Health Conditions In Cambodia's Prisons:

Health Conditions in Cambodia's Prisons Gabriel J. Otterman, Physicians for Human Rights (U.S.), American Refugee Committee, 1995 The Case of H H Prisons of the World Andrew Coyle, 2021-11-04 This book discusses the failings of the prison system in many countries and offers positive pointers for the future It shows the way forward will be through initiatives such as Justice Reinvestment and in the Human Development model UNTAC in Cambodia Caroline Hughes, 1996 The UN organized national elections were heralded as Cambodia's first step on the road to liberal democracy Since the Royal Government produced by those elections took power however much of the triumphalism surrounding the United Nations intervention in Cambodia particularly in terms of UNTAC's human rights mandate has proved to have been premature as abuses continue and political opponents of the government are silenced This study critiques UNTAC's mission in Cambodia from a human rights perspective It evaluates UNTAC's response to the tensions between continuity and change inherent in the peacekeeping mandate and considers the impact of the choices made during the transition on the long term future of human rights in Cambodia Research Handbook on Inequalities in Later Life Catherine Earl, Philip Taylor, 2024-06-05 This Research Handbook critically examines the myriad social and economic inequalities faced by those in later life Contributors dissect examples from the Global North and South to support a new approach to studying ageing that moves beyond popular discourses Imprisonment Today and Tomorrow D. van Zijl-Smit, Frieder Dünkler, 2021-11-22 Are more people being imprisoned throughout the world Why is imprisonment still being used on a wide scale when an increasing number of alternatives are available What are the major developments in prison law in the last decade What problems arise in prison systems when states become constitutional democracies for the first time Should prisons be privatized How can prison conditions and prisoners rights be improved What special measures should there be for women juveniles violent offenders or drug addicts in prison What programmes work effectively under which conditions The second edition of Imprisonment Today and Tomorrow presents much fresh information in its attempts to provide answers to these and other crucial questions It provides authoritative accounts by leading national experts on the place of imprisonment in 26 penal systems of major countries throughout the world In addition through the chapters on the work of the European Committee for the Prevention of Torture and Inhuman and Degrading Punishment non governmental organizations and the United Nations it sheds new light on international initiatives to promote prison standards These are complemented by a comparative survey of world prison populations and a final chapter in which the editors evaluate developments described in this volume and elsewhere in order to arrive at conclusions about international trends and to make well grounded proposals for prison reform The United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia (Untac) Nassrine De Rham-Azimi, 1995 This new report is a synthesis of the discussions held and papers presented at the International Conference on the United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia UNTAC Debriefing and Lessons which was organized jointly by the Institute of Policy Studies IPS of

Singapore and the United Nations Institute for Training and Research UNITAR in August 1994 The report aims to reflect the conclusions and observations of the conference participants and to draw overall lessons and recommendations from these findings in the hope that they could be of use to future undertakings of the United Nations This is the first volume in a new series which will cover the proceedings of the annual debriefing conferences organized by IPS and UNITAR on issues related to peace keeping The next volume will focus on the role and functions of civilian police in United Nations peace keeping operations

How Cambodia Survived the Killing Fields Michael Haas, 2025-09-04 Weaving a critique of major power intervention into political history this book provides a comprehensive overview of Cambodia from 1953 to the present Since gaining its independence in 1953 Cambodia has been treated as a pawn by more powerful countries China Vietnam the United Nations and especially the United States have played a role in shaping Cambodia's history from propping up the Khmer Rouge regime to restricting its economic opportunities Michael Haas has been deeply and personally involved in many aspects of the recent history of the country and his research uncovers details of 20th century US realpolitik such as Lyndon Johnson's indiscriminate bombing of Cambodia during the Vietnam War US funding of the Khmer Rouge in the 1980s and the United States surrender of economic control to China since the 1990s In an era of increasing great power competition in Southeast Asia Cambodia is a case study long overdue for reassessment

The United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia, Debriefing and Lessons Nassrine Azimi, 2023-09-20 The United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia UNTAC was the fruit of many years of negotiations which had resulted in the Paris Agreements on Cambodia and a sincere attempt to reach out to a country devastated by conflict The present report synthesises the discussions and papers presented at the International Conference on the United Nations Transitional Authority in Cambodia UNTAC Debriefing and Lessons organized jointly by the Institute of Policy Studies IPS of Singapore and the United Nations Institute for Training and Research UNITAR This report reflects as faithfully as possible the analysis and observations of the conference participants and draws overall lessons and recommendations from that exercise in the hope that these will be of use in future undertakings of the United Nations Many reforms have already been initiated at the United Nations Secretariat in the wake of UNTAC The Department of Peace Keeping Operations DKPO has been strengthened and the Field Operations Division FOD integrated into it the number of staff dealing with political analysis and training has increased and the involvement of Member States through secondment and the provisions of national expertise has become institutionalized

Women, Incarceration, and Human Rights Violations Alana Van Gundy, Amy Baumann-Grau, 2016-02-17 A rich examination of the neglect and abuses occurring to women in correctional facilities Women Incarceration and Human Rights Violations draws upon a wealth of case studies from around the world and class action lawsuits to shed light on covert abuse such as sexual or physical abuse as well as overt abuse such as the denial of medical treatment Adopting a feminist framework this book offers a comparative evaluation of abuse in domestic and international correctional facilities demonstrating the extent to which women are at high risk of being sexually abused and re victimized in the correctional system where pregnancy and other specific medical and health issues are consistently ignored Calling attention to the necessity of addressing the gender specific needs of women who are incarcerated Women Incarceration and Human Rights Violations offers a review of current policy laws and regulation bearing on the issue while providing concrete recommendations and policy changes to address abuses As such it will appeal to sociologists criminologists and policymakers concerned with questions of gender penology and institutional abuse Country Reports on Human Rights Practices ,1994 Congressional Record United States.

HIV/AIDS and Custodial Settings in South East Asia United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime. Regional Centre for East Asia and the Pacific,2007 Mothering and Desistance in Re-Entry Venezia Michalsen,2018-11-05 Although there is plentiful research on the impact of marriage employment and the military on desistance from criminal behaviour in the lives of men far less is known about the factors most important to women s desistance Imprisoned women are far more likely than their male counterparts to be the primary caretakers of children before their incarceration and are far more likely to intend to reunify with their children upon their release from incarceration This book focuses on the role of mothering in women s desistance from criminal behaviour Drawing on original research this book explores the nature of mothering during incarceration how mothers maintain a relationship with their children from behind bars and the ways in which mothering makes desistance more or less likely after incarceration It outlines the ways in which race gender class nationality sexuality gender identity and other characteristics affect mothering and desistance and explores the tensions between individual and system level factors in the consideration of desistance This book suggests that any discussion of desistance particularly for women must move beyond the traditional focus on individual characteristics and decision making Such a focus overlooks the role played by context and systems which undermine both women s attempts to be mothers and their attempts to desist By contrast in the tradition of Beth Richie's Compelled to Crime this book explores both the trees and the forests and the quantum in between in a way that aims for lasting societal and individual changes The Global Impact of the COVID-19

Sokhieng Au, 2012-07-24 During the first half of the twentieth century representatives of the French colonial health services actively strove to expand the practice of Western medicine in the frontier colony of Cambodia But as the French physicians ventured beyond their colonial enclaves they found themselves negotiating with the plurality of Cambodian cultural practices relating to health and disease These negotiations were marked by some success a great deal of misunderstanding and much failure Bringing together colorful historical vignettes social and anthropological theory and quantitative analyses Mixed Medicines examines these interactions between the Khmer Cham and Vietnamese of Cambodia and the French documenting the differences in their understandings of medicine and revealing the unexpected transformations that occurred during this period for both the French and the indigenous population
