effectiveness of each teacher Testing is reasonable and necessary as one way to determine what a student has learned and a teacher has taught It is one way It does not take the place of all the complex and useful things a teacher has learned about a student during the year Often because a student is learning English or is enduring serious emotional distress or has some type of learning handicap the teacher is in the best position to know whether a test assesses accurately his skill levels knowledge or progress When a single test is the only determiner of whether a child passes or fails injustices occur The same is true when the test results of the class are the only determiners of the teachers ability or success The threat of being fired for the poor performance of a class will discourage even good teachers from taking classes or individual children who have academic or behavior problems I have already read about and seen instances of teachers trying to insure they have more than their share of good and capable students This stacking of a class will most affect new teachers and their students who have always suffered trial by fire It makes good sense for the experienced teachers not to jeopardize their career but is it ethical or good educational practice The positive aspect of mass testing and accountability is that more students are being exposed to a much wider variety of useful academic skills In many poverty areas the students because of alleged or believed weak academic abilities were limited in what was taught to them Asking teachers to carefully examine what they teach and expecting them to know why as well as what they are teaching is a positive step for the profession However school should offer more than an enhanced basic education because those skills are what are most easily testable Schools are where students can learn the social skills that enable them to move successfully through society in their personal and work lives This was a job parents and extended
