectives at museums in Europe and the United States including the Guggenheim Museum in Soho the Whitney Biennial and the Lyon Museum in France He has received numerous awards including the coveted MacArthur Award 1998 Hill s work focuses on the poetic and philosophical implications of temporal perception Tall Ships for example is a large scale video installation that presents haunting images of isolated human figures in a darkened corridor seen from a distance then close up Hill s representation of time in videos is partly informed by his adolescent experiences as a surfer in Southern California his Learning Curve series invites the viewer to sit at the end of a long table and watch a black and white projection of a wave folding and unfolding upon itself Other themes in Hill s work include meditations on the self referentiality of the medium and explorations of the connections and conflicts between language and image This new volume in PAJ s Art Performance series is the first critical edition devoted to Hill s work Edited by Robert C Morgan it anthologizes a number of critical essays tracing Hill s reception from the mid seventies to today a series of informative interviews aswell as a selection of Hill s writings revealing him as an original and articulate thinker The book also offers a detailed chronology of Hill s career a bibliography and videography and twenty five photos from his installations Morgan s introduction traces Hill s emergence as an artist out of the sixties counter culture and explores how his work creates dialogues with philosophers as diverse as Heidegger Blanchot Derrida and Marshall McLuhan Blind Spot Photography ,1996 Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series ,1959 The record of each copyright registration listed in the Catalog includes a description of the work copyrighted and data relating to the copyright claim the name of the copyright claimant as given in the application for registration the copyright date the copyright registration number etc

Abel, Thomas Harrison Cummings, Wilfred A. French, A. H. Beardsley, 1905 A Staggering Revolution John Raeburn, 2010-10-01 During the 1930s the world of photography was unsettled, exciting, and boisterous. John Raeburn's A Staggering Revolution recreates the energy of the era by surveying photography's rich variety of innovation, exploring the aesthetic and cultural achievements of its leading figures, and mapping the paths their pictures blazed in public imagination. While other studies of thirties photography have concentrated on the documentary work of the Farm Security Administration (FSA), no previous book has considered it alongside so many of the decade's other important photographic projects. A Staggering Revolution includes individual chapters on Edward Steichen's celebrity portraiture, Berenice Abbott's Changing New York project, the Photo League's ethnography of Harlem, and Edward Weston's western landscapes made under the auspices of the first Guggenheim Fellowship awarded to a photographer. It also examines Margaret Bourke White's industrial and documentary pictures, the collective undertakings by California's Group f/64, and the fashion magazine specialists, as well as the activities of the FSA and the Photo League. "Painting Labour in Scotland and Europe, 1850-1900" John Morrison, 2017-07-05 Painting Labour in Scotland and Europe 1850-1900 explores hitherto unrecognized European variations in the phenomena of rural labour imagery, particularly in Scotland. In exploring these distinctions relative to Scotland and Europe, it looks to develop a new understanding of the commonalities and idiosyncrasies of rural labour imagery, which have often been treated as homogenous. Lacking the detailed analysis that has been accorded other images, writing about Scottish painting has often been appended to analyses of English or French imagery. It has generally been understood as intellectually divorced from the sometimes brutal realities of evolving Scottish nineteenth-century urbanism, or simply ignored. Painting Labour in Scotland and Europe 1850-1900 sets out systematically to discuss the Scottish rural painting in relation to its particular Scottish historical context, both sociological and aesthetic, and its English and European counterparts. Alongside canonical Scottish images by major figures such as James Guthrie, the book explores many hitherto under-researched and unconsidered paintings by nineteenth-century Scottish artists and considers them in relation to major English and Continental Realist and Romantic painters. The juxtaposition of J.F. Millet with W.D. McKay and Edwin Landseer with George Reid makes for a volume that will appeal both to an academic audience and to one interested in European art history more generally.
