The Baker's Daughter Sarah McCoy, 2012-01-24 In this New York Times bestseller two women in different eras face similar life altering decisions the politics of exclusion the terrible choices we face in wartime and the redemptive power of love In 1945 Elsie Schmidt is a naive teenager as eager for her first sip of champagne as she is for her first kiss She and her family have been protected from the worst of the terror and desperation overtaking her country by a high ranking Nazi who wishes to marry her So when an escaped Jewish boy arrives on Elsie's doorstep on Christmas Eve Elsie understands that opening the door would put all she loves in danger Sixty years later in El Paso Texas Reba Adams is trying to file a feel good Christmas piece for the local magazine and she sits down with the owner of Elsie's German Bakery for what she expects will be an easy interview But Reba finds herself returning to the bakery again and again anxious to find the heart of the story a story that resonates with her own turbulent past For Elsie Reba's questions are a stinging reminder of that last bleak year of World War II As the two women's lives become intertwined both are forced to confront the uncomfortable truths of the past and seek out the courage to forgive Elsie and Mairi Go to War Diane Atkinson,2011-10-12 The incredible story of two courageous and spirited women who were the only female participants to serve on the western front during World War I When they met at a motorcycle club in 1912 Elsie Knocker was a thirty year old motorcycling divorcee dressed in bottle green Dunhill leathers and Mairi Chisholm was a brilliant eighteen year old mechanic living at home borrowing tools from her brother Little did they know theirs was to become one of the most extraordinary stories of World War I In 1914 they roared off to London to do their bit and within a month they were in the thick of things in Belgium driving ambulances to distant military hospitals Frustrated by the number of men dying of shock in the back of their vehicles they set up their own first aid post on the front line in the village of Pervyse near Ypres risking their lives working under sniper fire and heavy bombardment for months at a time As news of their courage and expertise spread the Angels of Pervyse became celebrities visited by journalists and photographers as well as royals and VIPs Glamorous and influential they were having the time of their lives and for four years Elsie and Mairi and stayed in Pervyse until they were nearly killed by arsenic gas in the spring of 1918 But returning home and adjusting to peacetime life and the role of women in British society was to prove more challenging than even the war itself Elsie Venner Oliver Wendell Holmes,1885

Challenging Times Constance Backhouse,David H. Flaherty,1992 Challenging Times offers a provocative and detailed overview of feminist movements in Canada and the United States Through a series of essays that offer innovative interpretations and careful original scholarship Constance Backhouse David Flaherty and the contributing authors compare and contrast the emergence and advancement of feminism in the two countries taking care to explore both francophone and anglo phone communities By allowing the reader to draw comparisons between women s movements in Canada and the United States Challenging Times shows that certain political and theoretical issues transcend international borders ebbing and flowing between the two countries symbiotically Topics discussed include the origins of second stage feminism the strength of the women s movement within academic structures and the challenges posed by racial ethnic and class diversity violence against women the promise and limits of legal reform reproductive technology and economic discrimination Readers who are interested in the recent history of the North American women's movement will find answers to many of their questions about the victories, defeats and fundamental challenges facing modern feminism. Those who have been active in the current wave of feminism either as central participants or serious critics will find Challenging Times equally fascinating because it endeavours to provide answers to pressing questions about the nature of feminism, the inter-relationships and tensions between different sectors of the movement and the prospects for future growth. Many of the contributors to this volume have lived through and personally shaped the unfolding of the rich history of North American feminism. In addition to Backhouse and Flaherty, the contributors are Catharine A. MacKinnon, Greta Hofmann Nemiroff, Monique B. Gin, Mariana Valverde, Naomi Black, Marjorie Griffin Cohen, Micheline de Sève, Micheline Dumont, Margrit Eichler, Sara M. Evans, Marianne A. Ferber, Lorraine Greaves, Marjorie Heins, M. Patricia Fernandez Kelly, Patricia A. Monture, Okanee Arun Mukherjee, Jean F. O. Barr, Christine Overall, Glenda Simms and Jill Vickers.

Elsie Ripley Clapp (1879-1965) Sam F. Stack, 2004. This biography chronicles the life and teaching practices of Elsie Ripley Clapp, one of the most significant female leaders in progressive education. Clapp's greatest contribution to American education is the community school, a place for self-realization, caring, cooperation and cultural enrichment as well as the cornerstone of democratic society. Challenging the practices of contemporary education in her era, she envisioned pedagogy as the integration of living and learning, building upon local resources and the experiences of students and their community. Learning was more than training or the acquisition of knowledge; it was a form of communal sharing. Agreeing with her mentor John Dewey, a true education was more of a journey than arrival at a specific destination. This book explores Clapp's personal journey, her triumphs and her failures.

Incredible Women Inventors Sandra Braun, 2006-01-01. This book, in the acclaimed Women's Hall of Fame Series, profiles 10 incredible women with an itch to invent. Written in an accessible, engaging and informative style, Incredible Women Inventors examines both the challenges and successes in the lives of ten international problem solvers. From Anna Sutherland Bissell, inventor of the carpet sweeper, to Elizabeth Elsie MacGill, the first woman aircraft designer in the world, young readers will have much to motivate them after reading these biographies, both in science and in life in general.

Murder, Mystery and My Family Karen Farrington, 2019-10-31. Five Women. Five families search for justice. All Sarah Chesham wanted was to survive at a time when crops were poor and money was tight. By the time she died, she was branded a merciless child killer. All Emily Swann wanted was the love of a man who wouldn't abuse her. By the time she died, she was depicted as a vengeful, drunken hussy. All Edith Thompson wanted was a romance with a man who adored her. By the time she died, she was seen as a scheming and manipulative adulteress. All Louie Calvert wanted was to be heard. Yet when she died, she slipped almost immediately into the shadows like thousands of other women like her. All Charlotte Bryant wanted was a distraction from a dreary life. By the time she died, she was deemed a seductress and an arch poisoner. No one wants to believe that their mother, sister or daughter is capable of murder. When a woman is charged with a killing we judge more harshly and punish more severely than when a man does the same Murder Mystery and My Family explores five historical true crime tales from the hit BBC series each with a woman at the heart of the story from a case of poison panic in the 19th century to a post war murder that gripped the nation Tales of infidelity and greed corruption and deceit run throughout but was justice served for all Descendants of those convicted revisit each case in search of answers Based on extensive research including original court records and interviews with descendants Murder Mystery and My Family delves deeper into each crime while also looking at our changing attitudes to women who have found themselves at the centre of our darkest dramas

Women Inventors Who Changed the World Sandra Braun, 2011-12-15 Profiles eleven women through history whose inventions changed the face of the world from Madam C J Walker's hair product industry to Stephanie Kwolek's Kevlar and Hedy Lamarr's breakthroughs in wireless communication

Her Daughter the Engineer Richard I.
