Emerald City Of Las Vegas:

The Emerald City of Las Vegas Diane Wakoski,1995 The Emerald City of Las Vegas ,1995 Emerald City Agnes Vivarelli,2015-07-15 Emerald City is 31 stories of individuals that really wanted something such as a soul mate relationship a trip a dream job a specific house a million dollars etc These true stories give a detailed account of how each was achieved and the time frame it took to do so Each person in this book used the Law of Attraction Some also used the teachings of Abraham Hicks and Neville Goddard May you use this book as your yellow brick road Paul S. Endy Jr. Las Vegas Casino Gaming Legend Eric P. Endy MBA,2022-07-14 There isn t a person who had anything to do with the gaming industry in Las Vegas or the world for that matter that doesn t recognize the company name of Paul Son Dice But how many know the name of the man behind Paul Son Paul S Endy Jr He was known by many names including Mr Paulson the old man a mover and a shaker a bull in a china shop and Mr Endy But to me he was known as my father and I would like to share the story of his life and the legacy to the gaming industry he left behind Dear Eric I went to work at the El Cortez in 1965 By 1967 I became the Casino Manager and started doing business with your dad I became his oldest and largest customer Over the years through several more hotels I gave Paul Son Dice and Cards over 90% of my business gaming tables dice chips etc Your father was a true pioneer in the gaming supply business He myself and my father Jackie Gaughan are all in the Gambling Hall of Fame Your brother Tom and I were close friends and my son John worked one summer for your company Eric best of luck on this endeavor I am sure if your father were still alive today he would be proud of you Michael Gaughan South Point Hotel Dear Eric As a Las Vegas resident since 1964 and Mayor for 12 years I had the pleasure of knowing your father Paul Endy Jr both personally and professionally I remember having breakfast with him and the other movers and shakers at Papa Gars which was right around the corner and across the railroad tracks from Paul Son Dice and Card Company Your dad reminded me of a Bull in a China Shop and was able to get things done today not yesterday and sealed with a handshake I consider him as a gaming legend and one of the good old boys whose fundraising efforts for both UNLV baseball and Westcare were commendable Thank You for continuing his gaming legacy Mayor Oscar Goodman Mayor of Las Vegas from 1999 2011 Eric Your Dad was a real Casino Gaming Legend and a great human being I remember when your father was inducted into the gaming Hall of Fame in 1996 an honor very well deserved I will always cherish the time your Dad and I spent together and the commitment we both had to fundraising for charitable causes I am so proud that you are continuing his legacy by writing his biography Wayne Newton Mr Las Vegas Building Up and Tearing Down Paul Goldberger,2009-10-13 PAUL GOLDBERGER ON THE AGE OF ARCHITECTURE The Guggenheim Museum Bilbao by Frank Gehry the CCTV Headquarters by Rem Koolhaas the Getty Center by Richard Meier the Times Building by Renzo Piano Pulitzer Prize winning critic Paul Goldberger s tenure atThe New Yorkerhas documented a captivating era in the world of architecture one in which larger than life buildings urban schemes historic preservation battles and personalities have commanded an international stage

Goldberger's keen observations and sharp wit make him one of the most insightful and passionate architectural voices of our time. In this collection of fifty-seven essays, the critic Tracy Kidder called America's foremost interpreter of public architecture, ranges from Havana to Beijing, from Chicago to Las Vegas, dissecting everything from skyscrapers by Norman Foster and museums by Tadao Ando to airports, monuments, suburban shopping malls, and white brick apartment houses. This is a comprehensive account of the best and the worst of the age of architecture.

On Norman Foster Norman Foster is the Mozart of modernism. He is nimble and prolific, and his buildings are marked by lightness and grace. He works very hard, but his designs don't show the effort. He brings an air of unnerving aplomb to everything he creates, from skyscrapers to airports, research laboratories to art galleries, chairs to doorknobs. His ability to produce surprising work that doesn't feel labored must drive his competitors crazy.

On the Westin Hotel The forty-five-story Westin is the most garish tall building that has gone up in New York in as long as I can remember. It is fascinating if only because it makes Times Square vulgar in a whole new way, extending up into the sky. It is not easy these days to go beyond the bounds of taste. If the architects, the Miami-based firm Arquitectonica, had been trying to allude to bad taste, one could perhaps respect what they came up with. But they simply wanted, like most architects today, to entertain us.

On Mies van der Rohe Mies's buildings look like the simplest things you could imagine, yet they are among the richest works of architecture ever created. Modern architecture was supposed to remake the world, and Mies was at the center of the revolution, but he was also a counterrevolutionary who designed beautiful things. His spare minimalist objects are exquisite. He is the only modernist who created a language that ranks with the architectural languages of the past, and while this has sometimes been troubling for his reputation, his architectural forms become more astonishing as time goes on.

Dream City Douglas Unger, 2024-10-08. In this unconventional tale of Las Vegas during the two delirious boom decades before the bust of the Great Recession, failed actor C. D. Reinhart, who has launched a new career in hotel marketing, is gradually losing his moral and existential compass. Working on The Strip during an era when Sin City's population growth was outpacing any other place in America, C. D. climbs the industry ladder while modeling himself after a Pyramid Resorts top executive, Lance Sheperd. C. D.'s professional choices lead him down a tumultuous road, as Sheperd, a complex and at times visionary figure, pilots his ventures through the tangled wheeling and dealing of finance and corporate politics straight into catastrophe. As the story progresses, C. D. comes to understand how his personal losses and the losses of his cohort of hard-driving executives, on the one hand, and especially the tragic life of his work partner Greta Olsson, the only woman to break through into their male-dominated world, are a result of the make-believe environment he has helped to create, a world where representation replaces reality. Hoping to piece together his faltering marriage and family relationships, C. D. must find a new path as he struggles to hold onto his dreams. In this fictionalized version of the city of glittering lights, author Douglas Unger pits the ideologies of marketing and consumerism in the casino economy of America against the erosion of individual and humane values that success in that world demands Unger reveals the hard truth that Las Vegas a blue collar town considered by many to be the most honest city can be a temple for self deceptions emblematic of a service economy that knows the price of everything and too often the value of little else Dream City becomes both a love song and an elegy for Las Vegas that sets it apart from any other literary novel previously written about this global entertainment attraction that in so many ways represents postmodern America Sooner or later the challenge that faces everyone is to discover what matters most and to learn how to bet on the better angels of our natures
