German Romantic Prints and Drawings Giulia Bartrum, British Museum, 2011 The nineteenth century saw the Napoleonic Wars bring about an end to the traditional art market in Germany thereby leaving the artists with an opportunity to establish a new identity Artists such as Schnorr von Carolsfeld and Peter Cornelius retreated to the techniques and values of the Renaissance and medieval periods when art had been more concerned with simplicity and embodying spiritual values This stunning book of prints and drawings taken from an English private collection explores the German romantic movement and how artists such as Friedrich Overbeck drew on the style of his illustrious predecessors Dürer and Raphael to create celebrated works such as Italia and Germania which epitomizes the mood of this era The recently invented lithography technique features heavily among the most noteworthy examples from this era as does a new deeper interest in German landscape Over one hundred items are reproduced and discussed in this superb selection of German prints and drawings from the years between the abolition of the Holy Roman Empire 1806 and German unification 1871 including the greatest and rarest of German romantic prints The Four Times of Day by Philipp Otto Runge Palestrina and the German Romantic Imagination James Garratt, 2002-07-18 Focusing on the reception of Palestrina this bold interdisciplinary study explains how and why the works of a sixteenth century composer came to be viewed as a paradigm for modern church music It explores the diverse ways in which later composers responded to his works and style and expounds a provocative model for interpreting compositional historicism In addition to presenting insights into the works of Bruckner Mendelssohn and Liszt

the book offers fresh perspectives on the institutional aesthetic and ideological frameworks sustaining the cultivation of choral music in this period This publication provides an overview and analysis of the relation between the Palestrina revival and nineteenth century composition and it demonstrates that the Palestrina revival was just as significant for nineteenth century culture as parallel movements in the other arts such as the Gothic revival

Aesthetic Vision and German Romanticism Brad Prager, 2007 Crosses disciplinary boundaries to explore German Romantic writing about visual experience and the interplay of text and image in Romantic epistemology The work of the groundbreaking writers and artists of German Romanticism including the writers Tieck Brentano and Eichendorff and the artists Caspar David Friedrich and Philipp Otto Runge followed from the philosophical arguments of the German Idealists who placed emphasis on exploring the subjective space of the imagination The Romantic perspective was a form of engagement with Idealist discourses especially Kant's Critique of Pure Reason and Fichte's Science of Knowledge Through an aggressive speculative reading of Kant the Romantics abandoned the binary distinction between the palpable outer world and the ungraspable space of the mind's eye and were therefore compelled to develop new terms for understanding the distinction between internal and external In this light Brad Prager urges a reassessment of some of Romanticism's major oppositional tropes contending that binaries such as self and other symbol and allegory and light and dark should be understood as alternatives to Lessing's distinction between interior and exterior worlds Prager thus crosses the boundaries between philosophy literature and art history to explore German Romantic writing about visual experience examining the interplay of text and image in the formulation of Romantic epistemology Brad Prager is Associate Professor of German at the University of Missouri Columbia

Angela Dalle Vacche, 1996 The visual image is the common denominator of cinema and painting and indeed many filmmakers have used the imagery of paintings to shape or enrich the meaning of their films In this discerning new approach to cinema studies Angela Dalle Vacche discusses how the use of pictorial sources in film enables eight filmmakers to comment on the interplay between the arts on the dialectic of word and image on the relationship between artistic creativity and sexual difference and on the tension between tradition and modernity Specifically Dalle Vacche explores Jean Luc Godard's iconophobia Pierrot Le Fou and Andrei Tarkovsky's iconophilia Andrei Rublev Kenji Mizoguchi's split allegiances between East and West Five Women around Utamaro Michelangelo Antonioni's melodramatic sensibility Red Desert Eric Rohmer's project to convey interiority through images The Marquise of O F W Murnau's debt to Romantic landscape painting Nosferatu Vincente Minnelli's affinities with American Abstract Expressionism An American in Paris and Alain Cavalier's use of still life and the close up to explore the realms of mysticism and femininity Th r se While addressing issues of influence and intentionality Dalle Vacche concludes that intertextuality is central to an appreciation of the dialogical nature of the filmic medium which in appropriating or rejecting art history defines itself in relation to national traditions and broadly shared visual cultures

Painting the Sacred in the Age of Romanticism Cordula Grewe, 2017-07-05 After a century of Rationalist scepticism and political upheaval the nineteenth century awakened to a fierce battle between the forces of secularization and the crusaders of a Christian revival From this battlefield arose an art movement that would become the torchbearer of a new religious art Nazarenism From its inception in the Lukasbund of 1809 this art was controversial It nonetheless succeeded in becoming a lingua franca in religious circles throughout Europe America and the world at large This is the first major study of the evolution structure and conceptual complexity of this archetypically nineteenth century language of belief The Nazarene quest for a modern religious idiom evolved around a return to pre modern forms of biblical exegesis and the adaptation of traditional systems of iconography Reflecting the era s historicist sensibility as much as the general revival of orthodoxy in the various Christian denominations the Nazarenes responded with great acumen to pressing contemporary concerns Consequently the artists did not simply revive Christian iconography but rather reconceptualized what it could do and say This creativity and flexibility enabled them to intervene forcefully in key debates of post revolutionary European society the function of eroticism in a Christian life the role of women and the social question devotional practice and the nature of the Church childhood education and bible study and the burning issue of anti Judaism and modern anti Semitism What makes Nazarene art essentially Romantic is the meditation on the conditions of art making inscribed into their appropriation and reinvention of artistic tradition Far from being a reactionary move this self reflexivity expresses the modernity of Nazarene art This study explores Nazarenism in a series of detailed excavations of central works in the Nazarene corpus produced between 1808 and the 1860s The result is a book about the possibility of religious meanin
