The Last Day James Landis, 2009-09-01 I meet Jesus on the day I get home from the war I'm on the beach but I don't know how I got here My mind is as dark as the night I spend the whole night on the beach But when the sun's faint light begins to bend around the Earth I see him There coming toward me out of the light is a man Behind the man a faint curtain of light rises to the sky out of the ocean He wears the light like a robe though I see he's dressed like me Jeans and a T shirt no shoes And that he's older than I am a lot older maybe mid thirties He walks right toward me He walks right into my eyes So begins the spellbinding story of Warren Harlan Pease a young U S Army sniper freshly returned from the Iraq War to his native New Hampshire What follows is a page turning adventure that is also a powerful meditation on religion and war love and loss The Last Day answers questions and asks many more Armed with a sniper's rifle and his deeply held faith Specialist Pease travels across ideological borders and earns an appreciation for his enemy's culture and for what connects us all as human beings War doesn't test your faith in Jesus Warren comes to realize It tests your faith in yourself Upon returning home he spends an entire day with Jesus visiting and contemplating his own life with fresh eyes and a willing heart He examines his relationship to those he loves and grapples with the pain he has been carrying inside since the death of his mother when he was just a boy This extraordinary work of compassion and healing grace combines the themes of religion war and poetry in a way that is wholly original and unforgettable It will resonate with skeptics and believers be shared and discussed between friends and among families
