The Translingual Imagination Steven G. Kellman, 2000-01-01 It is difficult to write well even in one language Yet a rich body of translingual literature by authors who write in more than one language or in a language other than their primary one exists The Translingual Imagination is a pioneering study of the phenomenon which is as ancient as the use of Arabic Latin Mandarin Persian and Sanskrit as linguae francae Colonialism war mobility and the aesthetics of alienation have combined to create a modern translingual canon Opening with an overview of this vast subject Steven G Kellman then looks at the differences between ambilinguals those who write authoritatively in more than one language and monolingual translinguals those who write in only one language but not their native one Kellman offers compelling analyses of the translingual situations of African and Jewish authors and of achievements by authors as varied as Mary Antin Samuel Beckett Louis Begley J M Coetzee Joseph Conrad Eva Hoffman Vladimir Nabokov and John Sayles While separate studies of individual translingual authors have long been available this is the first in depth study of the general phenomenon of translingual literature     The Oxford Handbook of European Romanticism Paul Hamilton, 2016-01-14 T The Oxford Handbook to European Romanticism brings together leading scholars in the field to examine the intellectual literary philosophical and political elements of European Romanticism The book focuses on the cultural history of the period extending from the French Revolution to the uprisings of 1848 It begins with a series of chapters examining key texts written by major writers in languages including French German Italian Spanish Russian Hungarian Greek and Polish amongst others A second section then explores the naturally inter disciplinary quality of Romanticism exemplified by the different discourses with which writers of the time set up an internal comparative dynamic These chapters highlight the sense a discourse gives of being written knowledgeably against other pretenders to completeness or comprehensiveness of self understanding of the time Discourses typically advance their own claims to resume European culture collaborating with and at the same time trying to assimilate each other in the process The main examples featured here are history geography drama theology language philosophy political theory the sciences and the media Each chapter offers an original and individual interpretation of an inherently comparative world of individual writers and the discursive idioms to which they are historically subject Together the forty one chapters provide a comprehensive and provocative overview of European Romanticism     Europa! Europa? Sascha Bru, Jan Baetens, Benedikt Hjartarson, Peter Nicholls, Tania Ørum, Hubert Berg, 2009-10-29 The first volume of the new series European Avant Garde and Modernism Studies focuses on the relation between the avant garde modernism and Europe It combines interdisciplinary and intermedial research on experimental aesthetics and poetics The essays written by experts from more than fifteen countries seek to bring out the complexity of the European avant garde and modernism by relating it to Europe s intricate history multiculturalism and multilingualism They aim to inquire into the divergent cultural views on Europe taking shape in avant garde and modernist practices and to chart a composite image of the other Europe s that have emerged from the contemporary avant garde and experimental modernism How did the avant garde and modernism in and outside Europe give shape to local national and pan European forms of identity and community To what extent does the transnational exchange and cross fertilisation of aesthetic tendencies illustrate the well rehearsed claim that the avant gardes form a typically European phenomenon Dealing with canonised as well as lesser known exponents of modernism and the avant garde throughout Europe this book will appeal to all those interested in European cultural literary and art history Rhetoric, Poetics, and Literary Historiography Stefan H. Uhlig, 2024-01-23 In Rhetoric Poetics and Literary Historiography Stefan H Uhlig offers a new account of the emergence of literary studies Most histories of the early years of the field search for unifying origins of literature as a discipline and object of study Uhlig turns to the decades around 1800 in Europe to reveal that the inception of the literary field was instead defined by intellectual diversity and contestation He draws on an array of European writers to show how three schools of literary study rhetoric teaching theories of poetry and literary history emerged and clashed during this time offering near contemporaneous yet divergent visions of how to understand literature Rhetoric and poetics thwarted criticism to different ends while literary historiography proved institutionally reassuring yet less useful as a tool for textual understanding Uhlig details how Scottish writers like Adam Smith and Hugh Blair taught rhetoric as a form self expression while Anglophone and German theorists of poetry like William Wordsworth Friedrich Schlegel and Johann Wolfgang von Goethe both engaged with and resented critics At the same time varying opinions on the practice of literary history emerged with Immanuel Kant and Thomas De Quincey arguing for the independence of literature from historical forces while writers like Matthew Arnold approached literature as a means of narrating cultural archives instead of drawing on close reading and analysis Rhetoric Poetics and Literary Historiography traces current debates in literary studies back to this formative moment serving as a guide to past and present controversies in the field The

Austrian Dimension in German Intellectual History David S. Shadows Ib Johansen, 2015-08-25 Walking Shadows focuses on the American fantastic and the American grotesque attempting in this manner for the first time to establish an overview of and a theoretical approach to two literary modes that have often been regarded as essential to an understanding of the American cultural canon The central importance of these two literary forms has been pointed out earlier by important theorists such as Stanley Cavell David Reynolds and William Van O Connor A number of literary works from the beginning of the nineteenth to the end of the twentieth centuries are taken up in order to illustrate the inherent links or family resemblances between the two modes with special reference to the way in which a Bakhtinian reading may facilitate our appreciation of their status within the canon These excursions into the House of Fantastic and Grotesque Fiction may be of interest not only to hardcore aficionados but also to philosophically minded readers in general in particular perhaps to those who have paid acute attention to debates on late twentieth and early twenty first century post structuralism and deconstruction where the classic positions of Foucault Derrida et al still appear to be relevant
