Animals in Young Adult Fiction Walter Hogan, 2009-07-01 Of the many themes occurring in young adult literature one that bears more extensive exploration is the adolescent animal connection Although substantial critical commentary has addressed children s animal stories and animals in adult fiction very few studies have been devoted to adolescent animal encounters In Animals in Young Adult Fiction Walter Hogan examines several hundred novels and stories to explore the ways in which animals are represented in these works In addition to providing an historical survey Hogan looks at both realistic fiction and speculative works including fantasy supernatural horror and science fiction Hogan reviews stories that feature wild animal encounters stories centered on relationships with horses dogs and other working and performing animals and those featuring relationships with pets Drawing upon established scholarship this book examines human animal relationships from multiple angles making it an invaluable resource for librarians teachers and students of children s and young adult literature

Envisioning the Future Marleen S. Barr, 2003-09-03 Writers speculate on the future and the role of science fiction

Melancholia and Maturation Eric L. Tribunella, 2010-01-15 Coming of age in children s fiction often means achieving maturity through the experience of trauma In classics ranging from Old Yeller to The Outsiders a narrative of psychological pain defies expectations of childhood as a time of innocence and play In this provocative new book Eric L. Tribunella explores why trauma especially the loss of a loved object occurs in some of the most popular and critically acclaimed twentieth century American fiction for children Tribunella draws on queer theory and feminist revisions of Freud s notion of melancholia which is described as a fundamental response to loss arguing that the low grade symptoms of melancholia are in fact what characterize the mature sober and responsible

American adult Melancholia and Maturation looks at how this effect is achieved in a society that purports to protect youngsters from every possible source of danger thus requiring melancholia to be induced artificially Each of the book's five chapters focuses on a different kind of lost object sacrificed so as to propel the child toward a distinctively gendered sexual ethical and national adulthood from same sex friends to the companionship of boy and his dog stories from the lost ideals of historical fiction about the American Revolution to the children killed or traumatized in Holocaust novels The author examines a wide spectrum of works including Jack London's dog tales the contemporary realistic novels of S E Hinton and Newbery Medal winners like Johnny Tremain and Bridge to Terabithia Tribunella raises fundamental questions about the value of children's literature as a whole and provides context for understanding why certain books become required reading for youth Eric L Tribunella is assistant professor of English at the University of Southern Mississippi His articles have been published in Children's Literature Association Quarterly Children's Literature in Education The Lion and the Unicorn A Critical Journal of Children's Literature and Children's Literature

We're Not Here to Entertain Kevin Mattson, 2020-05-14 Kevin Mattson offers a history of punk rock in the 1980s He documents how kids growing up in the sedate world of suburbia created their own culture through DIY tactics Punk spread across the continent in the 1980s as it found expression in different media including literature art and poetry Punks dissented against Reagan's presidency accusing the entertainer in chief of being mean and duplicitous especially when it came to nuclear war and his policies in Central America Mattson has dived deep into archives to make his case that this youthful dissent meant something more than just a style of mohawks or purple hair

Do Metaphors Dream of Literal Sleep? Seo-Young Chu, 2011-01-15 In culture and scholarship science fictional worlds are perceived as unrealistic and altogether imaginary Seo Young Chu offers a bold challenge to this perception of the genre arguing instead that science fiction is a form of high intensity realism capable of representing non imaginary objects that elude more traditional realist modes of representation Powered by lyric forces that allow it to transcend the dichotomy between the literal and the figurative science fiction has the capacity to accommodate objects of representation that are themselves neither entirely figurative nor entirely literal in nature Chu explores the globalized world cyberspace war trauma the Korean concept of han and the rights of robots all as referents for which she locates science fictional representations in poems novels music films visual pieces and other works ranging within and without previous demarcations of the science fiction genre In showing the divide between realism and science fiction to be illusory Do Metaphors Dream of Literal Sleep sheds new light on the value of science fiction as an aesthetic and philosophical resource one that matters more and more as our everyday realities grow increasingly resistant to straightforward representation
