George Herbert Heart In Pilgrimage:

George Herbert, Heart in Pilgrimage Kailash Kumar, 1988-01-01      Heart in Pilgrimage Jane Falloon, 2014 The poet George Herbert was born in 1593 and died just before his fortieth birthday in 1633 While an undergraduate at Cambridge he wrote to tell his mother that he had resolved that the poetry he wrote would always be consecrated to God's glory He wrote poetry throughout his life but we only know of it now because from his death bed he sent the manuscript of the collection of his poems known as The Temple to his friend Nicholas Ferrar of Little Gidding He asked him to bring that piece into the world if he thought good of it else to burn it Ferrar thought so highly of it that he said he could not sufficiently admire it as a rich Jewell and most worthy to be in the hands and hearts of all true Christians Within a few months of Herbert's death Ferrar had had the poems published and thirteen new editions were published during the next seventy years Today fewer people know Herbert's poetry Jane Falloon has written Heart in Pilgrimage because of her desire that it should be more widely read and appreciated by non academic lovers of literature New readers will be astonished by its accessibility his sentiments and humour are so modern and immediate they will find that poem after poem gives them a feeling of wonder delight recognition of genius sheer happiness and shock She has chosen twenty four of her favourite poems and has added to each of them her own appreciation and critical analysis combining her own commentary with that of such distinguished Herbert scholars as Helen Vendler Elizabeth Clarke T S Eliot Seamus Heaney and Dr Rowan Williams the Archbishop of Canterbury to whom the book is dedicated She has introduced this selection with chapters on the life of George Herbert and also of his friend Nicholas Ferrar without whose efforts these wonderful poems would have been lost to the world      THE "HEART IN PILGRIMAGE": A STUDY OF GEORGE HERBERT'S LIFE AND STYLE.. HERMINE JANTINE VAN NUIS, 1972

Every Word is Heart Deep: The Poetry of George Herbert Deborah Smith Douglas, 2001      Pilgrimage of the Heart Sister Benedicta Ward SLG, 2001 Fairacres Publications 137 From the earliest times pilgrimage has provided an image of the inner life of Christians In its external aspect it became an ever more popular form of devotion throughout the Middle Ages The two concepts were not simple alternatives for the several strands within each were constantly interwoven With a wealth of illustration Sister Benedicta Ward demonstrates that while countless Christians sought to improve their material lot by undertaking pilgrimages to the shrines of the saints they could also find in the monastic ideal the pattern for their own inner journey to the heavenly Jerusalem She shows finally how the two major conceptions of pilgrimage were given a new direction in the sixteenth century when in the wake of the Reformation which abolished the custom Lancelot Andrewes and John Bunyan would portray the Christian pilgrimage as life itself the end indeed death and the way the way of the cross This remains true for all of us who today go on pilgrimage in whatever guise but however severe and demanding the life of pilgrimage might be arrival at the goal is delight pleasure wonder and love      George Herbert's Pastoral Christopher Hodgkins, 2010 As poet and as country parson George Herbert engaged the pastoral in all of its varied senses In October of 2007 many of the world's leading Herbert scholars met at Sarum College in Salisbury England to locate Herbert's pastoral life and writings more particularly in early Stuart Wiltshire They explored the relations between the pastoral locale of Herbert's last years 1630-1633 in nearby Bemerton and the themes images and tenor of his writing How did the specific country place time and people shape the life and work of this especially lyrical country priest The fourteen essays in this collection address Herbert's pastoral poetry and practice cast new light on his actual relations with specific local personalities and places make fresh connections to the inward biblical and liturgical spaces of his work consider his outward links to garden and pasture and discover fictional and theological reverberations beyond Herbert's local pastoral world
