Further Adventures of a Blue-eyed Ojibway Drew Hayden Taylor, 1999 Further Adventures of a Blue Eyed Ojibway is the sequel to the popular Funny You Don t Look Like One This all new second collection of stories and articles is divided into the following themes Adventure in Indian Country Listomania The Books of Lists A Horse of a Different Culture Pros and Cons of Being Who You Are and Straight from the Art Movies Plays and Books As with the first collection Further Adventures of a Blue Eyed Ojibway provides a humorous insightful look into Aboriginal cultures and issues by one of the most prolific Aboriginal playwrights and columnists in Canada Humor in Contemporary Native North American Literature Eva Gruber, 2008 Encompassing view of humor in recent Native North American literature with particular focus on Native self image and identity In contrast to the popular cliché of the stoic Indian humor has always been important in Native North American cultures Recent Native literature testifies to the centrality of this tradition Yet literary criticism has so far largely neglected these humorous aspects instead frequently choosing to concentrate on representations of trauma and cultural disruption at the risk of reducing Native characters and Native cultures to the position of the tragic victim This first comprehensive study explores the use of humor in today s Native writing focusing on a wide variety of texts spanning all genres It combines concepts from cultural studies and humor studies with approaches by Native thinkers and critics analyzing the possible effects of humorous forms of representation on the self image and identity formation of Native individuals and Native cultures Humor emerges as an indispensable tool for engaging with existing stereotypes Native writers subvert degrading clichés of the Indian from within reimagining Nativeness in a celebration of laughing survivors decolonizing the minds of both Native and non native readers and contributing to a renewal of Native cultural identity This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Native Studies both literary and cultural Due to its encompassing approach it will also provide a point of entry for the wider readership interested in contemporary Native writing Eva Gruber is Assistant Professor in the American Studies section of the Department of Literature at the University of Konstanz Germany

Me Funny, 2012-01-06 Humor has always been an essential part of North American aboriginal culture This fact remained unnoticed by most settlers however since non aboriginals just didn t get the joke For most of written history a stern unyielding profile of the Indian dominated the popular mainstream imagination Indians it was believed never laughed But Indians themselves always knew better As an award winning playwright columnist and comedy sketch creator Drew Hayden Taylor has spent 15 years writing and researching aboriginal humor For Me Funny he asked a noted cast of writers from a variety of fields including such celebrated wordsmiths as Thomas King Allan J Ryan Mirjam Hirsch and Tomson Highway to take a look at what makes aboriginal humor tick Their hilarious enlightening contributions playfully examine the use of humor in areas as diverse as stand up comedy fiction visual art drama performance poetry traditional storytelling and education Tribal Television Dustin Tahmahkera, 2014 Tribal Television Viewing Native People in Sitcoms “Mouths on Fire with Songs". Caroline De Wagter, 2013 This book the first cross cultural study of post 1970s anglophone Canadian and American multi ethnic drama invites assessment of the thematic and aesthetic contributions of this theater in today's globalized culture A growing number of playwrights of African South and East Asian and First Nations heritage have engaged with manifold socio political and aesthetic issues in experimental works combining formal features of more classical European dramatic traditions with such elements of ethnic culture as ancestral music and dance to interrogate the very concepts of theatricality and canonicity Their mouths on fire August Wilson these playwrights contest stereotyped notions of authenticity In spired by songs of anger passion experience survival and regeneration the plays analyzed bespeak a burning desire to break the silence to heal and empower Foregrounding questions of hybridity diaspora cultural memory and nation this comparative study includes discussion of some twenty five case studies of plays by such authors as M J Kang August Wilson Suzan Lori Parks Djanet Sears Chay Yew Padma Viswanathan Rana Bose Diane Glancy and Drew Hayden Taylor Through its cross cultural and cross national prism Mouths on Fire with Songs shows that multi ethnic drama is one of the most diverse and dynamic sites of cultural production in North America today Haunted Nations Sneja Gunew, 2013-04-15 Postcolonialism has attracted a large amount of interest in cultural theory but the adjacent area of multiculturalism has not been scrutinised to quite the same extent In this innovative new book Sneja Gunew sets out to interrogate the ways in which the transnational discourse of multiculturalism may be related to the politics of race and indigeneity grounding her discussion in a variety of national settings and a variety of literary autobiographical and theoretical texts Using examples from marginal sites the settler societies of Australia and Canada to cast light on the globally dominant discourses of the US and the UK Gunew analyses the political ambiguities and the pitfalls involved in a discourse of multiculturalism haunted by the opposing spectres of anarchy and assimilation Self-Determined Stories Mandy Suhr-Sytsma, 2018-11-01 The first book of its kind Self Determined Stories The Indigenous Reinvention of Young Adult Literature reads Indigenous authored YA from school stories to speculative fiction not only as a vital challenge to stereotypes but also as a rich intellectual resource for theorizing Indigenous sovereignty in the contemporary era Building on scholarship from Indigenous studies children's literature and cultural studies Suhr Sytsma delves deep in close readings of works by Sherman Alexie Jeannette Armstrong Joseph Bruchac Drew Hayden Taylor Susan Power Cynthia Leitich Smith and Melissa Tantaquidgeon Zobel Together Suhr Sytsma contends these works constitute a unique Indigenous YA genre This genre radically revises typical YA conventions while offering a fresh portrayal of Indigenous self determination and a fresh critique of multiculturalism heteropatriarchy and hybridity This literature moreover imagines compelling alternative ways to navigate cultural dynamism intersectionality and alliance formation Self Determined Stories invites readers from a range of contexts to engage with Indigenous YA and convincingly demonstrates the centrality of Indigenous stories Indigenous knowledge and Indigenous people to the flourishing of everyone in every place Furious Observations of a Blue-eyed Ojibway Drew Hayden Taylor, 2002 Furious

Observations of a Blue Eyed Ojibway is the third volume of short stories and articles by playwright and author Drew Hayden Taylor. The books in this series of humorous and anecdotal observations are his bestsellers. This follows up to Funny You Don't Look Like One and Two will delight and enlighten readers with more real life stories and perspectives on contemporary Aboriginal life.

Auto/biography in Canada Julie Rak, 2009-08-02 Auto biography in Canada Critical Directions widens the field of auto biography studies with its sophisticated multidisciplinary perspectives on the theory, criticism and practice of self community and representation. Rather than considering autobiography and biography as discrete genres with definable properties and rather than focusing on critical approaches the essays explore auto biography as a discourse about identity and representation in the context of numerous disciplinary shifts. Auto biography in Canada looks at how life narratives are made in Canada. Originating from literary studies history and social work the essays in this collection cover topics that range from queer Canadian autobiography autobiography and autism and newspaper death notices as biography to Canadian autobiography and the Holocaust Grey Owl and authenticity France Thoret and autofiction and a new reading of Stolen Life the collaborative text by Yvonne Johnson and Rudy Wiebe. Julie Rak's useful big picture introduction traces the history of auto biography studies in Canada. While the contributors chart disciplinary shifts taking place in auto biography studies their essays are also part of the ongoing scholarship that is remaking ways to understand Canada.

The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature Eva-Marie Kröller, 2004-02-05 This book offers a comprehensive and engaging introduction to major writers genres and topics in Canadian literature. Contributors pay attention to the social political and economic developments that have informed literary events. Broad surveys of fiction drama and poetry are complemented by chapters on Aboriginal writing francophone writing autobiography literary criticism writing by women and the emergence of urban writing in a country traditionally defined by its regions. Also discussed are genres that have a special place in Canadian literature such as nature writing exploration and travel writing and short fiction.

Cold Drew Hayden Taylor, 2024-01-09 INSTANT NATIONAL BESTSELLER A tragic plane crash that leaves two women stranded and fighting for their lives kicks off this sweeping and hilarious novel from award winning writer Drew Hayden Taylor that blends thriller murder mystery and horror with humour and spectacle. Elmore Trent is a professor of Indigenous studies who finds himself entangled in an affair that's ruining his marriage. Paul North plays in the IHL Indigenous Hockey League struggling to keep up with the game that's passing him by. Detective Ruby Birch is chasing a string of gruesome murders with clues that conspicuously lead her to both Elmore and Paul. And then there's Fabiola Halan former journalist turned author and famed survivor of a plane crash that sparked a nationwide tour promoting her book. What starts off as a series of subtle connections between isolated characters quickly takes a menacing turn as it becomes increasingly clear that someone or something is hunting them all. Taking tropes from the murder mystery police procedural thriller and horror genres Drew Hayden Taylor weaves a pulse pounding and propulsive narrative with an intricate cast of characters while never losing the ability to make you laugh.

Solidarity and Empowerment: The Native Discourse in Canada Steffi Retzlaff, 2012-01-31 This study represents a significant step towards understanding an important social phenomenon in Canada at the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty first century Throughout much of the twentieth century the life of virtually all Aboriginal people had been marked by a set of policies directed from Ottawa These had contributed to undermining both their traditional cultures and also the familial bonds vital for the development of a positive self image and a healthy relationship with other members of society as also with society as a whole The negative impact of such policies is now very widely recognised and documented The study does not set out to shed further light on this set of causes and effects What it does do successfully is investigate a number of the linguistic strategies based partly on aboriginal discursive models partly on positive presentation of a range of topics handled very differently in Euro Canadian media and partly on the propagation and consistent use of key items of terminology some of which have begun to enter at least some of the Euro Canadian media and strands of political discourse Prof Robert Gould Carleton University Ottawa The analytical framework employed in this study is Critical Discourse Analysis CDA CDA is said to focus on relevant social cultural and political problems and processes Accordingly its task is both deconstructive and constructive However the emphasis of research in CDA is mainly on problems and the deconstructive moment which aims at revealing hidden and not so hidden linguistic strategies and how dominant discourses are appropriated or naturalized The analysis presented in this book runs counter to this generally employed CDA practice It pays attention to constructive moments The focus is on counter discourses as they are used by Aboriginal people in Canada to resist ingrained hegemonic practices to build and develop new power relations as well as social and political identities

Walking a Tightrope David T. McNab, Ute Lischke, 2005-03-15 The most we can hope for is that we are paraphrased correctly In this statement Lenore Keeshig Tobias underscores one of the main issues in the representation of Aboriginal peoples by non Aboriginals Non Aboriginal people often fail to understand the sheer diversity multiplicity and shifting identities of Aboriginal people As a result Aboriginal people are often taken out of their own contexts Walking a Tightrope plays an important role in the dynamic historical process of ongoing change in the representation of Aboriginal peoples It locates and examines the multiplicity and distinctiveness of Aboriginal voices and their representations both as they portray themselves and as others have characterized them In addition to exploring perspectives and approaches to the representation of Aboriginal peoples it also looks at Native notions of time history land cultures identities and literacies Until these are understood by non Aboriginals Aboriginal people will continue to be misrepresented both as individuals and as groups By acknowledging the complex and unique legal and historical status of Aboriginal peoples we can begin to understand the culture of Native peoples in North America Until then given the strength of stereotypes Native people have come to expect no better representation than a paraphrase Translating Canada Luise von Flotow, Reingard M. Nischik, 2007-10-25 In the last thirty years of the twentieth century Canadian federal governments offered varying degrees of support for literary and other artistic endeavour A corollary of this patronage of culture at home was an effort to make the resulting works available for audiences elsewhere in the world Current developments in the study of translation and its influence as cultural transfer have made possible new assessments of such efforts to project a national image abroad Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers theatres and other culture brokers It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers novelists and poets playwrights and children s authors literary and social critics Above all the book maps for its readers a number of significant though frequently unsuspected roles that translation assumes in the intercultural negotiation of national images and values The chapters in this collection will be of value to students teachers and scholars in a number of fields Informed lay readers too will appreciate the authors insights into the different ways in which translation has contributed to German reception of Canadian books and culture Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers theatres and other culture brokers It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers Published in English Apostate Englishman Albert

Braz,2015-09-18 In the 1930s Grey Owl was considered the foremost conservationist and nature writer in the world He owed his fame largely to his four internationally bestselling books which he supported with a series of extremely popular illustrated lectures across North America and Great Britain His reputation was transformed radically however after he died in April 1938 and it was revealed that he was not of mixed Scottish Apache ancestry as he had often claimed but in fact an Englishman named Archie Belaney Born into a privileged family in the dominant culture of his time what compelled him to flee to a far less powerful one Albert Braz s Apostate Englishman Grey Owl the Writer and the Myths is the first comprehensive study of Grey Owl s cultural and political image in light of his own writings While the denunciations of Grey Owl after his death are often interpreted as a rejection of his appropriation of another culture Braz argues that what troubled many people was not only that Grey Owl deceived them about his identity but also that he had forsaken European culture for the North American Indigenous way of life That is he committed cultural apostasy Motorcycles & Sweetgrass Drew

Hayden Taylor,2021-06-01 A story of magic family a mysterious stranger and a band of marauding raccoons Otter Lake is a sleepy Anishnawbe community where little happens Until the day a handsome stranger pulls up astride a 1953 Indian Chief motorcycle and turns Otter Lake completely upside down Maggie the Reserve s chief is swept off her feet but Virgil her teenage son is less than enchanted Suspicious of the stranger s intentions he teams up with his uncle Wayne a master of aboriginal martial arts to drive the stranger from the Reserve And it turns out that the raccoons are willing to lend a hand

Native Authenticity Deborah L. Madsen,2012-02-01 An indispensable resource for readers students and scholars of Native literatures in North America Native Authenticity offers a clear comprehensive and systematic look at the diversity of critical approaches to the idea of Indian ness Some of the foremost transatlantic scholars of Native Studies in North America and Europe share their insights on this highly charged aspect of the contemporary theoretical field of Native Studies The issue of authenticity or Indian ness generates a controversial debate in studies of indigenous American literatures The articulation of Native identity through the prism of Euro American attempts to confine Indian groups to essentialized spaces is resisted by some Native writers while others recognize a need for essentialist categories as a key strategy in the struggle for social justice and a perpetually renewed sense of Native sovereignty Pressure from neo colonial essentializing practices is in conflict with a politics of cultural sovereignty which demands a notion of Indian essence or authenticity as a foundation for community values heritage and social justice Contributors participate in a scholarly and pedagogical search for an intellectual paradigm for Native literary studies that is apart from yet cognizant with powerful colonial legacies The complex politics of Polynesian authenticity versus Native indigeneity is engaged by Native Hawaiian writers as they negotiate conflicting demands upon personal and tribal identities Related to this questioning is the authenticity debate in Canadian First Nations writing where the claim to authenticity rests upon a claim to historical precedence also related is the highly contentious claim by some Chicano a writers to an indigenous heritage as a claim to authority and American authenticity Essays in this volume are focused upon the diverse and sophisticated responses of Native writers and scholars while offering comparative perspectives on Native Hawaiian Chicano and Canadian literatures      When the Other is Me Emma LaRocque, 2011-03-10 In this long awaited book from one of the most recognized and respected scholars in Native Studies today Emma LaRocque presents a powerful interdisciplinary study of the Native literary response to racist writing in the Canadian historical and literary record from 1850 to 1990 In When the Other is Me LaRocque brings a metacritical approach to Native writing situating it as resistance literature within and outside the postcolonial intellectual context She outlines the overwhelming evidence of dehumanization in Canadian historical and literary writing its effects on both popular culture and Canadian intellectual development and Native and non Native intellectual responses to it in light of the interlayered mix of romanticism exaggeration of Native difference and the continuing problem of internalization that challenges our understanding of the colonizer colonized relationship      Canadian Books in Print 2002 Edited by Butler Marian, Marian Butler, 2002-02 Containing more than 48000 titles of which approximately 4000 have a 2001 imprint the author and title index is extensively cross referenced It offers a complete directory of Canadian publishers available listing the names and ISBN prefixes as well as the street e mail and web addresses      Is Canada Postcolonial? Laura Moss, 2009-08-01 How can postcolonialism be applied to Canadian literature In all that has been written about postcolonialism surprisingly little has specifically addressed the position of Canada Canadian literature or Canadian culture Postcolonialism is a theory that has gained credence throughout the world it is be productive to ask if and how we as Canadians participate in postcolonial debates It is also vital to examine the ways in which Canada and Canadian culture fit into global discussions as our culture

reflects how we interact with our neighbours allies and adversaries This collection wrestles with the problems of situating Canadian literature in the ongoing debates about culture identity and globalization and of applying the slippery term of postcolonialism to Canadian literature The topics range in focus from discussions of specific literary works to general theoretical contemplations The twenty three articles in this collection grapple with the recurrent issues of postcolonialism including hybridity collaboration marginality power resistance and historical revisionism from the vantage point of those working within Canada as writers and critics While some seek to confirm the legitimacy of including Canadian literature in the discussions of postcolonialism others challenge this very notion
