Germany And The Union Of South Africa In The Nazi Period:

Germany and the Union of South Africa in the Nazi Period Robert M. Citino, 1991-04-30 This is the first study to examine Nazi German foreign policy towards the Union of South Africa from 1933-1939. Making extensive use of unpublished primary source German documents, Robert Citino focuses on the activities of the German embassy and consulates within South Africa in order to answer four basic questions: What role did race and racial theory play in German foreign policy towards South Africa? Did Germany attempt to exploit South African yearnings for international respect and if so how? Did the Germans seek to take advantage of deep divisions within South African society between British and Afrikaners? Finally, to what extent was the German Foreign Office Nazified in the 1930s? By concentrating on the policies and views of German diplomatic personnel within a single country rather than on Hitler's grandiose proclamations and speeches on world affairs, Citino offers a closer look at Nazi German foreign policy operations than is usually available. The study is organized chronologically and begins with an overview of German-South African relations before 1933. Subsequent chapters address early tensions and South African domestic developments in the years leading up to the outbreak of war. Specific topics covered include the role played by the former German colony of Southwest Africa in relations between the two states; the hostile attitude of much of the South African press towards Nazi Germany; the boycott of German firms by the South African Jewish community; the Smuts-Hertzog fusion; the rise of Malan and his Purified nationalist party; the growth of anti-Semitism in South Africa; and the concurrent growth in Afrikaner national consciousness and South African attitudes towards the major European crises of the 1930s. Citino concludes by analyzing Germany's inability to keep South Africa neutral in 1939 and the entry of the Union into the war at England's side. Students of modern German-South African and twentieth-century diplomatic history will find Citino's work an enlightening contribution to the literature of Nazi Germany's foreign relations. German Foreign Policy, 1918-1945 Christoph M. Kimmich, 2013-03-14 Christoph Kimmich's German Foreign Policy 1918-1945: A Guide to Current Research and Resources is a comprehensive guide to archival resources and published materials on the foreign policy of Weimar and Nazi Germany. It catalogues the archives, libraries, and research institutes both public and private that house important collections, especially in Germany but also elsewhere in Europe and in the United States, and describes their holdings, terms of access and use, and guides and inventories available. German Foreign Policy 1918-1945 also includes a substantial annotated bibliography of published sources ranging from documentary series to significant contemporary accounts, from memoirs to secondary works. The bibliography reflects current scholarship and draws attention to works that are innovative and accessible. It also describes the various series of the Nuremberg War Crimes Trial Records and the original trial documents available in archives and libraries. The guide canvasses the vast and growing offering of materials on the Web, digitized print materials, archival inventories, and source materials. In order to expedite work in the archives, the guide also explains the organization and functioning of the German foreign ministry between 1918 and 1945 and how it kept and stored its records This third edition offers new information on German archives many of which were consolidated and relocated after German reunification on recently discovered archival holdings and on materials posted on the Web It is a reference source for both established scholars and young researchers offering quick and efficient access to the voluminous research and research materials that are now available

Home Front: South Africa and the Second World War Evert Kleynhans, Anri Delpont, 2024-11-15 Home Front South Africa and the Second World War offers a fresh academic perspective through the voices of both new and established scholars leveraging recently uncovered archival material to illuminate the experiences of South Africans at home between 1939 and 1945 This latest addition to South Africa's wartime historiography is thoughtfully divided into two broad sections dealing with active participation in and resistance against the Allied war effort The book highlights the vigorous mobilisation and recruitment campaigns that saw thousands enlist and the pivotal roles women assumed in industry and civil service It explores how the war effort permeated every facet of society challenging traditional gender roles and societal norms It delves into the dynamic shifts within South African society from politics and community mobilisation to the contributions of collegiate schools and the impact on sports It uncovers the undercurrents of dissent that existed alongside visible support It brings to light the political activism within the African National Congress the covert operations of Nazi sympathisers and the simmering tensions among Afrikaner nationalists In doing so the chapters collectively unravel the complexity of South African society where loyalty and opposition coexisted often influenced by propaganda espionage and socio political manoeuvring

Rivalry in Southern Africa 1893-99 M. Seligmann, 1998-08-10 Seligmann focuses on the development of German policy towards the Transvaal and southern Africa in the 1890s During this time Germany's flirtation with President Kruger and her confrontational approach to Britain threatened war How did this come to pass The author examines the roots of German policy and explores consequent rivalries and tensions The conclusions show the importance of South Africa to German imperialism and the role it played in widening German imperial ambitions before the First World War

New Perspectives on the Transnational Right M. Durham, 2016-06-08 The links the conservative Right has sought to forge beyond the national over the last century have been too often neglected and this volume sheds new light on transnationalism the Right and the ways the two interact

A History of Fascism, 1914-1945 Stanley G. Payne, 1996-01-01 A History of Fascism is an invaluable sourcebook offering a rare combination of detailed information and thoughtful analysis It is a masterpiece of comparative history for the comparisons enhance our understanding of each part of the whole The term fascist used so freely these days as a pejorative epithet that has nearly lost its meaning is precisely defined carefully applied and skillfully explained The analysis effectively restores the dimension of evil Susan Zuccotti The Nation A magisterial wholly accessible engaging study Payne defines fascism as a form of ultranationalism espousing a myth of national rebirth and marked by extreme elitism mobilization of the masses exaltation of hierarchy and subordination oppression of women and an embrace of violence and war as virtues Publishers Weekly

Namibian War of Independence, 1966-1989 Richard Dale, 2014-11-19 The decolonization of Namibia was delayed from 1966 to 1989 the period of the war of independence pitting the Namibian nationalists against the South African minority ruled regime This book describes the diplomatic economic and military campaigns of the Namibian and South African belligerents and draws a comparison with several other decolonization wars Using data from parliamentary debates the aftermath is examined of the Namibian war and the newly independent nation The book provides a basis for further investigation of the decolonization process

The Man Who Killed Apartheid: The Life of Dimitri Tsafendas Harris Dousemetzis, 2024-03-04 On 6 September 1966 inside the House of Assembly in Cape Town Dimitri Tsafendas stabbed to death Hendrik Verwoerd South Africa's Prime Minister and so called architect of apartheid Tsafendas was immediately arrested and before he had even been questioned by the authorities they declared him a madman without any political motive for the killing In the Cape Supreme Court Tsafendas was found unfit to stand trial on the grounds that he suffered from schizophrenia and that he had no political motive for killing Verwoerd Tsafendas spent the next 28 years in custody making him the longest serving detainee in South African history For most of his incarnation he was subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment by the prison authorities From 2009 to 2018 Harris Dousemetzis extensively researched the assassination of Verwoerd and the life of Tsafendas For this research he travelled to South Africa Mozambique Greece France and Turkey and interviewed about 150 people who either knew Tsafendas or Verwoerd or were involved with the case of the assassination He discovered about 12 000 pages of documents on the case most of them previously unpublished in archival collections in South Africa Portugal and the UK Dousemetzis collaborated with prominent South African jurists psychiatrists and psychologists and concluded his research by writing the Report to the Minister of Justice in the Matter of Dr Verwoerd's Assassination The report conclusively proved that Tsafendas had assassinated Verwoerd for political reasons and that the apartheid authorities had orchestrated a massive operation to declare him insane and apolitical This ground breaking report and this book corrected the historical record regarding Verwoerd's assassination and Tsafendas The Man Who Killed Apartheid based on Dousemetzis's groundbreaking research chronicles in detail Tsafendas's life and conclusively demonstrates that he was a perfectly sane and deeply political person with a long history of political activism At the same time the book exposes the lie at the heart of apartheid's posture on the assassination of Hendrik Verwoerd and provides a rare picture of how the racist regime operated and what it was like to live and die under apartheid

The Munich Crisis, 1938 Erik Goldstein, Igor Lukes, 2012-10-12 Most of the works on the crises of the 1930s and especially the Munich Agreement in 1938 were written when it was virtually impossible to gain access to the relevant archive collections on both sides of the Iron Curtain This text studies the Czechoslovak German crisis and its impact from previously neglected perspectives and celebrates the post Cold War openness by bringing in new evidence from hitherto inaccessible archives
