Eschatology In The Making Mark Matthew And The Didache:

Eschatology in the Making Vicky Balabanski, 1997-09-04 If the expectations of the early church concerning the return of Christ and the end of the world were disappointed the magnitude of the disappointment and the form in which it was expressed do not seem to fit with the expectations of modern scholars This 1997 study questions both the idea that the delay of Christ's return the parousia was the primary factor shaping the development of eschatological expectation in the early church and the linearity of the models used to understand the development of early Christian eschatology Vicky Balabanski argues that Matthew's Gospel shows a more imminent expectation than Mark's and that there were fluctuations in eschatological expectation caused by factors within these early communities and those of the Didache She traces these fluctuations and offers some new interpretative keys to Mark 13 Matthew 24 and 25 and Didache 16 as well as some vivid and original historical reconstructions

The Gospel of Matthew's Dependence on the Didache Alan Garrow, 2003-05-01 This book maps the relationship between Matthew's Gospel and the Didache No consensus regarding the nature of this relationship has yet been achieved neither has serious consideration been given to the possibility that Matthew depended directly on the Didache If it may be shown that such was the case then this infamously enigmatic text may finally be used to answer a series of tantalizing questions what is the pattern of the Synoptic relationships How did the earliest Jewish Christians incorporate Gentiles What was the shape of Eucharistic worship in the first century

Eschatology in Antiquity Hilary Marlow, Karla Pollmann, Helen Van Noorden, 2021-09-30 This collection of essays explores the rhetoric and practices surrounding views on life after death and the end of the world including the fate of the individual apocalyptic speculation and hope for cosmological renewal in a wide range of societies from Ancient Mesopotamia to the Byzantine era The 42 essays by leading scholars in each field explore the rich spectrum of ways in which eschatological understanding can be expressed and for which purposes it can be used Readers will gain new insight into the historical contexts details functions and impact of eschatological ideas and imagery in ancient texts and material culture from the twenty fifth century BCE to the ninth century CE Traditionally the study of eschatology and related concepts has been pursued mainly by scholars of Jewish and Christian scripture By broadening the disciplinary scope but remaining within the clearly defined geographical milieu of the Mediterranean this volume enables its readers to note comparisons and contrasts as well as exchanges of thought and transmission of eschatological ideas across Antiquity Cross referencing high quality illustrations and extensive indexing contribute to a rich resource on a topic of contemporary interest and relevance Eschatology in Antiquity is aimed at readers from a wide range of academic disciplines as well as non specialists including seminary students and religious leaders The primary audience will comprise researchers in relevant fields including Biblical Studies Classics and Ancient History Ancient Philosophy Ancient Near Eastern Studies Art History Late Antiquity Byzantine Studies and Cultural Studies Care has been taken to ensure that the essays are accessible to undergraduates and those without specialist knowledge of particular subject areas     The Didache Jonathan A. Draper, Clayton N. Jefford, 2015-05-31 An intriguing dilemma for those who study ancient Christian contexts and literature This edited volume includes essays and responses from specialists in the Didache and in early church history in general Features Strategies for understanding liturgical constructions and ritual worship found in the text Studies that apply generally to the overall content and background of the Didache Essays on the relationship between the Didache and scripture particularly with respect to the Gospel of Matthew     The Church of Antioch and the Eucharistic Traditions (ca. 35-130 CE) Amiel Drimbe, 2020-10-12 The author has chosen 1 to analyse the Eucharistic traditions of earliest Christianity and 2 to trace their use within the church of Antioch focusing on the following key texts 1 Cor 11 23 25 Matt 26 26 29 Did 9 1 10 6 and Ignatius Phil 4 1 Therefore connecting the four Eucharistic texts to the early church of Antioch constitutes the main objective of this study Introduction     A Theology of Mark's Gospel David E. Garland, 2015-10-06 A Theology of Mark's Gospel is the fourth volume in the BTNT series This landmark textbook written by leading New Testament scholar David E. Garland thoroughly explores the theology of Mark's Gospel It both covers major Markan themes and also sets forth the distinctive contribution of Mark to the New Testament and the canon of Scripture providing readers with an in depth and holistic grasp of Markan theology in the larger context of the Bible This substantive evangelical treatment of Markan theology makes an ideal college or seminary level text     The Didache Shawn J. Wilhite, 2020-03-26 Shawn J. Wilhite's commentary on the Didache complements the study of early Christianity through historical literary and theological readings of the Apostolic Fathers seeking to be mindful of critical scholarship while commenting on a final form text The Didache includes a brief introduction to this relevant text the use of Scripture by the Didachist and the theology of the Didache The commentary proceeds section by section with a close ear to the text of the Didache relevant early Christian literature and current scholarship     Reading Matthew as the Climactic Fulfillment of the Hebrew Story Martin Spadaro, 2015-09-09 This book is a reading of Matthew's Gospel as though it were written to integrate with advance and conclude the existing body of Scriptures Matthew is read as though John was the last prophet of God and Israel's last chance for repentance and that Jesus was YHWH who had come to judge the Temple priesthood and covenant nation according to the terms of the covenant God made with Moses at Sinai Through this lens new interpretations are given to the infancy narrative the Sermon on the Mount the mission the parables and Jesus arrival in Jerusalem along with the events that followed By reading Matthew this way a greater appreciation can be gained for its necessary place in the canon and many of Matthew's well known conundrums can be meaningfully addressed As a Hebrew document Matthew understood the necessity to record the crimes against YHWH Jesus in Israel and Jerusalem as the ultimate cause for the termination of the ethnically and geographically bound covenant which could then be replaced by the cross cultural and international covenant that Christians now enjoy     In Search of a Context Thomas R. Hatina, 2002-10-01 In this book the author explores how contexts determine the meaning of embedded scripture texts in the Gospel of Mark Many historical critics base their readings on a context that is external to Mark's story world be it a reconstructed socio religious setting of the evangelist a Jewish exegetical tradition or some earlier stage in the development of the gospel What is common to these readings is the neglect for the context of the story world the very context in which scripture quotations and allusions are embedded The author proposes a method of reading these embedded texts that is sensitive to the story world though not at the expense of the historical setting in which the gospel was written Jesus announcement in 1:15 concerning the kingdom of God serves as the point of entrance into Mark's story world

The Gospel of Mark and the Roman-Jewish War of 66-70 CE Stephen Simon Kimondo, 2018-07-19 This book interprets Mark's gospel in light of the Roman Jewish War of 66-70 CE Locating the authorship of Mark's gospel in rural Galilee or southern Syria after the fall of Jerusalem and the temple and after Vespasian's enthronement as the new emperor Kimondo argues that Mark's first hearers people who lived through and had knowledge of the important events of the war may have evaluated Mark's story of Jesus as a contrast to Roman imperial values He makes an intriguing case that Jesus proclamation as the Messiah in the villages of Caesarea Philippi set up a deliberate contrast between Jesus's teaching and Vespasian's proclamation of himself as the world's divine ruler He suggests that Mark's hearers may have interpreted Jesus liberative campaign in Galilee as a deliberate contrast to Vespasian's destructive military campaigns in the area Jesus's teachings about wealth power and status while on the way to Jerusalem may have been heard as contrasts to Roman imperial values hence the entire story of Jesus may have been interpreted an anti imperial narrative

From Synagogue to Ecclesia Charles E. Carlston, Craig A. Evans, 2014-09-11 Charles E. Carlston and Craig A. Evans show how the Evangelist took over a variety of traditions from Judaism and early Christianity and worked them into a theological portrait that would be accessible to both Jews and Gentiles as they became followers of Jesus Back cover

The Gospel to the Romans Brian Incigneri, 2003-08-01 This book proposes that Mark's Gospel was written in Rome in late 71 after the return of the feared Titus who had recently destroyed the Jerusalem Temple Recognising that the use of emotional appeals was a prime contemporary rhetorical tool it shows the Gospel to be an emotionally charged text aimed at readers traumatised by years of persecution fear of arrest and intra community tensions over the forgiveness of those who had failed It examines the political social and religious situation and shows that the Gospel contains allusions to many recent events of concern to Christians Mark stirs their fears and painful memories to move them to a new resolve providing a model for them Jesus the first martyr for the gospel

The Sermon on the Mount and Spiritual Exercises George Branch-Trevathan, 2020-03-31 What in Matthew's view should a human being become and how does one attain that ideal In The Sermon on the Mount and Spiritual Exercises The Making of the Matthean Self George Branch Trevathan presents a new account of Matthew's ethics and argues that the evangelist presents the Sermon on the Mount as functioning like many other ancient sayings collections that is as facilitating transformative work on oneself or spiritual exercises that enable one to realize the evangelist's ideals The conclusion suggests some implications for our understanding of ethical formation in antiquity and the study of ethics more generally This will be an essential volume for scholars studying the Gospel of Matthew early Christian ethics the relationships between early Christian and ancient philosophical writings or ethical formation in antiquity

The Vehement Jesus David J. Neville, 2017-11-13 The Vehement Jesus composes a fresh examination and interpretation of several perplexing passages in the Gospels that at face value challenge the conviction that the mission and message of Jesus were peaceful Using narrative analysis and various forms of intratextual critique in the service of a hermeneutic of shalom the author makes the case that

Gospel portrayals of the vehement Jesus are compatible with perhaps even indispensable to the composite canonical portrait of Jesus as the Messiah of Peace As a result this exploration in New Testament theology and ethics makes an invaluable contribution to the crucial conversation about the role of Jesus life and teaching in Christian reflection on the morality of violence today
