,1891 Uppingham School Magazine Uppingham School,1879 The Lancet London ,1857 The Encyclopaedia Britannica: Ref to Shu Hugh Chisholm,1911 This eleventh edition was developed during the encyclopaedia's transition from a British to an American publication. Some of its articles were written by the best known scholars of the time and it is considered to be a landmark encyclopaedia for scholarship and literary style. The Encyclopaedia Britannica: Refectory-Sainte Beuve ,1911 The last great work of the age of reason the final instance when all human knowledge could be presented with a single point of view. Unabashed optimism and unabashed racism pervades many entries in the 11th and provide its defining characteristics. Despite its occasional ugliness the reputation of the 11th persists today because of the staggering depth of knowledge contained within its volumes. It is especially strong in its biographical entries. These delve deeply into the history of men and women prominent in their eras who have since been largely forgotten except by the historians scholars. Building on work of earlier mathematicians they were able to develop sophisticated tools for solving difficult problems. All of Burnside's papers are reproduced here organized chronologically and with a detailed bibliography. Walter Feit has contributed a foreword and a collection of introductory essays are included to provide a commentary on Burnside's work and set it in perspective along with a modern biography that draws on archive material. The Newspaper Press James Amphlett,1871 The Universal magazine ,1805
