Economic Development 1975 1993 An Annotated Bibliography:

Rural Economic Development, 1975-1993 Larry Leistritz, Rita R. Hamm, 1994-05-25 This bibliography brings together the salient works on the process of economic development and economic revitalization in nonmetropolitan areas. The literature cited reviews 1 the forces affecting different economic sectors such as manufacturing, tourism, and services and the potential of these sectors to contribute to rural economic development; 2 the forces affecting various types of firms such as new firms, small firms, and high tech businesses and the potential of these types of firms to contribute to rural economic development; 3 contextual factors such as markets, business climate, and technological change; and 4 economic and development policies and strategies that various levels of government could employ. The book's focus is economic development and revitalization in the world's industrialized countries. Including North American and European literature published in English, the book covers 1975 to 1993 with particular emphasis on the period from 1988 to 1993. This book attempts to meet the needs of 1 students of economic and community development, regional and agricultural economics, community and regional planning, rural sociology, and related disciplines; 2 teachers and researchers; and 3 policy makers and economic development practitioners. It includes professional journals, books, university research reports, extension reports, conference proceedings, and government documents. School of Economics, 1996. The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians, university departments, research institutions, and any public or private institutions whose work requires access to up-to-date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences.

United States Entrepreneurs and the Companies They Built Wahib Nasrallah, 2003-08-30 This pioneering work provides an index to over 1,700 biographies of prominent U.S. entrepreneurs, innovators, and company executives published in over 120 biographical collected works which are identified, examined, and indexed here. These collected works cover a span of over 100 years and include men and women who shaped the history of American enterprise. In the past, collected works such as these have never been indexed, but finally this book makes the biographies accessible to the general public. Wahib Nasrallah has created the only book available today that indexes these stories of corporate success as they are documented in collected works of biography. A large number of executive biographies are published in collected works that are rich with stories of American enterprise, male and female entrepreneurs of many ethnic backgrounds. Since these stories have never been indexed before, United States Entrepreneurs and the Companies They Built: An Index to Biographies and Collected Works is a central research tool in both academic and corporate worlds. Measuring Population's Impact All Human Rights for All The Coming Water Crisis Using Economics to Advantage Law and Social Justice AIDS and the Responsibility of the Media Pollution for Export Human Rights The Road to Progress and Peace Energy Food for the Billions Food Production Taking Poverty to Heart Land Tenure Private or Socialistic Forestry? Matti Palo, Erkki Lehto, 2012-02-13 While deforestation continues at an alarming rate around the world discussions on the range of underlying causes continue The premise is that studying successful transitions from deforestation to sustainable forestry exemplified in Finland can provide novel insights into how deforestation in the tropics might be reduced in the future Our fundamental question here is why Finland succeeded to stop deforestation for a century ago and why not the same is feasible in the contemporary tropical countries This book presents a novel integrated theory within which this case study on Finland and contemporary modeling of underlying causes of tropical deforestation are developed Finland remains the world's second largest net exporter of forest products while maintaining the highest forest cover in Europe A transition from deforestation to sustainable industrial forestry took place in Finland during the first part of the 20th century The underlying causes of this transition are compared via our theory with deforestation in 74 contemporary tropical countries Both appear similar and support our theory The interaction of public policies and market institutions has appeared to be critical during this transition The study's findings suggest that private forest ownership with a continuous increase in the real value of forests and alleviation of poverty under non corruptive conditions has been a necessary but not a sufficient condition for this transition In a parallel way public policies have also proved to be a necessary but not sufficient condition in this transition The conclusion is that socialistic forestry along with corruption is artificially maintaining too low values in the tropical forests The opportunity cost of sustainable forestry remains too high and deforestation by extensification of agriculture therefore continues The prevailing socialistic forestry with dominating public forest ownership is by purpose maintaining administratively set low stumpage prices leading to low value of forests wide corruption and continuous forest degradation and deforestation An effective remedy to raise the value of forests is found to be within forestry Bibliographie
