Georgia Vol 4:

Confederate Generals in the Western Theater, vol. 4 Lawrence Lee Hewitt, Thomas E. Schott, 2024-01-12 Like its predecessors the fourth and final volume of Confederate Generals in the Western Theater is an invaluable contribution to the historiography of a poorly understood theater of war presenting new interpretations of major figures while bringing to light both the triumphs and failures of lesser known generals Its cutting edge scholarship offers further grounding for the editors contention that the South s bid for independence was lost on its western battlefields and that the responsibility for those defeats lay more with the Confederate generals than with their opponents Among the ten chapters this collection includes C David Dalton on the death of Felix Zollicoffer at the Battle of Mill Springs in Kentucky Roger Durham on Robert E Lee s leadership early in the war of the Department of South Carolina Georgia and East Florida Brian S Wills on Abraham Buford s behind the scenes contributions to Nathan Bedford Forrest s famous exploits the late Nathaniel Cheairs Hughes Jr on the achievements and failings of Gideon J Pillow James M Prichard on John Hunt Morgan and his last Kentucky raid and Keith S Bohannon on Edward C Walthall a Virginia lawyer who overcame his lack of prior military experience to become one of the ablest generals in any of the war s theaters Some essays offer full biographies of their subjects others focus on a single campaign Along with the previous volumes this exemplary collection encourages an important rethinking of the course of the Civil War and its ultimate outcome Lawrence Lee Hewitt is professor of history emeritus at Southeastern Louisiana University He is the author of Port Hudson Confederate Bastion on the Mississippi among other publications and his honors include the 2013 Nevins Freeman Award for the advancement of American Civil War scholarship and support for the Round Table movement Thomas E Schott worked as a historian for the Department of Defense He is the author of Alexander H Stephens of Georgia A Biography which won the Jefferson Davis Award He is coeditor and contributor with Lawrence Hewitt of Lee and His Generals Essays in Honor of T Harry Williams as well as several volumes of Confederate Generals in the Western Theater and Confederate Generals in the Trans Mississippi Southern Literary Messenger ,1839 American Portrait Gallery John Livingston,1854 Boll Weevil Blues James C. Giesen,2012-08-01 Between the 1890s and the early 1920s the boll weevil slowly ate its way across the Cotton South from Texas to the Atlantic Ocean At the turn of the century some Texas counties were reporting crop losses of over 70 percent as were areas of Louisiana Arkansas and Mississippi By the time the boll weevil reached the limits of the cotton belt it had destroyed much of the region s chief cash crop tens of billions of pounds of cotton worth nearly a trillion dollars As staggering as these numbers may seem James C Giesen demonstrates that it was the very idea of the boll weevil and the struggle over its meanings that most profoundly changed the South as different groups from policymakers to blues singers projected onto this natural disaster the consequences they feared and the outcomes they sought Giesen asks how the myth of the boll weevil s lasting impact helped obscure the real problems of the region those caused not by insects but by landowning patterns antiquated credit systems white supremacist ideology and declining soil fertility Boll Weevil Blues brings together these cultural environmental and agricultural narratives in a novel and important way that allows us to reconsider the making of the modern American South     African American Southerners in Slavery, Civil War and Reconstruction Claude H. Nolen,2005-08-29 This work documents the many roles filled by Southern blacks in the last decades of slavery the Civil War years and the following period of Reconstruction African Americans suffered and resisted bondage in virtually every aspect of their lives but persevered through centuries of brutality to their present place at the center of American life Utilizing statements made by former slaves and other sources close to them the author takes a close look at the culture and lifestyle of this proud people in the final decades of slavery their experiences of being in the military and fighting in the Civil War and the active role taken by the Southern blacks during Reconstruction     The Cambridge History of American Literature ,1917     In My Father's House Are Many Mansions Orville Vernon Burton,2000-11-09 Burton traces the evolution of Edgefield County from the antebellum period through Reconstruction and beyond From amassed information on every household in this large rural community he tests the many generalizations about southern black and white families of this period and finds that they were strikingly similar Wealth rather than race or class was the main factor that influenced family structure and the matriarchal family was but a myth

Within the Plantation Household Elizabeth Fox-Genovese,2000-11-09 Documenting the difficult class relations between women slaveholders and slave women this study shows how class and race as well as gender shaped women s experiences and determined their identities Drawing upon massive research in diaries letters memoirs and oral histories the author argues that the lives of antebellum southern women enslaved and free differed fundamentally from those of northern women and that it is not possible to understand antebellum southern women by applying models derived from New England sources     Unburdened by Conscience Anthony W. Neal,2010 This book argues that influential historians have been unable to offer a complete account of ante bellum era American slavery because of their preoccupation with humanizing the slaveholders Neal skillfully weaves together candid first hand accounts of courageous ex slaves permitting readers to see slavery in the United States from their point of view     Revised Record of the Constitutional Convention of the State this resource very useful in continuing to trace their own lineages      Never for Want of Powder C. L. Bragg, 2007 Lavishly illustrated with seventy four color plates and fifty black and white photographs and drawings Never for Want of Powder tells the story of a world class munitions factory constructed by the Confederacy in 1861 the only large scale permanent building project undertaken by a government often characterized as lacking modern industrial values In this comprehensive examination of the powder works five scholars a historian physicist curator architectural historian and biographer bring their combined expertise to the task of chronicling gunpowder production during the Civil War In doing so they make a major contribution to understanding the history of wartime technology and Confederate ingenuity Early in the war President Jefferson Davis realized the Confederacy's need to supply its own gunpowder Accordingly Davis selected Col George Washington Rains to build a gunpowder factory An engineer and West Point graduate Rains relied primarily on a written pamphlet rather than on practical experience in building the powder mill yet he succeeded in designing a model of efficiency and safety He sited the facilities at Augusta Georgia because of the city's central location canal transportation access to water power railroad facilities and relative security from attack As much a story of people as of machinery Never for Want of Powder recounts the ingenuity of the individuals involved with the project A cadre of talented subordinates including Frederick Wright C Shaler Smith William Pendleton and Isadore P Girardey assisted Rains to a degree not previously appreciated by historians This volume also documents the coordinated outflow of gunpowder and ammunition and Rains's difficulty in preparing for the defense of Augusta Today a lone chimney along the Savannah River stands as the only reminder of the munitions facility that once occupied that site With its detailed reproductions of architectural and mechanical schematics and its expansive vista on the Confederacy Never for Want of Powder restores the Augusta Powder Works to its rightful place in American lore      Report of Cases Decided in the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia Georgia.
