Eskimos Greenland And Canada Iconography Of Religions Section 8 Arctic Peoples:

The Missionary, the Catechist and the Hunter Christina Petterson, 2014-05-08 The Missionary the Catechist and the Hunter examines the role of Protestantism in the Danish colonization of Greenland and shows how the process of colonization entails a process of subjectification where the identity of indigenous population is transformed The figure of the hunter commonly regarded as quintessential Inuit figure is traced back to the efforts of the Greenlandic intelligentsia to distance themselves from the hunting lifestyle by producing an abstract hunter identity in Greenlandic literature Eskimos -

among people contacted late by Western missionaries and settlers On the basis of material only available in Danish and presented herein English for the first time the author questions Mircea Eliade's well known definition of the shaman as the master of ecstasy and suggests that his role has to be seen as that of a master of spirits The ambivalent nature of the shaman and the spirit world in the tough Arctic environment is then contrasted with the more benign attitude to shamanism in the New Age movement After presenting descriptions of their organizations and accounts by participants the author critically analyses the role of neo shamanic courses and concludes that it is doubtful to consider what is offered as shamanism
