Zeigler,2012-09-05 What I Have Learned or Nonagenarian Natterings Trafford 2012 might be considered a sequel to my Through the Eyes of a Concerned Liberal published in 2004 This sequel explains what I believe about various aspects of life and living i e why I believe what I do and what I sought to do about it all It could prove interesting to anyone facing the same or similar life problems in this crazy world that is becoming more scary as I write these words What I say here should be easily intelligible if not agreeable to any reasonably intelligent concerned member of North American society My historical interpretation laced with philosophical under girding led me to a belief that human civilization must be accepted as an adventure How could it be regarded otherwise As a young adult I entered the realm of life assessment by seeking a purpose for my life I accepted the philosophical stance known as pragmatism at this point while seeking to solidify my acceptance of political and social liberalism as guidance throughout my life I soon discovered the ever present need to make defensible ethical decisions based on a wise choice of values This matter was confounded by what I gradually saw as the ever increasing need to counteract Americas value orientation as the world moves along in the 21st century To do this I had to be sure that I was on the right track I did this by finding myself once again through self evaluation of my philosophic and socio political stances Hence I encourage all North Americans to re examine their values while embracing a modified form of postmodernism Finally I can only hope that America will come to its senses America must somehow live up to the values it so glibly espouses      Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents ,1999      Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States, William J. The Triumph of the Flexible Society Manuel Hinds, 2003-11-30 Hinds takes offers a fresh perspective on the social political and economic disturbances now affecting our world This book looks at those disturbances not as separate problems but rather as the coherent symptoms of a deep technological revolution that is changing the shape of society on the scale of the Industrial Revolution the Connectivity Revolution the basis of the New Economy Analyzing the resistance to change that erupted violently in response to that last major economic upheaval Hinds shows how Communism Nazism and fundamentalism owe their triumphs not to the prevalence of poverty or oppression but to the rigidity of societies threatened by profound social changes prompted by rapid technological progress Demonstrating that their rigidity was caused by the same kind of state intervention in the economy that is now being proposed to stop globalization he argues persuasively that only a horizontal flexible society can smoothly manage change in such a way that the pain of transformation and therefore the risk of giving birth to new varieties of destructive regimes is minimized
