 1. Economic: industrial warfare by huge conscript armies demanded the reorganization of the whole economy.
 2. Psychological: combat became utterly terrifying, with a killing zone over 5 miles deep; "shell shock" became a major source of casualties.
 3. Social psychological: massive propaganda campaigns demonized the enemy in each country.
 4. Ethical: hunger blockades, bombardments, and anti-partisan actions broke down the distinction between combatants & noncombatants.

The Age of Total War, 1860-1945 Jeremy M. Black, 2006-03-31 What is total war Definitions abound but one thing is certain the concept of total war has come to be seen as a defining concept of the modern age Celebrated historian Jeremy Black explores the rise and demise of an era of total war which he defines in terms of the intensity of the struggle the range geographical and or chronological of conflict the nature of the goals and the extent to which civil society was involved He contends that this era roughly 1860 1945 was markedly different from the warfare that characterized earlier periods and that it is very different from the situation that has evolved since with its emphasis on asymmetrical conflict and limited warfare Acknowledging that various definitions are problematic and often contradictory Black argues that 1860 to 1945 was an era in which the prospect of war and the consequences of it were crucially important for human history He focuses primarily on conflict between Western powers including Japanese participation in the Russo Japanese War Trends and developments subsequent to 1945 have combined Black asserts to make a return to total war unlikely
