Escape Of The Bird Women:

Escape of the Bird Women Linda M. Andrews, 1992 Tragic Ways of Killing a Woman Nicole Loraux, 1991 In ordinary life an Athenian woman was allowed no accomplishments beyond leading a quiet exemplary existence as wife and mother In Greek tragedy however women die violently and through violence master their fate Through her reading of these texts Loraux elicits an array of insights into Greek attitudes toward death sexuality and gender The House of My Sojourn Jane S. Sutton, 2010-11-30 Envisions the relationship between women and rhetoric as a house a structure erected in ancient Greece by men that historically has made room for women but has also denied them the authority and agency to speak from within Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of imprisonment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods English Women's Poetry, 1649-1714 Carol Barash, 1996 This is the first study to reconstruct the political origins of English women's poetry between the execution of Charles I and the death of Queen Anne Carol Barash's book shows that between Katherine Philips 1632-64 and Anne Finch Countess of Winchelsea 1661-1720 an English women's poetic tradition developed as part of the larger political shifts in these years and particularly in women writers' fascination with the figure of the female monarch Writers discussed include Aphra Behn Katherine Philips Anne Killigrew Jane Barker and Anne Finch Based on extensive archival research in England and the United States English Women's Poetry 1649-1714 argues that ideas about women's voices and women's communities were crucial to the shaping of an English national literature after the civil wars Women enter print culture as poets and as women by situating their writing in defence of embattled monarchy Women poets are especially fascinated with the figure of the female monarch both real and mythic Their sense of poetic legitimacy derives from the communities they generate around figures of female authority particularly James

II s second wife Mary of Modena and later Queen Anne At the Edge of the Forest Anne Ruth Hansen, Judy Ledgerwood, 2018-05-31 Inspired by David Chandler s groundbreaking work on Cambodian attempts to find order in the aftermath of turmoil these essays explore Cambodian history using a rich variety of sources that cast light on Khmer perceptions of violence wildness and order examining the forest and cultured space and the fraught edge where they meet
