Georgian Language and Culture Howard Isaac Aronson, Dodona Kiziria, 1999      Current Trends in Caucasian, East European, and Inner Asian Linguistics Dee Ann Holisky, Kevin Tuite, 2003-01-01 This volume is a collection of seventeen papers on languages of all three indigenous Caucasian families as well as other languages spoken in the territory of the former Soviet Union Several papers are concerned with diachronic questions either within individual families or at deeper time depths Some authors utilize their field data to address problems of general linguistic interest such as reflexivization A number of papers look at the evidence for contact induced change in multilingual areas Some of the most exciting contributions to the collection represent significant advances in the reconstruction of the prehistory of such understudied language families as Northeast Caucasian Tungusic and the baffling isolate Ket This book will be of interest not only to specialists in the indigenous languages of the former USSR but also to historical and synchronic linguists seeking to familiarize themselves with the fascinating typologically diverse languages from the interior of the Eurasian continent Dee Ann Holisky is Professor of English and Linguistics and Associate Dean for Academic Programs of the College of Arts Montreal ditions Fides 2003      Ethnography and Folklore of the Georgia-Chechnya Border Shorena Kurtsikidze, Vaxtang Č'ik'ovani, 2008      REEIFication ,2005      Indiana Slavic Studies ,2002      Of All the Slavs My Favorites Victor A. Friedman, Donald Leroy Dyer, 2001      The Bill Question Bill J. Darden, Howard Isaac Aronson, 2006      Catalogue Number. Course Catalog Anonymous, 2025-08-11 Reprint of the original first published in 1876 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage      Implementation of Helsinki Final Act, June 1, 1981 - November 30, 1981 ,1981      Conflict Areas in the Caucasus and Central Asia Arda Özkan, Göktürk Tüysüzoglu, 2022-01-25 The Caucasus region and Central Asia covers a large part of the Eurasian Both regions where Russia and China have a serious influence and visibility also have a location that reflects the hegemonic expectations of both these actors In this context domestic political developments and even internal conflicts in the region can be linked to the policies of Russia and China to a certain extent and have the potential to affect the motives of these two powers Although Central Asia is rich in natural resources it is landlocked and has lagged other nations in terms of agricultural production and industrial development Although the Caucasus is divided into the North the territory of Russia and the South where three independent states are located it is insufficient in terms of production and development The Caucasus stands out especially with energy projects and its feature of being a commercial corridor      Cultural Encounters and Emergent Practices in Conflict Resolution Capacity-Building Tamra Pearson d'Estrée, Ruth J. Parsons, 2018-05-31 Undoubtedly the most comprehensive analysis of the role of culture and emergent practices in capacity building currently at hand d'Estrée and Parsons have produced a commendable amalgamation and scrutiny of local cultural and Indigenous mediation practices in a number of

contexts that empower local people while interacting and integrating with Western mediation models in a blend of hybridity. The book is beautifully structured and will attract a wide readership including graduate and undergraduate students. Sean Byrne, Director, Arthur V Mauro Centre for Peace Justice and Professor, Peace Conflict Studies, University of Manitoba, Canada. Since the late 1990s, the conflict resolution field has recognized the need to integrate culture in its processes. This book goes beyond such theoretical recognition and provides empirical evidence and solid concrete cases on how local actors from a wide range of cultural contexts integrated their cultural analysis and tools in their own sustainable conflict resolution processes. It also offers an effective set of guidelines and lessons learned for policy makers and peacebuilding practitioners on the need to deepen their reliance on local cultural practices of peace. Mohammed Abu Nimer, Professor of International Peace and Conflict Resolution, School of International Service, American University, and Founder and Director of the Salam Peacebuilding and Justice Institute in Washington DC, USA. The evolving identities of communities impacted by deep historical divisions and population migration in the context of life-threatening resource shortages present opportunities and challenges for conflict transformation professionals at every level. D Estr e and Parsons respond to this challenge with a remarkable collection of stories from around the world that amplify the innovation in the field while capturing its history and complexity. It serves as the bridge between mediation and peacebuilding that is so necessary today. Prabha Sankaranarayan, CEO, Mediators Beyond Borders International. In this excellent book, Tamra Pearson, D Estr e and Ruth Parsons, and their impressive collection of case study authors have analysed four generations of conflict resolution transformation theory and practice. They highlight the diverse ways in which the burgeoning field of conflict resolution theorists and practitioners mirrored the ascendance and now decline of the neo-liberal western project. First and second generation efforts were based on notions of possessive individualism, rational choice theory, and a general acceptance of the status quo. Culture was ignored or eliminated as were deeper questions of political and social inequality. But more importantly, there was an unwillingness to consider the power and the wisdom that resided in locality. Third and fourth generation conflict transformers, on the other hand, have engaged these deeper questions and focused more attention on emancipatory, creative partnerships, social and economic justice, co-learning, and hybridised models flowing from external engagement with local wisdom. This is a book that needs to be read by anyone interested in the transformative power of conflict resolution and long-term social and political change. Kevin P Clements, Professor, Chair and Foundation Director, The National Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies, University of Otago, New Zealand. While waves of scholarship have focused either on the value of presumed universal models or of traditional practices of conflict resolution, curiously missing has been the recognition and analysis of the actual intermingling and interacting of western and local cultural practices that have produced new and emergent practices in our global community. In this compilation of case studies, the authors describe partnerships forged between local practice expertise and bearers of western institutional models to build innovative approaches to mediation and conflict resolution.

Including stories of these experiences and the resulting hybrid models that emerged the book explores central questions of cultural variation and integration such as the perception of purpose and function of resolution processes attitudes toward conflict arenas and timeframes third party roles barriers to process use as well as how to remain true to culture and context It also examines partnership dynamics and lessons learned for modern cross cultural collaboration Teaching Classics Worldwide Steven Hunt, John Bulwer, 2025-02-06 Designed for instructors in schools and universities as well as stakeholders and policy makers in education everywhere this book is a systematic guide to contemporary school teaching of classical languages literature and civilisation in major countries across the world This book examines the trends and assesses the rationale for such diversity in programmes of study and asks the question What are classical subjects for in today s schools Each chapter is arranged by geographical area and draws on the experiences of teachers and other education experts in each country commenting on contemporary practices Themes such as the impact of national education policies enrolment assessment accessibility and inclusion are discussed The teaching of Classics has wide variations in practices and purposes from one education system to another in some the teaching of Classics continues to be focused on the mastery of language and grammar in others active use of the ancient languages is growing in popularity and yet in others the focus is shifting towards the study of the languages and civilisations in translation Presenting an overview survey and comparison of practices across the world this book is essential reading for instructors and teaching training courses in the world of classical education

Fiction from Georgia Elizabeth Heighway, 2012-05-25 Spanning fifty years but with a particular emphasis on post independence fiction this collection features a diverse range of styles and voices offering a window onto a vibrant literary scene that has been largely inaccessible to the English language reader until now With stories addressing subjects as diverse as blood feuds betrayal sex drugs and Sergio Leone it promises to challenge any existing preconceptions the reader might hold and make available a rich and varied literary tradition unjustly overshadowed by the other ex Soviet republics until now

The Anticolonial Linguistics of Nikolai Marr Matthew Carson Allen, Robert Young, 2024-11-08 The archaeologist philologist and Linguistics theoretician Nikolai Marr 1865 1934 has attracted increasing scholarly attention as a pivotal figure of late tsarist and early Soviet cultural politics and as an early anticolonial theorist He remains however an elusive thinker who is much written about but seldom read This volume offers a representative selection of Marr s writing from several stages of his life translated here for the first time into English The selection of texts allows the reader to trace the key evolving and interconnected preoccupations that animate Marr s vast oeuvre his anti nationalist valorization of the cultural and linguistic hybridity of the Caucasus his denunciation of the imperialist complicity of Western European comparative linguistics his anti Darwinian emphasis on mixture and convergence in place of filial descent within the history of languages and his unorthodox theories of linguistic origins in gesture rather than speech Key Marrist terms such as Japhetidology or the rejection of the prevalent theory of an Indo European language family are clarified The volume contains original essays that contextualize Marr's work within the history of linguistics showing the indebtedness and applicability of his ideas to traditions that are frequently held to be unrelated to one another Russian proto structuralism French deconstruction and Indian subaltern thought This book was originally published as a special issue of Interventions International Journal of Postcolonial Studies Nested Nationalism Krista A. Goff, 2021-01-15 Nested Nationalism is a study of the politics and practices of managing national minority identifications rights and communities in the Soviet Union and the personal and political consequences of such efforts Titular nationalities that had republics named after them in the USSR were comparatively privileged within the boundaries of their republics but they still often chafed both at Moscow's influence over republican affairs and at broader Russian hegemony across the Soviet Union Meanwhile members of nontitular communities frequently complained that nationalist republican leaders sought to build titular nations on the back of minority assimilation and erasure Drawing on extensive archival and oral history research conducted in Armenia Azerbaijan Dagestan Georgia and Moscow Krista A Goff argues that Soviet nationality policies produced recursive nested relationships between majority and minority nationalisms and national identifications in the USSR Goff pays particular attention to how these asymmetries of power played out in minority communities following them from Azerbaijan to Georgia Dagestan and Iran in pursuit of the national ideas identifications and histories that were layered across internal and international borders What mechanisms supported cultural development and minority identifications in communities subjected to assimilationist politics How did separatist movements coalesce among nontitular minority activists And how does this historicization help us to understand the tenuous space occupied by minorities in nationalizing states across contemporary Eurasia Ranging from the early days of Soviet power to post Soviet ethnic conflicts Nested Nationalism explains how Soviet era experiences and policies continue to shape interethnic relationships and expectations today

Unveiling Discrimination: Minorities in Türkiye Elçin Aktoprak, 2024-04-29 This report provides a summary of key legislation in Türkiye and identifies systemic discrimination both in the drafting of law and its implementation or lack thereof The report covers important minority rights including the right to freedom of religion or belief the right to political affiliation and representation and right to language The report argues that discrimination against minorities in Türkiye is a structural problem grounded on historical and current forms of Turkish nationalism Turkish nationalism the author maintains negatively affects minorities across several rights and is in turn exacerbated by intersectional forms of discrimination Insights into the nature of systemic discrimination in Türkiye include limited legal protection and gaps between legislation and enforcement as well as ineffective institutional mechanisms Offering a general account of structural discrimination faced by a number of ethnic linguistic and religious minorities in Türkiye this report also outlines a series of important recommendations to government international organisations and civil society Finally the author outlines the impact of recent earthquake disasters on minority communities in Türkiye Highlighting the discriminatory attitudes and practices faced by minorities during the most recent earthquake in February 2023 the author argues that disaster management policy in Turkey exacerbates vulnerability among Roma communities and LGBTQI persons especially
