The Palgrave International Handbook of Mixed Racial and Ethnic Classification Zarine L. Rocha,Peter J. Aspinall,2020-01-03 This handbook provides a global study of the classification of mixed race and ethnicity at the state level bringing together a diverse range of country case studies from around the world The classification of race and ethnicity by the state is a common way to organize and make sense of populations in many countries from the national census and birth and death records to identity cards and household surveys As populations have grown diversified and become increasingly transnational and mobile single and mutually exclusive categories struggle to adequately capture the complexity of identities and heritages in multicultural societies State motivations for classification vary widely and have shifted over time ranging from subjugation and exclusion to remediation and addressing inequalities The chapters in this handbook illustrate how differing histories and contemporary realities have led states to count and classify mixedness in different ways for different reasons This collection will serve as a key reference point on the international classification of mixed race and ethnicity for students and scholars across sociology ethnic and racial studies and public policy as well as policy makers and practitioners
