Women in the Portuguese Colonial Empire Clara Sarmiento, 2009-03-26 Women in the Portuguese Colonial Empire The Theatre of Shadows compiles an extensive collection of essays on the status of women throughout the vast Portuguese colonial space from Brazil to the Far East crossing Europe Africa and India between the 16th and the 20th century Absent or mystified silenced or victimized women in the History of Portugal and its colonial venture are the living example of the part historiographical discourse ideology and popular memory have played in the construction of identities their practices and representations The production and critical consumption of History have long revealed countless gaps and silences within its own discourse This book questions the reason for such gaps and silences and wonders about the real role of all those who do not or have never had access to power and to the perpetuating word those whose voices have been systematically erased from sources and documents because of past or present attending interests Women in the Portuguese Colonial Empire The Theatre of Shadows congregates a wide assortment of disciplines so as to provide multiple independent viewpoints sources and methodologies By bringing authors from around the world together this work ensures that the various cultures and memories that are part of the global saga as well as the various versions of the history of the Portuguese colonial empire may be heard Anti-empire Daniel F. Silva, 2018 Anti Empire explores how different writers across Lusophone spaces engage with imperial and colonial power at its various levels of domination while imagining alternatives to dominant discourses pertaining to race ethnicity culture gender sexuality and class This project thus offers in depth interrogations of racial politics gender performance socio economic divisions political structures and the intersections of these facets of domination and hegemony A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula Fernando Cabo Aseguinolaza, Anxo Abuín González, César Domínguez, 2010 A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula is the second comparative history of a new subseries with a regional focus published by the Coordinating Committee of the International Comparative Literature Association As its predecessor for East Central Europe this two volume history distances itself from traditional histories built around periods and movements and explores from a comparative viewpoint a space considered to be a powerful symbol of inter literary relations Both the geographical pertinence and its symbolic condition are obviously discussed when not even contested Written by an international team of researchers who are specialists in the field this history is the first attempt at applying a comparative approach to the plurilingual and multicultural literatures in the Iberian Peninsula The aim of comprehensiveness is abandoned in favor of a diverse and extensive array of key issues for a comparative agenda A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula undermines the primacy claimed for national and linguistic boundaries and provides a geo cultural account of literary inter systems which cannot otherwise be explained Here and Beyond Helena Buffery, Sergi Mainer, David Miranda-Barreiro, Martin Veiga, 2022-09 The chapters included in this volume examine a number of modern and contemporary travel and mobility narratives produced in the different languages of Iberia whether they offer accounts of Iberia itself or portray other geographical or human contexts Illustrating the diversity of forms characteristic of travel writing the texts discussed in the book feature representations of travel and mobility as presented in novels films and other literary and cultural manifestations such as comics plays and journalistic chronicles Additionally the volume incorporates a section of creative responses to the tropes of travel and mobility by contemporary Iberian authors in English translation Thus the book provides critical accounts of and creative insights into a tradition that has produced canonical texts but also unorthodox complex and challenging narratives particularly in more recent times Family Constellations in Contemporary Ibero-American and Slavic Literatures

Anna Artwińska, Ángela Calderón, Jobst Welge, 2024-10-07 This volume examines Ibero American as well as Slavic literatures of the 21st century and studies how historical imaginaries in family narratives are functionalized for both individual and collective and post national identities The analysis proceeds along three conceptual axes What these narratives have in common is that they construct specific constellations of the historical imagination and of family whereby family is here conceived not so much as an organic micro unity but rather as changing multiple relations between individual members godparents first and second degree relatives non blood related family members present and absent members adopted children etc Furthermore these novels are often grounded in trans generational memories They are written by members of a generation that as a rule did not directly experience these historical events It is also significant that these narratives are no longer conceived as representing national identities but paradigmatically speak for a collective that defines itself in regional ethnic religious or ideological terms It seems therefore that these narratives of family constellations are in need of more flexible typological rubrics and interpretive frameworks Intended as a sustained comparative study of these family narratives this volume is a contribution in understanding how historical caesura experiences and their literary representation work on the self understanding of the present História de Portugal Fortunato de Almeida, 1922 Portugal E Os Estrangeiros and evaluates ongoing representative processes strategies and practices next to longstanding constraints dilemmas and taboos regarding discussions of contentious matters The different perspectives from which the issues of conflict identity and memory are examined in authoritarian new European and post colonial contexts provide examples of power and conflict memory intervening in discourse and areas of cultural practice destabilizing fixed or encoded meaning It examines how the making sense of our memories so vital for the qualification of culture and social practices is about concepts and ideas as well as emotions and attachments i e meaning resulting from effective social exchange framed by specific contexts of interpretation As such the book is also a contribution to a memory culture that is pushing forward the clarification of conflicts crystallizations of tension and all sorts of threads that bind us very often invisibly to the past

Stories and Portraits of the Self Helena Carvalhão Buescu, João Ferreira Duarte, 2007 In contemporary societies privatization has long ceased to be just an economic concept rather it must increasingly be made to refer to the ongoing shrinking of the public space under the impact of the representation of individual lives and images which cuts across all discourses genres and media to become one of the primary means of production of culture This volume is intended to cover such an historical social and intellectual ground where self representation comes to the fore Targeting mostly an academic readership but certainly also of interest to the general educated public it collects a wide range of essays dealing with diverse modes of life writing and portraying from a variety of perspectives and focusing on different historical periods and media It thus offers itself as a major contribution to a better understanding of the world we live in its past legacy and present configuration

Toward a Linguistic and Literary Revision of Cultural Paradigms Ettore Finazzi-Agrò,2018-11-02 This book draws an updated Euro American conceptual map starting from a limited number of strategic terms whose meanings today are judged univocal and permanent while in fact daily use has turned them into common sense depriving them of their ambiguity an original feature of language particularly relevant when it comes to literary use By re examining the proper noun for each of the selected notions the contributors common intent is to shed light on their polysemous nature and linguistic fluidity in spite of the common tendency towards simplification and homogeneity imposed by hegemonic cultural paradigms Along this line the book explores the great divides between identity and otherness or common or alien in order to recover a sense of cultural identity which is at once polymorphous and polyphonic
