James Andrew Crutchfield

George Washington First In War First In Peace:

George Washington James A. Crutchfield, 2005-11 Between 1753 when he was commissioned as a major of Virginia militia and 1775 when the Second Continental Congress named him Commander in Chief of all colonial military forces George Washington rose from anonymity as a minor landowner and surveyor to become America's first national hero. With little military training he led the thirteen fledgling colonies through six years of grueling war against formidable British forces, steered the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia and served two terms as the first president of the United States. His accomplishments were so stunning and he was so revered that by the end of the war some of his generals urged him to install himself as king, an idea he looked upon with abhorrence, calling the very thought painful. Nor would he consider standing for a third term as president. In this revealing book James Crutchfield writes of Washington as an enigmatic man. No more elusive personality exists in history, as an eminent Harvard historian observed. His outward commonness concealed a quick analytic mind capable of learning from mistakes, gauging his successes not on winning battles but on the effect his decisions would have on the future of his country. Washington remains an American hero in every definition of the word. Crutchfield says: He was a man who rose above the political uncertainty of the infant United States to chart its destiny for two centuries into the future. Lend Me Your Ears William Safire, 1997 William Safire's invaluable and immensely entertaining Lend Me Your Ears established itself instantly as a classic treasury of the greatest speeches in human history. Selected with the instincts of a great speechwriter and language maven, arranged by theme and occasion, each deftly introduced and placed in context, the more than two hundred speeches in this compilation demonstrate the enduring power of human eloquence to inspire, to uplift, and to motivate. For this expanded edition Safire has selected more than twenty new speeches by such figures as President Bill Clinton, Senator Robert Dole, General Colin Powell, Microsoft's Bill Gates, the Dalai Lama, Edward R. Murrow, Alistair Cooke, the Buddha, and the late Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. They prove that even in a digital age the most forceful medium of communication is still the human voice speaking directly to the mind, heart, and soul. The Real George Washington Eric Braun, 2019 Finders and Founders of the New World James Albert Woodburn, Thomas Francis Moran, 1925 American Paintings in The Metropolitan Museum of Art.
