Ralph Waldo Emerson (May 25 1803 – April 27 1882) was an American essayist lecturer and poet who led the transcendentalist movement of the mid 19th century. He was seen as a champion of individualism and a prescient critic of the countervailing pressures of society and he disseminated his thoughts through dozens of published essays and more than 1 500 public lectures across the United States. Emerson gradually moved away from the religious and social beliefs of his contemporaries, formulating and expressing the philosophy of transcendentalism in his 1836 essay Nature. Following this work he gave a speech entitled The American Scholar in 1837 which Oliver Wendell Holmes Sr. considered to be America's intellectual Declaration of Independence. Emerson wrote most of his important essays as lectures first and then revised them for print. His first two collections of essays, Essays First Series (1841) and Essays Second Series (1844) represent the core of his thinking. They include the well-known essays Self-Reliance, The Over-soul, Circles, The Poet, and Experience. Together with Nature, these essays made the decade from the mid 1830s to the mid 1840s Emerson's most fertile period.
