Geopolitical Traditions Critical Histories Of Century Of Political Thought:

Geopolitical Traditions David Atkinson, Klaus Dodds, 2002-09-26 Condemned as an intellectual poison by the late American geographer Richard Hartshorn, geopolitics has confounded its critics. Today it remains a popular and important intellectual field despite the persistent allegations that geopolitics helped to legitimate Hitler's policies of spatial expansionism and the domination of place. Using insights from critical geopolitics and cultural history, the contributors focus on how geopolitics has been created, negotiated and contested within a variety of intellectual and popular contexts. Geopolitical Traditions argues that geopolitics has to take responsibility for the past whilst at the same time reconceptualising geopolitics in a manner which accounts for the dramatic changes in the late twentieth century. The book is divided into three sections: firstly Re-thinking Geopolitical Histories concentrates on how geopolitical conversations between European scholars and the wider world unfolded; secondly Geopolitics, Nation and Spirituality considers how geopolitical writings have been strongly influenced by religious iconography and doctrine with examples drawn from Catholicism, Judaism and Hinduism; and thirdly Reclaiming and Refocusing Geopolitics contemplates how geopolitics has been reformulated in the post-war period with illustrations from France and the United States. Geopolitical Traditions brings together scholars working in a variety of disciplines and locations in order to explore a hundred years of geopolitical thought. Sanjay Chaturvedi, Punjab University, India; Paul Claval, Eaubonne, France; Michael J. Heffernan, Nottingham University, UK; Les Hepple, University of Bristol.

and the critical and postmodern theories to be considered a significant contribution to the field This book shows that critical international relations theories which are incomprehensible and challenging are easy and understandable The book analyzes the Frankfurt School constructivism post colonialism feminism critical geopolitics political economy Copenhagen School Aberystwyth School Paris School and Ontological security Critical Theories in International Relations argues that neither identity nor security can be considered a fixed and objective issue can change according to time and space and depend on historical and sociological factors Nothing is given for critical approaches and they are produced and reproduced in ever changing conditions that lead to new truths and meanings These are the results of reflexive and non linear interactions In this context it is made pedagogically understandable to the readers within this framework The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Political Geography John A. Agnew, Virginie Mamadouh, Anna Secor, Joanne Sharp, 2017-07-24 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Political Geography aims to account for the intellectual and worldly developments that have taken place in and around political geography in the last 10 years Bringing together established names in the field as well as new scholars it highlights provocative theoretical and conceptual debates on political geography from a range of global perspectives Discusses the latest developments and places increased emphasis on modes of thinking contested key concepts and on geopolitics climate change and terrorism Explores the influence of the practice based methods in geography and concepts including postcolonialism feminist geographies the notion of the Anthropocene and new understandings of the role of non human actors in networks of power Offers an accessible introduction to political geography for those in allied fields including political science international relations and sociology De-Centering Sexualities Richard Phillips, David Shuttleton, Diane Watt, 2005-08-19 This book of critical rural geography breaks new ground by drawing attention to sex and sexualities outside the metropolis It explores sexualities and sexual experiences in a variety of rural and marginal spaces with international contributions from a wide range of disciplines These include literary and cultural studies lesbian and gay studies geography history and law Among the topics uncovered are a lesbian in rural England sexual life in rural Wales sexuality in rural South Africa scandal in the American South sex race and politics nature and homosexuality in literature Derry Londonderry as a sexual space how country folk are sexualised in popular culture Thinking Space Mike Crang, Nigel Thrift, 2002-09-11 Thinking Space looks at a range of social theorists and asks what role space plays in their work what difference if any it makes to their concepts and what difference such an appreciation makes to the way we might think about space The Atlantic Realists Matthew Specter, 2022-02-08 In The Atlantic Realists intellectual historian Matthew Specter offers a boldly revisionist interpretation of realism a prevalent stance in post WWII US foreign policy and public discourse and the dominant international relations theory during the Cold War Challenging the common view of realism as a set of universally binding truths about international affairs Specter argues that its major features emerged from a century long dialogue between American and German intellectuals beginning in the late nineteenth century Specter

Strategy And Defense Policy For Small States: Problems And Prospects Bernard F W Loo, 2021-11-08 For students of Strategic Studies in small countries with limited financial human and military resources the available literature on Strategic Studies in particular texts that seek to explain the key concepts and components of Strategic Studies can be very alien in its focus to the strategic conditions and issues that these countries face This book contains a collection of essays that seeks to discuss key concepts in Strategic Studies as well as contemporary challenges in strategy and defence policy from the perspective of small states It is based on the idea derived from the German philosopher of war Carl von Clausewitz that there is a distinction between logic and grammar while the field of Strategic Studies contains a number of key concepts such as geopolitics and geostrategy strategic culture arms dynamics and the phenomenon of military modernization that are universal in logic the grammar that is the specific manifestations of these concepts in the contexts of small states is necessarily different from larger more materially endowed states Related Links

The Ashgate Research Companion to Critical Geopolitics Merje Kuus, 2016-04-01 Since the late 1980s critical geopolitics has gone from being a radical critical perspective on the disciplines of political geography and international relations theory to becoming a recognised area of research in its own right Influenced by poststructuralist concerns with the politics of representation critical geopolitics considers the ways in which the use of particular discourses shape political practices Initially critical geopolitics analysed the practical geopolitical language of the elites and intellectuals of statecraft Subsequent iterations have considered the role that popular representations of the international political world play As critical geopolitics has become a more established part of political geography it has attracted ever more critique from feminists for its apparent blindness to the embodied effects of geopolitical praxis and from those who have been uncomfortable about its textual focus while others have challenged critical geopolitics to address alternative resistant forms of geopolitical practice Again critical geopolitics has been reworked to incorporate these challenges and the latest iterations have encompassed normative agendas non representational theory emotional geographies and affect It is against the vibrant backdrop of this intellectual development of critical geopolitics as a subdiscipline that this Companion is set Bringing together leading researchers associated with the different forms of critical geopolitics this volume produces an overview of its achievements limitations and areas of new and potential future development The Companion is designed to serve as a key resource for an interdisciplinary group of scholars and practitioners interested in the spatiality of politics

International Relations and States of Exception Shampa Biswas, Sheila Nair, 2009-12-16 Critically but sympathetically interrogating Italian philosopher Giorgio Agamben's analysis of the logic of sovereign power this volume draws attention to the multiple zones of exclusion in and through which contemporary international politics constitutes itself Beginning from the margins and peripheries of world politics this book emphasises the colonial processes through which contemporary third world spaces of exception have been shaped and particular bodies made susceptible to the conditions of bare life The authors contend that these bodies inhabit a variety of spaces or zones of indistinction that include political detainees refugees asylum seekers poor migrants sweatshop workers and unassimilated indigenous populations These are the expendable bodies that the territorial and market driven logic of current international relations simultaneously produces polices and excludes Focussing on the locally and socio historically specific ways that sovereign power works the individual chapters provide the volume with a wide geographical reach Drawing on diverse approaches this text constitutes an important intervention in critical international relations providing grounded theory and

Gaile, Cort J. Geopolitics, Geography and Strategy Colin S. Gray, Geoffrey Sloan, 2014-01-14 Geopolitical conditions influence all strategic behaviour even when cooperation among different kinds of military power is expected as the norm action has to be planned and executed in specific physical environments The geographical world cannot be avoided and it happens to be organized into land sea air and space and possibly the electromagnetic spectrum including cyberspace Although the meaning of geography for strategy is a perpetual historical theme explicit theory on the subject is only one hundred years old Ideas about the implication of geographical especially spatial relationships for political power which is to say geopolitics flourished early in the twentieth century Divided into theory and practice sections this volume covers the big names such as Mackinder Mahan and Haushofer as well as looking back at the vital influence of weather and geography on naval power in the long age of sail sixteenth to nineteenth centuries It also looks forward to the consequences of the revival of geopolitics in post Soviet Russia and the new space based field of astropolitics

Spatiality, Sovereignty and Carl Schmitt Stephen Legg, 2011-05-17 The aim of this book is to bring together geographers and Schmitt experts who are attuned to the spatial dimensions of his work to discuss The Nomos of the Earth in the International Law of the Jus Publicum Europaeum Schmitt 1950 2003

Beyond Imperial Aesthetics Mayumo Inoue, Steve Choe, 2019-10-22 Observing that the division between theory and empiricism remains inextricably linked to imperial modernity manifest at the most basic level in the binary between the West and Asia the authors of this volume re-examine art and aesthetics to challenge these oppositions in order to reconceptualize politics and knowledge production in East Asia Current understandings of fundamental ideas like race nation colonizer and the colonized and the concept of Asia in the region are seeped with imperial aesthetics that originated from competing imperialisms operating in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Such aesthetics has sustained

both colonial and local modes of perception in the formation of nation states and expanded the reach of regulatory powers in East Asia since 1945 The twelve thought provoking essays in this collection tackle the problematics that arise at the nexus of aesthetics and politics in four areas theoretical issues of aesthetics and politics in East Asia aesthetics of affect and sexuality the productive tension between critical aesthetics and political movements and aesthetic critiques of sovereignty and neoliberalism in East Asia today If the seemingly universal operation of capital and militarism in East Asia requires locally specific definitions of biopolitical concepts to function smoothly this book critiques the circuit of power between the universalism of capital and particularism of nation and culture Treating aesthetic experiences in art at large as the bases for going beyond imperial categories the contributors present new modes of sensing thinking and living that have been unimaginable within the mainstream modality of Asian studies a discipline that has reproduced the colonial regime of knowledge production By doing so Beyond Imperial Aesthetics illuminates the aesthetic underside of critical theory to uncover alternative forms of political life in East Asia This much needed volume takes readers on an erudite and challenging journey Along the way its theoretically minded authors explore what a future liberated from the Cold War shackles of securitized institutions and capitalist exploitation as well as concomitant epistemologies of aestheticized domination might look like in East Asia Todd Henry UC San Diego Beyond Imperial Aesthetics is an impressive intervention between art politics and theoretical reflection in contemporary East Asia The project convincingly articulates various sites of resistance to the postwar US hegemon throughout East Asia The editors are to be congratulated for putting together such a timely and compelling work Richard Calichman City College of New York
