Zeyringer, Helmut Gollner, 2012-08-23 Jedes Werk in deutscher Sprache als deutsche Literatur zu bezeichnen ist kultur und literarhistorisch keineswegs haltbar Die Geschichte eines Landes sowie dessen politische und kulturelle Eigenart schlagen sich in entscheidendem Maße auch in seiner Literatur nieder Nicht anders verhält es sich mit der österreichischen Literatur Oder um es mit den Worten Ingeborg Bachmanns zu formulieren Dichter wie Grillparzer und Hofmannsthal Rilke und Robert Musil hätten nie Deutsche sein können Beginnend mit den ersten deutlichen Überlegungen eines österreichischen Begriffes als staatspolitisches Konzept im 17. Jahrhundert bis herauf in die Gegenwart liegt mit diesem Werk erstmals in dieser literatursoziologisch fundierten Art eine umfassende Geschichte der österreichischen Literatur vor Für den interessierten Laien ebenso wie für Fachleute aus der Wissenschaft gut lesbar aufbereitet erfassen Klaus Zeyringer und Helmut Gollner Formen Strukturen Funktionen und Evolutionen des literarischen Lebens in Wechselbeziehung zu gesellschaftlichen Realitäten im Österreich der letzten 350 Jahre und geben erhellende Einblicke in die anerkannt wichtigen wie auch in weniger bekannte Werke so spannend und aufschlussreich kann Literaturgeschichte sein Man kann in diesem Buch nachschlagen man bereut aber auch nicht es vom Anfang bis zum Ende gelesen zu haben Mit analytischer Schärfe und Freude am Erzählen zeichnen Klaus Zeyringer und Helmut Gollner zwei der besten Kenner der Materie die lange und komplexe Geschichte der Literatur des österreichischen Kulturraums nach So vieles das es wert wäre gekannt und gelesen zu werden wurde vom norddeutsch preussisch geprägten Kanon ignoriert und in die Vergessenheit gedrängt hier findet man es Eine erstaunliche Leistung und ein zukunftsreiches Standardwerk Daniel Kehlmann Autoportrait et altérité Sandrine Lascaux, Yves

Cultural Impact in the German Context Rebecca Braun, Lyn Marven, 2010 Examines then employs the metaphor of cultural impact in an effort to understand how culture works in the German speaking world How to gauge the impact of cultural products is an old question but bureaucratic agendas such as the one recently implemented in the UK to measure the impact of university research including in German Studies are new Impact is seen as confirming a cultural product's value for society not least in the eyes of cultural funders Yet its use as an evaluative category has been widely criticized by academics Rather than rejecting the concept of impact however this volume employs it as a metaphor to reflect on issues of transmission reception and influence that have always underlain cultural production but have escaped systematic conceptualization It seeks to understand how culture works in the German speaking world how writers and artists express themselves how readers and audiences engage with the resulting products and how academics are drawn to analyze this dynamic process Formulating such questions afresh in the context of German Studies the volume examines both contemporary cultural discourse and the way it evolves more generally It links such topics as authorial intention readerly reception intertextuality and modes of perception to less commonly studied phenomena such as the institutional practices of funding bodies that underpin cultural discourse Contributors David Barnett Laura Bradley Rebecca Braun Sarah Colvin Anne Fuchs Katrin Kohl Karen Leeder Jürgen Luh Jenny McKay Ben Morgan Gunther Nickel Chloe Paver Joanne Sayner Matthew Philpotts Jane Wilkinson Rebecca Braun is Executive Dean of the College of Arts Social Sciences Celtic Studies at the National University of Ireland in Galway and Lyn Marven is Lecturer in German at the University of Liverpool

Local - Global Narratives Renate Rechtien, Karoline Von Oppen, 2007 Over the past decade and a half Germany has experienced a period of political and cultural turbulence which many have attributed to the combined challenges of unification and globalisation In response to growing exposure to global markets politics and migration debates about identity have increasingly been renationalised At the same time there has been a notable reappraisal in Germany and in German Studies of the regional and global as spaces for the construction of identity This volume sets out to explore these complex and at times contradictory trends focusing in particular on developments in Germany since the 1970s although chapters treating earlier periods are also included The volume brings together British Irish German Canadian and American scholars working in the field and resulted from a conference organised by Women in German Studies at the University of Bath The first section is primarily concerned with the specifically German concept of locality known as Heimat and its changing relationship with the global Included are explorations of the writings of Kafka Bachmann Johnson Sell Wolf Brinkmann and Jelinek amongst others as well as films by Schlöndorff and Steyerl The second section focuses on the impact of the global on institutions and rituals such as commemoration memorialisation and architecture which have traditionally been influential in shaping national self images Overall this volume concludes that the nature of the relationship to the local has fundamentally changed under the impact of globalisation
