

Policy change happens at the confluence of several contexts

Economic Context :
Poverty, inequity, growth

Social Context :

- Citizen voice challenges status quo and questions social contract
- Well-received initiatives build expectations. Politicians' incentives respond to loss aversion

Political Context :

- Change in political regime
- A need to strengthen political legitimacy
- Bureaucrats as forceful drivers of action

Motivation/incentive to address context is key to drive political priority

Need for legitimacy drives motivation to act
Leaders act to earn credibility, build social contract

Political Ideology drives motivation to act
Parties with allegiance to an ideology or political culture are more likely to act on these issues when in Government.

Feldstein, 1977 DHHS Publication No. (PHS)., 1982 The Economic Relationship Between Dentist's Income and Time Supplied Donald R. House (Jr.), 1978 The Politics of Health Legislation Paul J. Feldstein, 1988 Now in its third edition The Politics of Health Legislation An Economic Perspective has been significantly updated with the most current information regarding healthcare legislative and regulatory outcomes Bibliography of Law and Economics B. Bouckaert, G. de Geest, 2013-04-18 Law and economics can be considered as the most exciting development in legal scholarship in recent decades This volume is the first all encompassing bibliography in this area It lists approximately 7000 publications covering the whole area of law and economics including old law and economics topics such as antitrust law labor law tax law social security economic regulation etc as well as new law and economics with such topics as tort law contract law family law procedure criminal law etc The volume also includes the literature on the philosophical foundations and the fundamental concepts of the approach Part Two gives a special survey of law and economics publications in Europe written in other languages than English The Bibliography of Law and Economics is an invaluable reference work for students scholars lawyers economists and other people interested in this field Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1979 Why the United States Does Not Have a National Health Program Vicente Navarro, 2019-05-23 This book shows how the insurance industry and the medical industrial complex are the major influences in the health policy of the United States They and not the people are those who determine the policies of the U S government The volume shows how the United States could indeed provide comprehensive and universal health benefits coverage to the majority of the U S population at lower costs than the current health care nonsystem Medical Participation in Control of Blue Shield and Certain Other Open-panel Medical Prepayment Plans United States. Bureau of Competition, 1979 Supplemental Staffing and the Changing Structure of Nurse Employment Lauren Leroy, 1985 Federal Trade Commission Decisions United States. Federal Trade Commission, 1980 Health planning reports subject index United States. Health Resources Administration, 1979 A Republic of Equals Jonathan Rothwell, 2019-11-05 The author traces the massive income inequality observed in the U S and other rich democracies to politicized markets and avoidable gaps in opportunity and explains why they are the root cause of what ails democracy today The International Bibliography of Health Economics, 1986 Medical Economics and Health Finance Steven R. Eastaugh, 1981 Covering a wide range of topics in medical economics the author provides a comprehensive study of cost containment and financial management The issues of health care competition regulation marketing and the impact of health finances on the quality of care are addressed Regulating Health Care Arthur Levin, 1980 Health Systems Policy, Finance, and Organization Guy Carrin, Kent Buse, Kristian Heggenhougen, Stella R. Quah, 2010-05-22 This volume is unique in its systematic approach to these three pillars of health systems analysis will give readers of various backgrounds authoritative material about subjects adjacent to their own specialties Assembling such comparative materials is usually an onerous task because so many programs possess their own vocabularies goals and methods This book will provide common grounds for people in programs as diverse as economics and finance allied health business and management and the social sciences including psychology Gives readers of various backgrounds authoritative material about subjects adjacent to their own specialties Provides common grounds for people in programs as diverse as economics and finance allied health business and management and the social sciences including psychology

American Health Care Roger D. Feldman, President Clinton's health care reform proposals of 1993 represented the most far reaching program of social engineering attempted in the United States since the passage of Medicare and Medicaid in 1965 Under the guise of reforming the health care system the Clinton plan would have herded almost all Americans under age sixty five into large government sponsored health insurance purchasing alliances that would have contracted with insurers to offer a standard set of benefits at regulated prices The plan came under fire from both Republicans and Democrats including moderates from both parties but it soon became apparent that what doomed it was a public unwilling to trust government to manage their health care The critical literature has failed to offer a cogent analysis of why government control of health care does not work American Health Care delivers that analysis This volume examines why untoward consequences usually follow when government sets out to do good things The contributors demonstrate how hospital rate regulation raises hospital prices that no fault medical malpractice increases the occurrence of faulty medicine and that FDA regulation is a major cause for the escalating cost of new drugs Part 1 trace the genesis of Medicare and its later developments and argue the consumer advantages of medical savings accounts and written health contracts Part 2 explore the fallacies of antitrust policies that serve the interests of competitors attack community rating for making health insurance unaffordable to large numbers of young workers Part 3 contains a powerful critique of the FDA for withholding vital information on the health benefits of aspirin and shows how HMOs and other plans have caused pharmaceutical marketing to shift its focus from medical effectiveness to cost effectiveness The final section explores how the private sector is improving in the areas of regulating physician and other health professional fees and the supply and quality of health professionals American Health Care proposes reasonable balances between government and market options for in supply of health services Without denying the need for some governmental action the contributors show how far the market can go farther in performing critical functions in the health care industry This volume will be important reading for health policymakers economists and health care professionals Roger Feldman is professor at the Institute for Health Services Research University of Minnesota Mark V Pauly is professor in the Department of Health Care Systems of the Wharton School University of Pennsylvania

Physicians and Management in Health Care Montague Brown, 1992 Critical to an organization's success is its relationships with physicians This collection of articles presents a wide range of approaches to strengthening physician relationships With information on performance physician data physician organizations practice valuation physicians as managers and entrepreneurs and more this volume explores the core issues of physicians working in with and for health care organizations      Global Efforts to Combat Smoking Rajeev K. Goel, 2017-11-30 Tobacco is reported to be the second major cause of death in the world and there is ever increasing interest in the costs of smoking especially in the light of evidence of the health effects of second hand smoke This book brings together the findings of economists on the effectiveness of price and non price policy initiatives to combat smoking and draws conclusions regarding the efficacy of the various policy measures The authors evaluate the relative effectiveness of price based smoking control policies i e tax in relation to non price strategies including advertising restrictions sales restrictions territorial restrictions and health warnings They review evidence not only from the US but also from around the world drawing important conclusions for developing countries where smoking is on the rise The book will be essential reading for policy makers health practitioners and researchers in health economics
