Electronic Media and Indigenous Peoples Donald R. Browne, 1996 As changing technologies open up additional channels of communication around the world alternative voices are demanding to be heard Electronic Media and Indigenous Peoples provides the first guide to the efforts of indigenous peoples to present themselves on radio television and audio and videocassettes Based largely on field research the book documents the program making of the Welsh in Wales Irish speakers in Ireland Native Americans in the United States and Canada Sami in Scandinavia Aboriginals in Australia Maori in New Zealand Basque in France and many others ELECTRONIC media and indigenous peoples Donald R. Browne, 1996

Sámi Media and Indigenous Agency in the Arctic North Coppélie Cocq Gelfgren, Thomas A. DuBois, 2020-01-09 Digital media GIFs films TED Talks tweets and more have become integral to daily life and unsurprisingly to Indigenous people s strategies for addressing the historical and ongoing effects of colonization In Sámi Media and Indigenous Agency in the Arctic North Thomas DuBois and Coppélie Cocq examine how Sámi people of Norway Finland and Sweden use media to advance a social cultural and political agenda anchored in notions of cultural continuity and self determination Beginning in the 1970s Sámi have used Sámi language media including commercially produced musical recordings feature and documentary films books of literature and poetry and magazines to communicate a sense of identity both within the Sámi community and within broader Nordic and international arenas In more contemporary contexts from YouTube music videos that combine rock and joik a traditional Sámi musical genre to Twitter hashtags that publicize protests against mining projects in Sámi lands Sámi activists artists and cultural workers have used the media to undo layers of ignorance surrounding Sámi livelihoods and rights to self determination Downloadable songs music festivals films videos social media posts images and tweets are just some of the diverse media through which Sámi activists transform how Nordic majority populations view and understand Sámi minority communities and more globally how modern states regard and treat Indigenous populations

Social Media and Minority Languages Elin Haf Gruffydd Jones, Enrique Uribe-Jongbloed, 2013-02-22 As a field in its own right Minority Language Media studies is developing fast The recent technological and social developments that have accelerated media convergence and opened new ways of access and exchange into spaces formerly controlled by media institutions offer new opportunities challenges and dangers to minority languages and especially to their already established media institutions This book includes debates on what convergence and participation actually mean a series of case studies of specific social media developments in minority language as well as comparative studies on how the cultural industries have engaged with the new possibilities brought about by media convergence Finally the book also offers a historical review of the development of Minority Language Media worldwide and evidences the areas in which more extensive research is required Community Media Linda K. Fuller, 2007-06-11 Drawing on case studies this collection offers international perspectives on how community media serves their audiences The contributors present perspectives on the ever burgeoning area of grassroots Their research represents participant observation hands on community involvement boards of directors content analysis and ethical inquiries Encyclopedia of journalism. 6. Appendices Christopher H. Sterling,2009-09-25 The six volume Encyclopedia of Journalism covers all significant dimensions of journalism including print broadcast and Internet journalism US and international perspectives history technology legal issues and court cases ownership and economics

The Power of Global Community Media Linda K. Fuller,2016-04-30 Drawing on both theoretical and practical case studies this collection moves from developing attempts at local media to case studies and on to cyber examples The contributors all distinguished international communications scholars present a range of perspectives on the ever burgeoning area of grassroots local media

Minority Language Media Miren Manias-Muñoz,Sergiusz Bober,Craig Willis,2025-08-05 This book provides an overview of the current state of minority language media from policy formulation to practice in various contexts around the world In the same line it presents the main challenges and new opportunities in view of digitalization and the influence of new media providing a complete and useful perspective on the topic The authors seek to broaden discussion and share knowledge on language equality language diversity regulatory framework digitalization academic work public broadcasting kin state and sustainable communication from a minority language media perspective This volume answers some of the most relevant current questions within the field of study and it will be of use to university lectures students policymakers research centers public and private observatories advisory committees business professionals media practitioners journalists and media managers

Minority Language Media Michael J. Cormack,Niamh Hourigan,2007-01-01 This book is an international collection of essays by 14 researchers Included are essays on general topics on minority language media as well as studies of specific examples The contributors are all experienced researchers in this field Taken as a whole the book is the first attempt to define and develop minority language media as a distinct field of study

Manual of Romance Languages in the Media Kristina Bedijs,Christiane Maaß,2017-09-25 This manual provides an extensive overview of the importance and use of Romance languages in the media both in a diachronic and synchronic perspective Its chapters discuss language in television and the new media the language of advertising or special cases such as translation platforms or subtitling Separate chapters are dedicated to minority languages and smaller varieties such as Galician and Picard and to methodological approaches such as linguistic discourse analysis and writing process research

The Handbook of Ethnic Media in Canada Daniel Ahadi,Sherry S. Yu,Ahmed Al-Rawi,2023-12-15 Ethnic minority groups in Canada have set up their own communication infrastructure that has evolved over time from the analog to the digital age and continues to remain relevant across generations Offering a reassessment of contemporary media outlets The Handbook of Ethnic Media in Canada asks how ethnic media have changed why they continue to be relevant and what impact this media sector has on ethnocultural communities as well as broader society Building on past studies that highlight particular functions of ethnic media publishing information that is vital to settlement and civic engagement and providing an alternative to mainstream media among others this volume generates insights on new dynamics of the ethnic media sector that are prevalent in the digital age Contributors re examine theoretical and methodological approaches to ethnic media research explore the practices of ethnic media along cultural linguistic and religious lines and interrogate the policies that affect ethnic media production and consumption At its core the question of how Canadians engage with ethnic media is a question about what this media sector means for the sociocultural economic and political integration of Canadians both majority and minority and Canada s race relations The Handbook of Ethnic Media in Canada provides a rich resource for anyone concerned about the role media plays in the complex relationship between ethnicity race belonging and marginality

Eating Traditional Food Brigitte Sebastia,2016-11-18 Due to its centrality in human activities food is a meaningful object that necessarily participates in any cultural social and ideological construction and its qualification as traditional is a politically laden value This book demonstrates that traditionality as attributed to foods goes beyond the notions of heritage and authenticity under which it is commonly formulated Through a series of case studies from a global range of cultural and geographical areas the book explores a variety of contexts to reveal the complexity behind the attribution of the term traditional to food. In particular, the volume demonstrates that the definitions put forward by programmes such as TRUEFOOD and EuroFIR and subsequently adopted by organisations including FAO which have analysed the perception of traditional foods by individuals do not adequately reflect this complexity. The concept of tradition being deeply ingrained culturally, socially, politically and ideologically, traditional foods resist any single definition. Chapters analyse the processes of valorisation, instrumentalisation and reinvention at stake in the construction and representation of a food as traditional. Overall, the book offers fresh perspectives on topics including definition and regulation, nationalism and identity, and health and nutrition, and will be of interest to students and researchers of many disciplines including anthropology, sociology, politics and cultural studies.

The Routledge Handbook of Endangered and Minority Languages Weixiao Wei, James Schnell, 2025-02-20. The Routledge Handbook of Endangered and Minority Languages addresses the urgent need for comprehensive language documentation and a deeper understanding of language identity, emphasizing the preservation of endangered languages. This book argues that safeguarding linguistic diversity enriches global cultural heritage and knowledge. By meticulously documenting minority languages, we not only preserve words and grammar but also the unique cultural narratives they carry. The book also introduces new language learning paradigms that recognize the complexities of multilingual societies, advocating for educational systems that embrace the diverse linguistic backgrounds of students. These approaches aim to create more inclusive and effective learning environments by valuing multilingualism. Exploring the fluid nature of language identity, the book examines how sociopolitical contexts and technology influence it, calling for policies that respect linguistic rights and promote social cohesion. It presents case studies from diverse regions including the Pacific, Nordic countries, Cornwall, Pakistan, the UAE, and more, offering practical strategies for language preservation and revitalization. Groundbreaking insights into the use of digital tools, social media, and AI in language preservation, along with the challenges and successes of various revitalization efforts, make this book a valuable resource for researchers, educators, and policymakers committed to fostering linguistic diversity and equity worldwide.

Documentary Screens Keith Beattie, 2017-04-29. Documentary productions encompass remarkable representations of surprising realities. How do documentaries achieve their ends? What types of documentaries are there? What factors are implicated in their production? Such questions animate this engaging study. Documentary Screens is a comprehensive and critical study of the formal features and histories of central categories of documentary film and television. Among the categories examined are autobiographical, indigenous, and ethnographic, documentary compilation, films direct cinema, and cinema verité, and television documentary journalism. The book also considers recent so-called popular factual entertainment and the future of documentary film, television, and new media. This provocative and accessible analysis situates wide-ranging examples from each category within the larger material forces which impact on documentary form and content. The important connection between form content and context explored in the book constitutes a new and lively documentary studies approach to documentary representation

Media and Ethnic Identity Ritva Levo-Henriksson, 2007-11-21 Media and Ethnic Identity carries a Native American perspective to media and its role in ethnic identity construction This perspective is gained through a case study of the Hopis who live in northeast Arizona and are known for their devotion to their indigenous culture The research data is built on a number of interviews with Hopis of a variety of ages from nine villages The study also makes use of the results of a survey of a large number of students in the Hopi Jr Sr High School The framework for examining the research data is intercultural communication both interpersonal and media mediated between an indigenous group and a majority from the viewpoint of the indigenous group This book provides tools for understanding the experiences of communication between social and political minorities and majorities from the indigenous perspective

Mixed Messages Kathryn E. Graber, 2020-08-15 Focusing on language and media in Asian Russia particularly in Buryat territories Mixed Messages engages debates about the role of minority media in society alternative visions of modernity and the impact of media on everyday language use Kathryn E Graber demonstrates that language and the production circulation and consumption of media are practices by which residents of the region perform and negotiate competing possible identities What languages should be used in newspapers magazines or radio and television broadcasts Who should produce them What kinds of publics are and are not possible through media How exactly do discourses move into out of and through the media to affect everyday social practices Mixed Messages addresses these questions through a rich ethnography of the Russian Federation s Buryat territories a multilingual and multiethnic region on the Mongolian border with a complex relationship to both Europe and Asia Mixed Messages shows that belonging in Asian Russia is a dynamic process that one cannot capture analytically by using straightforward categories of ethnolinguistic identity

The Fourth Eye Brendan Hokowhitu, Vijay Devadas, 2013-10-01 From the signing of the Treaty of Waitangi between Indigenous and settler cultures to the emergence of the first ever state funded M ori television network New Zealand has been a hotbed of Indigenous concerns Given its history of colonization coping with biculturalism is central to New Zealand life Much of this bicultural drama plays out in the media and is molded by an anxiety surrounding the ongoing struggle over citizenship rights that is seated within the politics of recognition The Fourth Eye brings together Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars to provide a critical and comprehensive account of the intricate and complex relationship between the media and M ori culture Examining the Indigenous mediascape The Fourth Eye shows how M ori filmmakers actors and media producers have depicted conflicts over citizenship rights and negotiated the representation of Indigenous people From nineteenth century M ori language newspapers to contemporary M ori film and television the contributors explore a variety of media forms including magazine cover stories print advertisements commercial images and current M ori language newspapers to illustrate the construction expression and production of indigeneity through media Focusing on New Zealand as a case study the authors address the broader question what is Indigenous media While engaging with distinct themes such as the misrepresentation of M ori people in the media access of Indigenous communities to media technologies and the use of media for activism the essays in this much needed new collection articulate an Indigenous media landscape that converses with issues that reach far beyond New Zealand Contributors Sue Abel U of Auckland Joost de Bruin Victoria U of Wellington Suzanne Duncan U of Otago Kevin Fisher U of Otago Allen Meek Massey U Lachy Paterson U of Otago Chris Prentice U of Otago Jay Scherer U of Alberta Jo Smith Victoria U of Wellington April Strickland Stephen Turner U of Auckland
