Norman Shealy,1996      AARP The Food-Mood Solution Jack Challem,2011-12-20 AARP Digital Editions offer you practical tips proven solutions and expert guidance In The Food Mood Solution renowned nutrition expert Jack Challem isolates the nutritional triggers of bad moods providing solutions that will help you stabilize your moods gain energy sleep better handle stress and be more focused Challem lays out a clear cut four step plan for feeding the brain the right nutrition presenting advice on choosing the right foods and supplements as well as improving lifestyle habits to help regulate mood swings      The Natural Way to a Healthy Heart Stephen Holt,2002-01-29 An exploration of mind body medicine in relation to the heart Holt's pluralistic medicine encompasses both the conventional and the alternative embracing any and all treatments that are safe and effective      Essential Concepts for Healthy Living Sandra Alters,2005-09

Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2003      Space, Place and Mental Health Professor Sarah Curtis,2012-11-28 There is a strong case today for a specific focus on mental public health and its relation to social and physical environments From a public health perspective we now appreciate the enormous significance of mental distress and illness as causes of disability and impairment Stress and anxiety and other mental illnesses are linked to risks in the environment This book questions how and why the social and physical environment matters for mental health and psychological wellbeing in human populations While putting forward a number of different points of view there is a particular emphasis on ideas and research from health geography which conceptualises space and place in ways that provide a distinctive focus on the interactions between people and their social and physical environment The book begins with an overview of a rich body of theory and research from sociology psychology social epidemiology social psychiatry and neuroscience considering arguments concerning mind body dualism and presenting a conceptual framework for studying how attributes of space and place are associated with human mental wellbeing It goes on to look in detail at how our mental health is associated with material or physical aspects of our environment such as natural and built landscapes with social environments involving social relationships in communities and with symbolic and imagined spaces representing the personal cultural and spiritual meanings of places These relationships are shown to be complex with potential to be beneficial or hazardous for mental health The final chapters of the book consider spaces of care and the implications of space and place for public mental health policy offering a broader view of how mental health might be improved at the population level With boxed case studies of specific research ideas and methods chapter summaries and suggestions for introductory reading this book offers a comprehensive introduction which will be valuable for students of health geography public health sociology and anthropology of health and illness It also provides an interdisciplinary review of the literature by the author and by other writers to frame a discussion of issues that challenge more advanced researchers in these fields
