Escritoras brasileiras do século XIX, 1999

A Comparative Literary History of Modern Slavery Madeleine

Dobie, Mads Anders Baggesgaard, Karen-Margrethe Simonsen, 2024-12-15 The first volume of A Comparative Literary History of Modern Slavery explores literary representations of enslavement with a focus on the emotions. The contributors consider how the diverse emotions generated by slavery have been represented over a historical period stretching from the 16th century to the present and across regions, languages, media, and genres. The seventeen chapters explore different framings of emotional life in terms of sentiments and affects and consider how emotions intersect with literary registers and movements such as melodrama and realism. They also examine how writers, including some formerly enslaved people, sought to activate the feelings of readers, notably in the context of abolitionism. In addition to obvious psychological responses to slavery such as fear, sorrow, and anger, they explore minor key affects such as shame, disgust, and nostalgia, and address the complexity of depicting love and intimacy in situations of domination. Two forthcoming volumes explore the literary history of slavery in relation to memory and to practices of authorship. Escritoras brasileiras do século XIX Zahidé Lupinacci Muzart, 2009

Comparative Perspectives on the Rise of the Brazilian Novel Ana Cláudia Suriani da Silva, Sandra Guardini

Vasconcelos, 2020-05-14 Comparative Perspectives on the Rise of the Brazilian Novel presents a framework of comparative literature based on a systemic and empirical approach to the study of the novel and applies that framework to the analysis of key nineteenth-century Brazilian novels. The works under examination were published during the period in which the forms and procedures of the novel were acclimatized as the genre established and consolidated itself in Brazil. The Cambridge

History of Latin American Women's Literature Ileana Rodríguez, Mónica Szurmuk, 2015-11-12 The Cambridge History of Latin American Women's Literature is an essential resource for anyone interested in the development of women's writing in Latin America. Ambitious in scope, it explores women's literature from ancient indigenous cultures to the beginning of the twenty-first century. Organized chronologically and written by a host of leading scholars, this History offers an array of approaches that contribute to current dialogues about translation, literary genres, oral and written cultures, and the complex relationship between literature and the political sphere. Covering subjects from cronistas in Colonial Latin America and nation building to feminicide and literature of the indigenous elite, this History traces the development of a literary tradition while remaining grounded in contemporary scholarship. The Cambridge History of Latin American Women's Literature will not only engage readers in ongoing debates but also serve as a definitive reference for years to come. Gender, Discourse, and Desire in Twentieth-century Brazilian Women's Literature Cristina Ferreira Pinto, 2004

This work studies the poetic and narrative strategies 20th-century Brazilian women writers use to achieve new forms of representation of the female body, sexuality, and desire while deconstructing cultural myths of femininity and female behaviour. The Palgrave Handbook of

complexities of the global and local entanglements of race gender and intersectionality within racial capitalism in times of MeToo BlackLivesMatter the Chilean uprising Anti Muslim racism backlash against trans and queer politics and global struggles against modern colonial femicide and extractivism Contributors chart intersectional and decolonial perspectives on race and gender research across North America Europe Latin America the Caribbean and South Africa centering theoretical understandings of how these categories are imbricated and how they operate and mean individually and together This book offers new ways to think about what is absent present and why how erasure works in historical and contemporary theoretical accounts of the complexity of lived experiences of race and gender and how as new issues arise intersectionalities re emerge in the politics of race and gender This handbook will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences and humanities
