Politics and Educational Change Patricia Broadfoot, Colin Brock, Witold Tulasiewicz, 2018-04-17 Published in 1981 Throughout the world education is a highly contentious political issue Politicians are involved in educational decision making at all levels and very often educational reform is as much motivated by political ideology as by educational considerations This book which draws together the work of many leading authorities examines the current state of educational politics in many parts of the world The book looks at the problem from a theoretical and a comparative perspective and then analyses the problem in particular areas which include North America Western Europe and Third World countries Future educational policies in the changing social and economic context, 1979 Lower Technical Education in the Netherlands, 1798-1993 Jan Wolthuis, 1999 Reflection on the Future Development of Education Ulrika Von Haumeder, 1979 Resources in Education, 2000-10 European Integration and the Governance of Higher Education and Research Alberto Amaral, Guy Neave, Christine Musselin, Peter Maassen, 2009-10-03 The high level Douro seminars are now a well established tradition in the annual activities promoted by Hedda a European consortium of nine centres and institutes devoted to research on higher education and CIPES its Portuguese associated centre At the seminars each member of a small group of invited researchers presents and discusses an original research based paper that is revised afterwards taking into account the comments of the participating colleagues The revised papers form the basis for the annual thematic book published by Springer in the book series called Higher Education Dynamics HEDY Paying tribute to the regularity of the seminars it was decided that the volumes originating from the initiative would be collected in a series in the series called the Douro Series Previous seminars were dedicated to in depth analyses of different aspects of higher education systems and institutions including institutional governance the emergence of managerialism markets as instruments of public policy cost sharing and accessibility of students to higher education and developments in quality assurance The present volume aims at analysing the change process which the European university is undergoing as a consequence of European integration efforts In the case of higher education these have materialised amongst other things in the implementation of the Bologna process while the Lisbon summit also has important consequences for the university In March 2000 the Lisbon European Council set the goal for the EU to become the most competitive and dynamic knowledge based society in the world by 2010 International Organizations and Implementation Jutta Joachim, Bob Reinalda, Bertjan Verbeek, 2007-11-19 This edited volume assesses the impact of international organizations in the implementation of internationally agreed policies The Crisis of the University Peter Scott, 2018-10-11 Originally published in 1984 The Crisis of the University looks at the way in which changes to intellectual life relate to the development of the different institutions that make up higher education It examines the evolution of the liberal university that flourished in the 19th and early 20th centuries into the modern university that has grown up since 1945 It also looks at the more detailed experience of British higher education with separate chapters on what the Robbins expansion meant for the universities and why it was thought necessary to construct an alternative in the shape of the polytechnics Looking to the future the book argues first that the present structure of British higher education needs reform and speculates on the future intellectual and social demands that may be made of higher education Fabricating

Quality in Education Jenny Ozga, Peter Dahler-Larsen, Christina Segerholm, Hannu Simola, 2011-12-22 This book argues that data and their use constitute a form of governance of education. It highlights the ways in which education is steered and managed so that a European education policy space is fabricated through data which travel across national systems and which enter and restructure provision to make it measurable, comparable and governable. Student Engagement Handbook Elisabeth Dunne, Derfel Owen, 2013-11-05 This book highlights some of the national and global agendas and issues from emerging sectors to the meaning of student engagement for different stakeholders. It provides a backdrop to themes of student engagement as well as examples of innovative and inspiring means of engaging with students in practice, empowering them to take responsibility with. Routledge Library Editions: Higher Education Various, 2021-03-29 The volumes in this set, originally published between 1964 and 2002, draw together research by leading academics in the area of higher education and provide a rigorous examination of related key issues. The volume examines the concepts of learning, teaching, student experience and administration in relation to the higher education through the areas of business, sociology, education reforms, government, educational policy, business and religion, whilst also exploring the general principles and practices of higher education in various countries. This set will be of particular interest to students and practitioners of education, politics and sociology. Today's Guide to Educational Policy Joel Spring, 2021-04-12 In his latest book, Joel Spring covers major political, economic and social issues affecting US and global education policy today. Crafted to evoke classroom discussion, this book explores contemporary issues such as the pandemic, institutional racism, religious controversies, nationalism and immigration, increased reliance on online instruction, climate change, economics of education and the deep state in education. Giving students the opportunity to engage in critical thinking and explore the growing sense that US and global education is in distress and in need of fundamental transformation, this book forces readers to examine their own values and how they might apply this thinking to their own education policy and practice. Universities and Globalization Janice K. Currie, Janice Newson, 1998-08-18 In this volume, the contributors consider globalization as combining a market ideology with a corresponding material set of practices drawn from the world of business. Issues of managerialism, privatization and accountability, central values in business, have become central for universities and their administrators as well. The selections in the book help to illustrate the editors' contentions that globalization presents clear disadvantages as well as benefits and that its effect on higher education is neither likely to be uniform nor the outcomes inevitable.
