This review discusses four separate books concerning the work of Dutch artist Gerard Caris. Two of the books, with soft covers, are catalogues with essays. They also have colour and black & white reproductions of Caris' drawings, relief structures and 3D sculptures, these have been associated with exhibitions of his work at the Stedelijk Museum Amsterdam (SMA).

The third book, Kunst und Mathematik (Art & Mathematics) has a hard cover and is a catalogue of his exhibition at the Wilhelm-Hack-Museum in 1991.

The fourth book, the thickest at 160 pages, again with hard cover, and if selected singularly, perhaps the most important, or at least most comprehensive, is entitled Pentagonismus (Pentagonism). This book has six essays by leading art scholars and high quality images of Caris' work. It is supported by ZKM Museum (Centre for Art and Media Technology) in Karlsruhe Germany and is edited by G. Jansen & P. Weibel. This title is the same as the soft cover (SMA) catalogue which actually presents more examples of Caris' artwork.
