Georgia O'Keeffe. In the West Nicholas Callaway, Doris Bry, 1989 Marsden Hartley and the West Heather Hole, Georgia O'Keeffe Museum, 2007-01-01 A revelatory look at Hartley's New Mexico landscapes and the darker side of postwar American modernism Considered to be among the greatest early American modernists the painter Marsden Hartley 1877-1943 traveled the United States and Europe in his search for a distinctive American aesthetic His stay in New Mexico resulted in an extraordinary series of landscape paintings created in New Mexico New York and Europe between 1918 and 1924 that show an evolution in style and thinking that is important for understanding both Hartley's oeuvre and American modernism in the postwar years Marsden Hartley and the West examines this pivotal stage of the painter's career drawing upon his writings and providing illustrations of rarely seen and previously unpublished works The author considers Hartley's involvement with the Stieglitz circle and its soil and spirit philosophy the Taos art colony New York Dada and the impact of historical events such as World War I Within this setting she analyzes the pastels and oil paintings that suggest Hartley's increasingly ambivalent response to the land Beginning with optimistic naturalistic views the New Mexico works grew progressively darker and more tumultuous increasingly reflecting a sense of loss brought on by war The paintings become a site where the landscapes of memory self and nation merge while reflecting broader modernist debates about American-ness and a usable past Full Bloom: The Art and Life of Georgia O'Keeffe Hunter Drohojowska-Philp, 2005-11-15 Offers a portrait of the twentieth century woman artist through discussions of her marriage to art photography pioneer Alfred Stieglitz the impact of his infidelity on her psyche and her relocation to New Mexico where she created her signature works

Panhandle to take a position as art teacher for the newly organized Amarillo Public Schools. Subsequently she would join the faculty at what was then West Texas State Normal College, now West Texas A M University. Already a thoroughly independent minded woman, she maintained an active correspondence with her future husband, photographer Alfred Stieglitz, and other friends back east during the years she lived in Texas. Amy Von Lintel brings to readers the collected O Keeffe correspondence and added commentary and analysis, shining fresh light on a period of the artist's life she characterizes as some of the least appreciated in the vast O Keeffe scholarship, but also as a time when she discovered her own voice as a young, successful and independent woman, a dedicated faculty member at a brand new college, a vibrant social butterfly, a progressive woman who spoke her mind and fought for her beliefs to be heard. Although selected paintings by O Keeffe that support the narrative are featured, this work focuses on O Keeffe's words. By doing so, Von Lintel aims to allow the artist's voice to emerge as a powerful witness of her own life, but also of western America in a pivotal moment of its development. The result is an important new examination of one of our most beloved artists during a time when she was in the process of discovering her future identity.

Georgia O'Keeffe, A Private Friendship, Part I Nancy Hopkins Reily, 2017-02-01. The time is 1887. From any window in Georgia O Keeffe's Sun Prairie, Wisconsin birthplace home, she only saw the Wisconsin prairie with its traces of roads veering around the flat marshlands and a vast sky that lifted her soul. At twelve years of age, Georgia had a defining moment when she declared, "I want to be an artist." Years later, from her east-facing window in Canyon, Texas, she observed the Texas Panhandle sky with its focus points on the plains and a great canyon of earth history, colors streaking across the flat land. Georgia's love of the vast, colorful prairie plains and sky again gave definition to her life when she discovered Ghost Ranch, north of Abiquiú, New Mexico. She fell prey to its charms, which were not long removed from the echoes of the Wild West. These views of prairie plains and sky became Georgia's muses as she embarked on her step by step path with her role models, Alon Bement, Arthur Jerome Dow, and Wassily Kandinsky. In this two-part biography, of which this is Part I, covering the period 1887-1945, Nancy Hopkins Reily walks the Sun Prairie Land as if in Georgia's day as a prologue to her family's friendship with Georgia in the 1940s and 1950s. Reily chronicles Georgia's defining days within the arenas of landscape, culture, people, and the history surrounding each, a discourse level that Georgia would easily recognize. Through the Long Desert: Georgia O'Keeffe and Frank Lloyd Wright Sarah Rovang, 2025-09-09. A richly illustrated exploration of newfound connections between American cultural icons Georgia O Keeffe and Frank Lloyd Wright. This groundbreaking volume places the artist and architect side by side, shedding light on their lives, work, and mutual love of the American desert. Georgia O Keeffe and Frank Lloyd Wright were neither competitors nor direct collaborators. Yet these romantic heroes of twentieth-century art and architecture largely operated in parallel. In this seminal book, Rovang weaves together their compelling life stories, examining newly discovered links between them and, in the process, offering a fresh perspective on their work, their intermittent yet poignant friendship, and their closeness to the desert. Starting in 1933, O Keeffe and Wright exchanged roughly two dozen letters in which they expressed admiration for one another but also their passion for the places that informed them many of which they had in common Both were born in rural Wisconsin and built their careers in Chicago and New York However both sought inspiration and fulfillment in places farther afield including in Japan and the desert landscape of the American Southwest Juxtaposing images highlighting shared aspects of their individual biographies and work this unique take on American creative expression explores the nature of artistic friendship and the idea of home Rovang's text gives rich context to the allure and romance of her visual subject offering readers new ways to appreciate O'Keeffe's and Wright's monumental contributions to American culture
