Ruffini, 2018-10-11 Most ancient history focuses on the urban elite Papyrology explores the daily lives of the more typical men and women in antiquity Aphrodito a village in sixth century AD Egypt is antiquity's best source for micro level social history The archive of Dioskoros of Aphrodito introduces thousands of people living the normal business of their lives loans rent contracts work agreements marriage divorce In exceptional cases the papyri show raw conflict theft plunder murder Throughout Dioskoros struggles to keep his family in power in Aphrodito and to keep Aphrodito independent from the local tax collectors The emerging picture is a different vision of Roman late antiquity than what we see from the view of the urban elites It is a world of free peasants building networks of trust largely beyond the reach of the state Aphrodito's eighth century AD papyri show that this world dies in the early years of Islamic rule

Later Roman Egypt: Society, Religion, Economy and Administration Roger S.

Bagnall, 2024-12-11 Egypt with its ever growing wealth of evidence from the papyri has in recent decades been one of the liveliest areas of scholarship on the later Roman Empire This volume collects two dozen articles on the social economic and administrative history of Egypt by Roger Bagnall whose book Egypt in Late Antiquity has helped to bring this region and this evidence into the mainstream of historical debate In these studies some of the main themes of his work are visible in particular attempts to explore the possibilities for quantifying not only questions like the burden of taxation or the distribution of land ownership but more tantalizing and controversial matters like the rate at which the population of Egypt was Christianized

The Viewer as Poet: The Renaissance Response to Art, 1994 In The Viewer as Poet Norman Land provides the first comprehensive survey of ekphrasis in literature and art criticism from antiquity through the Renaissance Land demonstrates more fully than anyone has so far that Renaissance art criticism assimilated the poetic tradition of ekphrasis while maintaining its function of analyzing works of art Broadly speaking the book shows that purely literary descriptions of art in poetry and prose contain a response like that found in art critical ekphrasis This is true in both antiquity and the Renaissance The response to art in the elder Philostratus's Imagines for example is like that found in the descriptions of Apuleius and Lucian Later Dante Boccaccio and Poliziano among others respond to imaginary works of art in their poetry in much the same way that Lorenzo Ghiberti Aretino and Vasari respond to real works in their writings Land offers for the first time a synthetic description of the Renaissance response to or experience of art as embodied in literature including art criticism This book will form the basis for a deeper understanding of Renaissance art than we have now for it provides not only a tool for viewing works of art as they were originally seen and experienced that is from a historical perspective but also an outline of the tradition out of which modern writings about art grew of the 2009 Single Volume Reference Humanities Social Sciences PROSE award granted by the Association of American Publishers

The Family in Late Antiquity Geoffrey Nathan, 2002-01-08 The Family in Late Antiquity offers a challenging well argued and coherent study of the family in the late Roman world and the influence of the emerging Christian religion on its structure and value Before the Roman Empire's political disintegration in the west enormous political religious and cultural changes took place in the period of late antiquity This book is the first comprehensive study of the family in the later Roman Empire from approximately 300 AD to 550 AD Geoffrey Nathan analyses the classical Roman family as well as early Christian notions of this most basic unit of social organisation Using these models as a contextual backdrop he then explores marriage children domestic servitude and other familial institutions in late antiquity He brings together a diverse collection of sources transcending traditional studies that have centred on the legal record

Lucian and the Latins David Marsh, 1998 Explores Lucian's influence on Renaissance writers

Jewish Marriage in Antiquity Michael L. Satlow, 2018-06-05 Marriage today might be a highly contested topic but certainly no more than it was in antiquity Ancient Jews like their non Jewish neighbors grappled with what have become perennial issues of marriage from its idealistic definitions to its many practical forms to questions of who should or should not wed In this book Michael Satlow offers the first in depth synthetic study of Jewish marriage in antiquity from ca 500 B C E to 614 C E Placing Jewish marriage in its cultural milieu Satlow investigates whether there was anything essentially Jewish about the institution as it was discussed and practiced Moreover he considers the social and economic aspects of marriage as both a personal relationship and a religious bond and explores how the Jews of antiquity negotiated the gap between marital realities and their ideals Focusing on the various experiences of Jews throughout the Mediterranean basin and in Babylonia Satlow argues that different communities even rabbinic ones constructed their own Jewish marriage they read their received traditions and rituals through the lens of a basic understanding of marriage that they shared with their non Jewish neighbors He also maintains that Jews idealized marriage in a way that responded to the ideals of their respective societies mediating between such values as honor and the far messier realities of marital life Employing Jewish and non Jewish literary texts papyri inscriptions and material artifacts Satlow paints a vibrant portrait of ancient Judaism while sharpening and clarifying present discussions on modern marriage for Jews and non Jews alike

Women and the Law in the Roman Empire Judith Evans Grubbs, 2002-09-11 It is widely recognized that Roman law is an important source of information about women in the Roman world and can present a more rounded and accurate picture than literary sources This sourcebook fully exploits the rich legal material of the imperial period from Augustus 31 BCE 14 CE to the end of the western Roman Empire 476 CE incorporating both pagan and Christian eras and explaining the rights women held under Roman law the restrictions to which they were subject and legal regulations on marriage divorce and widowhood

Settling a Dispute Traianos Gagos, 1994 Family squabbles and fights over real estate were no less complex in sixth century Egypt than they are in the modern world In this unusual volume Peter van

Minnen and Traianos Gagos investigate just such a struggle as described in a two part papyrus some five feet long Composed by the ancient equivalent of a notary public the papyrus describes the outcome after mediation of a family dispute about valuable real estate Traianos Gagos and Peter van Minnen offer an English translation and a clear Greek text of the two papyrus fragments as well as an important discussion of the nature of such mediation its role in contemporary society a consideration of the town of Aphrodito and its social and political elite as well as many other topics that spring from this kind of document The use of methodologies from modern jurisprudence and anthropology together with an accessible style of writing mean that Settling a Dispute will be of interest to persons in many fields including history Classics and Near Eastern studies All Greek is translated and an extensive commentary offers much helpful information on the text Traianos Gagos is Associate Archivist of the University of Michigan's papyri collection Peter van Minnen is Senior Research Associate in the papyri collection at Duke University
