Books in Print Supplement ,1985 The Publishers Weekly ,1972 Why Human Rights? Eric Blumenson,2024-08-01
Why Human Rights addresses universal human rights as moral mandates rights to justice that all persons have by virtue of their humanity alone These are not the legal rights of statutes and treaties but moral rights of the kind Gandhi King and Mandela invoked to oppose unjust laws All such rights presuppose three claims 1 that some duties of justice apply universally 2 that all human beings have equal moral significance and 3 that states must protect or serve certain individual interests regardless of the societal impact of doing so Can these three premises be justified Is the human equality claim for example rationally supportable or is it no less faith based than hierarchical doctrines like caste This book explores the case for these foundational claims along with other philosophical controversies pertaining to human rights Because these issues lie at the heart of moral and political philosophy readers will also obtain a broad appreciation of these disciplines and their leading theorists including Mill Kant Rawls Sandel Nozick Rorty and many others Written in concise jargon free language this book presents a high relief map of the philosophical issues surrounding human rights The Vedanta Kesari ,2008 Brown Threat Kumarini Silva,2016-11-01 What is brown in and beyond the context of American identity politics How has the concept changed since 9 11 In the most sustained examination of these questions to date Kumarini Silva argues that brown is no longer conceived of solely as a cultural ethnic or political identity Instead after 9 11 the Patriot Act and the wars in Iran Iraq and Afghanistan it has also become a concept and indeed a strategy of identification one rooted in xenophobic imperialistic and racist ideologies to target those who do not neatly fit or subscribe to ideas of nationhood Interweaving personal narratives ethnographic research analyses of popular events like the Miss America pageant and films and TV shows such as the Harold and Kumar franchise and Black ish Silva maps junctures where the ideological political and mediated terrain intersect resulting in an appetite for all things brown especially South Asian brown by U S consumers while political and nationalist discourses and legal structures immigration emigration migration outsourcing incarceration conspire to control brown bodies both within and outside the United States Silva explores this contradictory relationship between representation and reality arguing that the representation mediates and manages the anxieties that come from contemporary global realities in which brown spaces like India Pakistan and the Middle East pose key economic security and political challenges to the United States While racism is hardly new what makes this iteration of brown new is that anyone or any group at any time can be branded as deviant as a threat American Book Publishing Record ,1992 English Poetry A.
