Essays Of Virginia Woolf 1919 1924 Vol 3:

Novels of Everyday Life Laurie Langbauer, 2019-05-15 Laurie Langbauer argues that our worldview is shaped not just by great public events but also by the most overlooked and familiar aspects of common life the everyday This sphere of the everyday has always been a crucial component of the novel but has been ignored by many writers and critics and long associated with the writing of women Focusing on the linked series of novels characteristic of later Victorian and early modern fiction such as Margaret Oliphant's Carlingford Chronicles or the Sherlock Holmes stories she investigates how authors make use of the everyday as a foundation to support their versions of realism What happens when in the series novel or in contemporary theory the everyday becomes a site of contestation and debate Langbauer pursues this question through the novels of Margaret Oliphant Charlotte Yonge Anthony Trollope and Arthur Conan Doyle and in the writings of Dorothy Richardson Virginia Woolf and John Galsworthy as they reflect on their Victorian predecessors She also explores accounts of the everyday in the works of such theorists as Henri Lefebvre Michel de Certeau and Sigmund Freud as well as materialist critics including George Lukacs Max Horkheimer and Theodor Adorno Her work shows how these writers link the series and the everyday in ways that reveal different approaches to comprehending the obscurity that makes up daily life British

Writers and the Approach of World War II Steve Ellis, 2014-10-27 This book considers the literary construction of what E M Forster calls the 1939 State namely the anticipation of the Second World War between the Munich crisis of 1938 and the end of the Phoney War in the spring of 1940 Steve Ellis investigates not only myriad responses to the imminent war but also various peace aims and plans for post war reconstruction outlined by such writers as T S Eliot H G Wells J B Priestley George Orwell E M Forster and Leonard and Virginia Woolf He argues that the work of these writers is illuminated by the anxious tenor of this period The result is a novel study of the long 1939 which transforms readers understanding of the literary history of the eve of war era Modernism, Imperialism and the Historical Sense Paul Stasi, 2012-07-30 Modernist art and literature sought to engage with the ideas of different cultures without eradicating the differences between them In Modernism Imperialism and the Historical Sense Paul Stasi explores the relationship between high modernist aesthetic forms and structures of empire in the twentieth century Stasi's text offers new readings of James Joyce Ezra Pound T S Eliot and Virginia Woolf by situating their work within an early moment of globalization By combining the insights of Marxist historiography aesthetic theory and postcolonial criticism Stasi's careful analysis reveals how these authors aesthetic forms responded to and helped shape their unique historical moment Written with a wide readership in mind this book will appeal especially to scholars of British and American literature as well as students of literary criticism and postcolonial studies

Restless Secularism Matthew Mutter, 2017-06-27 A scholarly and deeply sensitive study that explores how religion and secularism are tightly interwoven in the major works of modernist literature Matthew Mutter provides a broad survey of modernist literature examining key works against a background of philosophy theology intellectual and social history while tracing the relationship of modernism's secular imagination to the religious cultures that both preceded and shaped it Mutter's provocative study demonstrates how despite their explicit desire to purify secular life of its religious residues Wallace Stevens Virginia Woolf and other literary modernists consistently found themselves entangled in the religious legacies they disavowed

The ^AGreat War and the Language of Modernism Vincent Sherry, 2003-04-10 In The Great War and the Language of Modernism Vincent Sherry reopens long unanswered questions regarding the influence of the 1914 war on the verbal experiments of modernist poetry and fiction Sherry recovers the political discourses of the British campaign and establishes the language to which literary modernism responds with its boldest initiatives In its wholly new reading of Woolf Eliot and Pound this book restores the historical content and depth of this literature and reveals its most daring import

A History of English Autobiography Adam Smyth, 2016-04-04 This History explores the genealogy of autobiographical writing in England from the medieval period to the digital era

Reconnecting Aestheticism and Modernism Bénédicte Coste, Catherine Delyfer, Christine Reynier, 2016-10-04 Charting the period that extends from the 1860s to the 1940s this volume offers fresh perspectives on Aestheticism and Modernism By acknowledging that both movements had a passion for the new it goes beyond the alleged divide between Modernism and its predecessors Rather than reading the modernist credo Make it New as a desire to break away from the past the authors of this book suggest reading it as a continuation and a reappropriation of the spirit of the New that characterizes Aestheticism Basing their arguments on recent reassessments of Aestheticism and Modernism and their articulation contributors take up the challenge of interrogating the connections continuities and intersections between the two movements thus revealing the working processes of cultural and aesthetic change so as to reassess the value of the new for each Attending to well known writers such as Waugh Woolf Richardson Eliot Pound Ford Symons Wilde and Hopkins as well as to hitherto neglected figures such as Lucas Malet L S Gibbon Leonard Woolf or George Egerton they revise assumptions about Aestheticism and Modernism and their very definitions This collection brings together international scholars specializing in Aestheticism or Modernism who push their analyses beyond their strict period of expertise and take both movements into account through exciting approaches that borrow from aesthetics philosophy or economics The volume proposes a corrective to the traditional narratives of the history of Aestheticism and Modernism revitalizing definitions of these movements and revealing new directions in aestheticist and modernist studies

Fantasies of Self-Mourning Ruben Borg, 2019-01-07 In Fantasies of Self Mourning Ruben Borg describes the formal features of a posthuman cyborgian imaginary at work in modernism The book's central claim is that modernism invents the posthuman as a way to think through the contradictions of its historical moment Borg develops a posthumanist critique of the concept of organic life based on comparative readings of Pirandello Woolf Beckett and Flann O'Brien alongside discussions of Alfred Hitchcock Chris Marker B la Tarr Ridley Scott and Mamoru Oshii The argument draws together a cluster of modernist narratives that contemplate the separation of a cybernetic eye from a human body or call for a tearing up of the body understood as a discrete organic unit capable of synthesizing desire and sense perception

Special relationships Janet Beer, Bridget Bennett, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license This book addresses the special relationship from the perspective of post Second World War British governments It argues that Britain's foreign policy challenges the dominant idea that its power has been waning and that it sees itself as the junior partner to the hegemonic US The book also shows how at moments of international crisis successive British governments have attempted to re play the same foreign policy role within the special relationship It discusses the power of a profoundly antagonistic relationship between Mark Twain and Walter Scott The book demonstrates Stowe's misreading and misrepresentation of the Highland Clearances It explains how Our Nig the work of a Northern free black also provides a working class portrait of New England farm life removed from the frontier that dominates accounts of American agrarian life Telegraphy which transformed transatlantic relations in the middle of the century was used by spiritualists as a metaphor for the ways in which communications from the other world could be understood The story of the Bolton Whitman Fellowship is discussed Beside Sarah Orne Jewett's desk was a small copy of the well known Raeburn portrait of Sir Walter Scott Henry James and George Eliot shared a transatlantic literary network which embodied an easy flow of mutual interest and appreciation between their two milieux In her autobiography Gertrude Stein assigns to her lifelong companion the repeated comment that she has met three geniuses in her life Stein Picasso and Alfred North Whitehead

Virginia Woolf and the World of Books Nicola Wilson, Claire Battershill, 2018-09-27 A celebration of the centenary of the founding of Leonard and Virginia Woolf's Hogarth Press

The Phantom Table Ann Banfield, 2007-02-15 Virginia Woolf identified the influence on her work of the Cambridge Apostles the philosophical society which counted G E Moore Bertrand Russell and much of male Bloomsbury among its members as one more capable of description than the influence of my mother In this major study of Woolf's relationship to Bloomsbury and the aesthetic and philosophical developments of her time Ann Banfield subjects that influence to a full treatment The theory of knowledge Moore and Russell formulated Banfield argues profoundly affected Woolf's conception of reality as it did Roger Fry's theory of Post Impressionism one source for Woolf's transformations of philosophical principles into aesthetic ones The Phantom Table is a magisterial account of Woolf's engagement with this remarkable trinity of thinkers Moore Russell Fry It revises the epistemology of modernism reconceiving the relation between realism and formalism to account for Woolf's dual reality of sense impressions and logical forms

Feminist Aesthetics and the Politics of Modernism Ewa Płonowska Ziarek, 2012 Ewa Ziarek fully articulates a feminist aesthetics focusing on the struggle for freedom in women's literary and political modernism and the devastating impact of racist violence and sexism She examines the contradiction between women's transformative literary and political practices and the oppressive realities of racist violence and sexism and she situates these tensions within the entrenched opposition between revolt and melancholia in studies of modernity and within the friction between material injuries and experimental aesthetic forms Ziarek's political and aesthetic investigations concern the exclusion and destruction of women in politics and literary production and the transformation of this oppression into the inaugural possibilities of writing and action Her study is one of the first to combine an in depth engagement with philosophical aesthetics especially the work of Theodor W Adorno with women's literary modernism particularly the writing of Virginia Woolf and Nella Larsen along with feminist theories on the politics of race and gender By bringing seemingly apolitical gender neutral debates about modernism's experimental forms together with an analysis of violence and destroyed materialities Ziarek challenges both the anti aesthetic subordination of modern literature to its political uses and the appreciation of art's emancipatory potential at the expense of feminist and anti racist political struggles

White Male Disability in Modernist Literature Martina Simone Kübler, 2023-01-16 This study explores the representation of disability in three of the most well known novels of the twentieth century D H Lawrence's Lady Chatterley's Lover 1928 Ernest Hemingway's The Sun Also Rises 1926 and William Faulkner's The Sound and the Fury 1929 By signifying cultural demise and a loss of masculinity white male disability in the literature of the 1920s represents a fear of a foundering patriarchal white supremacist world order However if we take seriously what queer and disability studies have advanced disabled bodies in literature can also help us redefine life and love in the modern era forcing us to imagine possibilities outside of our comfort zones they help us reimagine the elusive myth of independent self sufficient human existence

Freudian Passions Jan Campbell, 2018-05-08 Freud's thinking about the unconscious has always been seen to be more about representations than affects When it came to the passions of the transference and the demands of his hysterical patients Freud was always more interested wanted to move the focus away from the transference and onto dreams Hidden wishes more than manifest ones were what captured his imagination and style This book returns to the repressed theory of passions in Freud's own thinking arguing that the repression fixation and rhythmic movement of affects make up the roots and branches of psychoanalytic thinking We can think of Freud's unconscious affects as a tree with the most passionate and primitive affects that make up the core of our psychic life moving and branching out into more elaborated emotions and representations So what moves this tree the house of our first passions How we move the tree of our affects or leave it is integral to Freud's understanding of sexuality and the Oedipal Complex

Aesthetics of Space in Nineteenth-Century British Literature, 1843-1907 Giles Whiteley, 2020-03-02 Uncovers the link between Ruskin and the tradition of the aesthetics of space Discusses a hitherto under researched tradition of city writing linking Ruskin to modernism Reads comparatively five important mid to late nineteenth century writers Marries close textual analysis with historically and geographically informed context Fills a gap in the critical literature on city writing between realism and early modernism Charting an aesthetic post realist tradition of writing this book considers the significant role played by John Ruskin's art criticism in later writing which dealt with the new kinds of spaces encountered in the nineteenth century With chapters devoted to the ways in which aesthetic and decadent writers such as Walter Pater and Oscar Wilde built upon and challenged Ruskin's ideas the book links the late Dickens to the early modernism of Henry James The Aesthetics of Space in Nineteenth Century British Literature gives a vibrant vision of what an aesthetically sensitive treatment of these spaces looked like during the period
