Lepage, 2009-03-23 One of the most significant innovations in modern warfare has been the appearance and development of air power a technology which demanded technical and financial investment on a whole new scale and which ultimately changed the fundamental nature of war itself This book covers the history and development of the German air force from 1935 to 1945 with descriptions and illustrations of almost all of the Luftwaffe s airplanes including fighters jet fighters dive bombers ground attackers medium and heavy bombers jet bombers seaplanes flying boats and carrier planes transport and gliders reconnaissance and training aircrafts helicopters and many futuristic projects and other rarities

The Jet Race and the Second World War S. Mike Pavelec, 2007-02-28 In the 1930s as nations braced for war the German military build up caught Britain and the United States off guard particularly in aviation technology The unending quest for speed resulted in the need for radical alternatives to piston engines In Germany Dr Hans von Ohain was the first to complete a flight worthy turbojet engine for aircraft It was installed in a Heinkel designed aircraft and the Germans began the jet age on August 27 1939 The Germans led the jet race throughout the war and were the first to produce jet aircraft for combat operations In England the doggedly determined Frank Whittle also developed a turbojet engine but without the support enjoyed by his German counterpart The British came second in the jet race when Whittle s engine powered the Gloster Pioneer on May 15 1941 The Whittle Gloster relationship continued and produced the only Allied combat jet aircraft during the war the Meteor which was relegated to Home Defense in Britain In America General Electric copied the Whittle designs and Bell Aircraft contracted to build the first American jet plane On October 1 1942 a lackluster performance from the Bell Airacomet ushered in the American jet age The Yanks forged ahead and had numerous engine and airframe programs in development by the end of the war But the Germans did it right and did it first while the Allies lagged throughout the war only rising to technological prominence on the ashes of the German defeat Pavelec s analysis of the jet race uncovers all the excitement in the high stakes race to develop effective jet engines for warfare and transport

The Race for Hitler's X-Planes John Christopher, 2012-10-01. During World War 2 Hitler's engineers had pioneered an incredible array of futuristic secret weapons from the Me 262 the first operational jet fighter to the deadly V2 inter continental ballistic missile. With the Third Reich shattered and lying in ruins in the summer of 1945 the Allies launched a frantic race to grab what they saw as the justifiable spoils of war. The Americans and Russians in particular were anxious to secure not only the aircraft and the research and production facilities but also the key German scientists and engineers. This Nazi technology would define the balance of power in the phoney peace of the Cold War era launching an arms race that shaped our modern world for decades to come. But what of Britain's role in this supermarket sweep? The Race for Hitler's X Planes tells the untold story of the British mission to Germany.

The Savage Storm James Holland, 2023-12-12. Acclaimed WWII historian James Holland both narrates and reframes the controversial first months of the Italian Campaign and sets a new standard in the chronicling of war. Following victory in Sicily while the central command planned the spring 1944 invasion of France Allied troops crossed into southern Italy in September 1943 expecting to drive Axis forces north and liberate Rome by Christmas. Italy quickly surrendered but German divisions fiercely resisted and the hoped for quick victory descended into one of the most challenging and protracted battles of the entire war. James Holland's The Savage Storm chronicling the dramatic opening months of the Italian Campaign in unflinching and insightful detail is unlike any campaign history yet written. Holland has always narrated war at ground level but here goes further by chronicling events almost entirely through the contemporary eyes of those who were there on all sides and at all levels. Allied Axis civilians alike. Weaving together a wealth of letters diaries and other documents from the likes of American General Mark Clark German battalion commander Georg Zellner New Zealand lance corporal Roger Smith legendary war reporter Ernie Pyle and Italian politician Filippo Caracciolo Holland traces the battles as they were experienced across plains over mountains through shattered villages and cities in intense heat and towards the end of December 1943 frigid cold and relentless rain. Such close up views persuade Holland to recast important aspects of the campaign reappraising the reputation of Mark Clark himself and other senior commanders of the U S Fifth and British Eighth armies. Given the shortage of Allied shipping and materiel allocated to Italy because of the build up for D Day more was expected of Allied troops in Italy than anywhere else and as accounts at the time attest a huge price was paid by everyone for each bloodily contested mile. Putting readers vividly in the moment as events unfolded with characters
