Jack D. Ives, Roger G. Barry

Flore Et Vegetation:

Guide to Standard Floras of the World David G. Frodin, 2001-06-14 This 2001 book provides a selective annotated bibliography of the principal floras and related works of inventory for vascular plants The second edition was completely updated and expanded to take into account the substantial literature of the late twentieth century and features a more fully developed review of the history of floristic documentation The works covered are principally specialist publications such as floras checklists distribution atlases systematic iconographies and enumerations or catalogues although a relatively few more popularly oriented books are also included The Guide is organised in ten geographical divisions with these successively divided into regions and units each of which is prefaced with a historical review of floristic studies In addition to the bibliography the book includes general chapters on botanical bibliography the history of floras and general principles and current trends plus an appendix on bibliographic searching a lexicon of serial abbreviations and author and geographical indexes

Vegetation Ecology of Central Europe Heinz Ellenberg, 1988-07-29 No other book discusses so many principles relevant not only to plant ecologists in continental Europe but in the British Isles and North America

Marine Benthic Vegetation Winfried Schramm, Pieter N. Nienhuis, 2012-12-06 Increasing amounts of various types of wastes and pollutants including nutrients enter the coastal waters via rivers direct discharges from land drainage systems diffuse land runoff dumping and via the atmosphere This has led to coastal eutrophication and in extreme cases to hypertrophication Until recently coastal eutrophication and the resulting effects on marine macrophytes were mainly treated as local short term problems However the local nearshore problems developed into overall coastal and inshore phenomena and recently we have been facing coastal eutrophication problems on a global scale This book is the first comprehensive document systematically covering the entire coastline of Europe on the effects of eutrophication on the marine benthic vegetation

Bibliografía de pastos y forrajes tropicales, Mediterranean-Type Ecosystems George W. Davis, David M. Richardson, 2012-12-06 Human activities are causing species extinctions at a rate and magnitude rivaling those of past geologic extinction events Exploring mediterranean type ecosystems the Mediterranean Basin California Chile Australia and South Africa this volume addresses the question whether biological diversity plays a significant role in the functioning of natural ecosystems and to what extent that diversity can be reduced without causing system malfunction Comparative studies in ecosystems that are similar in certain respects but differ in others offer considerable scope for gaining new insights into the links between biodiversity and ecosystem functioning Arctic and Alpine Environments Jack D. Ives, Roger G. Barry, 2019-10-08 Originally published in 1974 Arctic and Alpine Environments examines the relatively simple ecosystems of arctic and alpine lands that still occupy extensive areas little disturbed by modern technology The book argues that there is a necessity for carefully controlled development of the resources of these regions and suggests that there is a risk of irreversible disturbance without full understanding of these regions This book provides a detailed documentation of cold stressed arctic and alpine terrestrial environments and systematically deals with the present and past physical environment climate hydrology and glaciology biota treeline vegetation vertebrate zoology and historical biogeography abiotic processes geomorphological and pedological and the role of man bioclimatology archaeology and technological impact including radioecology The book will appeal to academics and students of environmental and biological science as well as providing a significant source for conservationists government agencies and industrial organizations Biological Invasions in Europe and the Mediterranean Basin F. di Castri, A.J. Hansen, M. Debussche, 2012-12-06 In view of the massive change in the area of distribution of many world biota across classical biogeographical realms and of the drastic restructuring of the biotic components of numerous ecosystems the Scientific Committee on Problems of the Environment SCOPE decided at its general Assembly in Ottawa Canada in 1982 to launch a project on the Ecology of Biological Invasions Several regional meetings were subsequently organized within the framework of SCOPE in order to single out the peculiarities of the invasions that took place in each region the behaviour of their invasive species and the invasibility of their ecosystems Most noteworthy among such workshops were one in Australia in August 1984 one concerning North America and Hawaii in October 1984 and one dealing with southern Africa in November 1985 A leitmotiv of these workshops was that most of the invasive species to those regions were emanating from Europe and the Mediterranean Basin inadvertently or intentionally introduced by man It was therefore considered as a timely endeavour to organize the next regional meeting in relation to this region The workshop on Biological Invasions in Europe and the Mediterranean Basin was held in Montpellier France 21 to 23 May 1986 thanks to the financial support of SCOPE and of the A W Mellon Foundation and the logistic facilities of the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique C N R S Ecology of Halophytes Robert J. Mold, 2012-12-02

Ecology of Halophytes documents the proceedings of a symposium on the ecology of halophytes sponsored by the Physiological Ecology section of the Ecological Society of America and held as a portion of the American Institute of Biological Sciences meetings in August 1972 The book considers the fundamentals of distribution anatomy and physiology of halophytes It provides an overview of the role of the halophyte in ecosystems in various parts of the world A section on habitat associations of halophytes considers the relation of the plants to other fauna and flora in natural systems A final section deals with recent applied research related to halophytes and quantification of the impact of man on the ecology of halophytes This text will be useful for various disciplines working in saline wetlands ecosystems It is intended to serve land use planners federal and state natural resources and transportation interests and real estate developers in providing a comprehensive summary of the state of the art in understanding halophytic ecosystems With a better fundamental knowledge of the system the above mentioned professionals should be better able to plan activities and uses compatible with the natural halophytic ecosystem and avoid some of the past errors man has made The Baobabs: Pachycauls of Africa, Madagascar and Australia G.E. Wickens,2008-03-02 This is the only comprehensive account of all eight species in the genus Adansonia It describes the historical background from the late Roman period to the present It covers the extraordinary variety of economic uses of baobabs There are also appendices on vernacular names gazetteer economics nutrition and forest mensuration This book fills a gap in the botanical literature It deals with a genus that has fascinated and intrigued scientists and lay persons for centuries Contesting Forestry in West Africa Reginald Cline-Cole,Clare Madge,2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2000 This study looks at the contestation of forestry in West Africa taking into account historical considerations cultural negotiations and environmental issues Distribution and ecology of vascular plants in a tropical rain forest J.B. Hall,M.D. Swaine,2013-04-18 It is a privilege to be asked and a pleasurable duty for me to write the foreword of this book The conservation and wise utilisation of the humid tropical forests a unique biome are matters of great concern and importance to millions living within and around these forests and perhaps less directly to the totality of mankind These forests provide many essential products and services for mankind The list is lengthy and need not be repeated here Suffice it to say that there are not many aspects of human activity which do not utilise some of these products services or derivatives therefrom Yet it is the view of those most closely associated with the study of these forests that what is known is but a minuscule portion of whatthere is to know The products and services now utilised are perhaps some infinitesimal part of the full potential All over the tropical world however these forests are being destroyed At first slowly but now surely gathering tempo This is true also of Ghana Tracts offorest land are converted to other uses often ephemeral and not sustained Irreversible changes take place in our environment The gains are shortlived the losses unobtrusively accumulate and stay forever The accelerating rate of deforestation in the face of our relatively scanty knowledge of this biome is indeed a sad reflection of the state of human affairs It is in this setting that one welcomes this book by Messrs J B Hall and M D Swaine Geographical Guide to Floras of the World Sidney Fay Blake,1961 Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report ,1994 Miscellaneous Publication ,1961 Fieldiana ,1996 Oecology of Plants Eugenius Warming,Martin Vahl,1909 Ecology of coastal vegetation W.G. Beeftink,A.H.L. Huiskes,Jelte Rozema,2012-12-06 This book is the result of a symposium dedicated to the 25th anniversary of the Delta Institute for Hydrobiological Research in Yerseke the Netherlands The primary idea did not come from one of the scientists working in this Institute but from the second editor Long before the Institute celebrated itsjubilee on 20 23 October 1982 he expressed his feelings to the other editors that the time had come for a second European symposium on the ecology of coastal vegetation The first symposium on this theme was held in Norwich 12-16 September 1977 being the first meeting of the European Ecological Symposium. He only so the working group Salt waited for a suitable opportunity. Well the 25th anniversary was a good one. Marsh Ecosystems of the Delta Institute in close collaboration with him adopted Dr Rozema's initiative and set about realizing his idea. An organising committee composed of the editors of this volume planned the scope of the meeting.
