Eugene O'Neill's Creative Struggle Doris Alexander, 2010-11 In Eugene O'Neill's Creative Struggle Doris Alexander gives us a new kind of inside biography that begins where the others leave off. It follows O'Neill through the door into his writing room to give a blow-by-blow account of how he fought out in his plays his great life battles: love against hate, doubt against belief, life against death, to an ever-expanding understanding. It presents a new kind of criticism showing how O'Neill's most intimate struggles worked their way to resolution through the drama of his plays. Alexander reveals that he was engineering his own consciousness through his plays and solving his life problems while the tone, imagery, and richness of the plays all came out of the nexus of memories summoned up by the urgency of the problems he faced in them. By the way of O'Neill, this study moves toward a theory of the impulse that sets off a writer's creativity and a theory of how that impulse acts to shape a work not only in a dramatist like O'Neill but also in the case of writers in other mediums and even of painters and composers. The study begins with Desire Under the Elms because that play's plot was consolidated by a dream that opened up the transfixing grief that precipitated the play for O'Neill and it ends with Days Without End when he had resolved his major emotional philosophical struggle and created within himself the voice of his final great plays. Since the analysis brings to bear on the plays all of his conscious decisions, ideas, theories, as well as the life and death struggles motivating them, documenting even the final creative changes made during rehearsals, this book provides a definitive account of the nine plays analyzed in detail: Desire Under the Elms, Marco Millions, The Great God Brown, Lazarus Laughed, Strange Interlude, Dynamo, Mourning Becomes Electra, Ah, Wilderness, and Days Without End, with additional analysis of plays written before and after.

Psychological DNA John C. Brady, 2024-06-05 It has been more than fifty years since presidential hopeful Robert F. Kennedy (RFK) was murdered at the fashionable Ambassador Hotel in L.A. only five years after his brother John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas. The alleged shooter who gunned down RFK, the man with an odd name Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, a twenty-four-year-old Palestinian, was apprehended at the scene of the crime with the smoking gun still in his hand, leading to the conclusion that this seemingly was an open and shut case or was it? Subsequently, Sirhan was tried and convicted of first-degree murder, though his appointed defense team stitched together a poorly formed modified insanity defense complicated by many unforced errors made by attorneys and expert psychologists and internationally known psychiatrist Dr. Bernard Diamond. In PSYCH DNA, Dr. Brady, who was immersed in the case from the beginning using modern criminological methods and new psychological assessment tools not available five decades ago, has reassessed Sirhan's mental state, arriving at five current mental conditions that in his opinion, if presented at trial, could have changed the jury's verdict and spared Sirhan a trip to San Quentin's death row. What follows is Dr. Brady chronicling an amazing journey into the darkest recesses of Sirhan's unconscious, altered mind where homicidal thoughts had percolated for years. At long last, Sirhan's criminal mystery, wrapped in a psychological enigma, is unraveled, helping us understand the psychodynamics of a would-be assassin.
