THE NEW TECHNOLOGY
 Although it has been the subject of much hype, computer-aided design (CAD) is still a relatively new technology. CAD is a computer-aided design system that allows a designer to create a 3D model of a part or assembly. The model is then used to generate a set of manufacturing instructions, such as a CNC program, that can be used to produce the part or assembly. CAD is a powerful tool that can greatly reduce the time and cost of product development. It is also a very flexible tool that can be used to create a wide variety of models, from simple 2D drawings to complex 3D assemblies. CAD is a technology that is constantly evolving, and it is expected to continue to play a major role in the manufacturing industry for many years to come.
