The official date of completion of the monument was, according to the Ellis Island Foundation Inc., originally planned to commemorate the Declaration of Independence, one of the founding documents of a political entity such as the United States of America. The choice of the place was also specific. The newly arriving immigrants were expected to be inspired by the greatness and of the United States and demonstrate its core values of building patriotism for the country from its mere borderlines.

Along with an overwhelming amount of historical data to vote for the prevalence of political connotations, among historians, there seems to have been no evident and
