Health Care For An Aging Society:

Health Care for an Aging Society David Haber, 1989 First Published in 1989 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Changing Health Care for an Aging Society Walter N. Leutz, 1985 Health Care for an Aging Population Chris Hackler, 1994-07-28 This volume examines one of the most important policy issues to be faced as policymakers address both current and future health care needs the allocation of health care resources for an aging population The first part looks at the role of the aged in society what justice requires of the young toward the old and of the old toward the young the source of rising health care costs and the need to control medical spending The second part focuses on dramatic and controversial proposals by Daniel Callahan and others to control medical spending in the next century by rationing life prolonging treatment according to age Concluding chapters provide concrete proposals for a system that solves our immediate problems of cost and access while preparing for the extraordinary needs of an aging population This book explores proposed changes in the U S health care system to meet unprecedented demand expected early in the next century when the baby boom generation reaches retirement age and eligibility for Medicare A focal point is the possibility of withholding publicly funded life prolonging medical care from the very old Health Care for an Aging Society Spyros Andreopoulos, John R. Hogness, Health Care for an Aging Society David Haber, 2014-01-02 First published in 1989 In an aging society however the challenge broadens to include health care and social support at home and in the community The major premise of this book is that cost conscious community care and self care will become increasingly important as the era of cost containment intensifies Health Care for an Aging Population Chris Hackler, 1994-01-01 Pivoting on Daniel Callahan s proposal to withhold publicly funded life prolonging medical care from the very old in his 1989 Setting Limits Medical Goals in an Aging Society 14 essays consider the health care crisis looming early in the next century as the baby boomers reach retirement age They discuss the role of the aged in society what the old and young deserve of each other the source of medical cost increases implications of rationing according to age and proposals for a system that will address both immediate problems and long term conditions Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Social Work and Health Care in an Aging Society Barbara Berkman, Linda Harootyan, 2003-06-01 This book places significant issues related to the health mental health and well being of older adults and their caregivers within the context of social work service delivery By presenting the research of social work scholars all experts in specific research areas the editors clarify the value that social work brings to the larger realm of health care for older adults and their families Special consideration is given to such issues as case management urban African American elders grandmothers raising grandchildren aging persons with developmental disabilities home health care and more For Further Information on Dr Berkman Please Click Here Social Work and Health Care in an Aging Society Barbara Berkman, 2003-06 Sixteen chapters by scholars of social work relate the well being of older adults to social work practice and the current model of service delivery Chapters concentrate on issues affecting the health of older adults depression dementia abuse services to specific populations African American women grandparents raising grandchildren the developmentally disabled and professional issues home care case management standardized assessment The implications for training research and policy are highlighted Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Community Care for an Aging Society Carole B. Cox, 2004-11-23 Most older persons desire to remain living in the community but those requiring care are often at risk of not having their needs met Families may find themselves unable to care for their older relatives while formal services are often unavailable or inaccessible Policies and services are beginning to focus on the community rather than institutions as the primary axis for care This book examines the many factors contributing to needs for care among older persons as well as the ways in which impairments are defined and responded to by both the individual and society Focusing on practice and policy issues Dr Cox describes many of the early stage community care innovations that hold the promise of making contributions to the well being and independence of the older population
