Best Practices in Healing System; How to Talk with Your Immune System Bruce Dickson,2011-11-24 Awakening the Inner Healer is easier than ever now that we know NOT to begin with basing self healing on onlooker science nor on auras and chakras New science says to slow down and base self healing on self sensitivity self trust and self protection The same goes for self muscle testing for those who wish this Practice self testing and you can quickly build to talking with your own immune system Eight simple exercises in self sensitivity self trust and selfprotection lead you to friendship and conversation with the bigger you starting with your immune system Take a step forward on your own path of self mastery Walk as far as you wish Self muscle testing of any kind can be your friendly walking stick You can walk this path as far and as fast as your willingness to heal last Most Tools That Heal can be learned in under an hour but may take a lifetime to master The time is right for Self as Healer Is this your time Wherever you are is a good place to start self healing You can start NOW Where will you begin your self healing Did you ever wish you could get your own answers to your own questions Feeling safe feeling comfortable and asking permission to test are where we all need to begin Safety also includes deliberately aligning our selves with Love Light and Angels Many beneficial side effects arise from learning to communicate with your own silent parnter same as your inner child and your immune system These are all functionally equal because the rational mind communicates with each and all in the same way Self healers really pick up speed when they practice consciously asking questions and getting responses from their body they can understand We call this inner testing The key to faster self healing is testing because you can get your own answers to questions you address to your immune system Arm pull down kinesiology IS inner testing except someone else does the pulling and possibly the interpreting of results In inner testing YOU test and YOU interpret all results no one else Muscles have as little to do with inner testing as a tape measure has to do with building a house All exercises augment and strengthen any energetic method or modality such as Touch for Health Energy Medicine EFT Immunics Theta Healing BodyTalk The Emotion Code Peace Theological Seminary Masters Doctorate programs etc Self Healing 101 exercises amplify your sensitivity to how your body responds to explicit questions Self sensitivity self trust Intuition Then you need self protection to protect Intuition your sacred life which begins to blossom How to Keep Your Body Young and Naturally Boost Your Immune System
