From Tradition To Commentary:

From Tradition to Commentary Steven D. Fraade, 2012-02-01 This book examines Torah and its interpretation both as a recurring theme in the early rabbinic commentary and as the very practice of the commentary. It studies the phenomenon of ancient rabbinic scriptural commentary in relation to the perspectives of literary and historical criticisms and their complex intersection. The author discusses extensively the nature of ancient commentary, comparing and contrasting it with the antecedents in the pesharim of the Dead Sea Scrolls and the allegorical commentaries of Philo of Alexandria. He develops a model for a dynamic understanding of the literary structure and sociohistorical function of early rabbinic commentary and then applies this model to the Sifre to the oldest extant running commentary to Deuteronomy and one of the oldest rabbinic collections of exegesis. Fraade examines the commentary's representation of revelation and its reception at Mt Sinai with particular attention to its fractured refiguration and interrelation of Scripture, tradition, and history. He discusses the commentary's discursive empowering of the class of sages in their collective self-understanding as Israel's authorized teachers, leaders, legislators, and judges. The author also probes the tension between Torah and nature as witnesses to Israel's covenant with God.

Augustine's Conversion from Traditional Free Choice to "Non-free Free Will" Kenneth M. Wilson, 2018-05-25 The consensus view asserts Augustine developed his later doctrines ca. 396 CE while writing Ad Simplicianum as a result of studying scripture. His early De libero arbitrio argued for traditional free choice, refuting Manichaean determinism, but his anti-Pelagian writings rejected any human ability to believe without God giving faith. Kenneth M. Wilson's study is the first work applying the comprehensive methodology of reading systematically and chronologically through Augustine's entire extant corpus: works, sermons, and letters, 386-430 CE, and examining his doctrinal development. The author explores Augustine's later theology within the prior philosophical/religious context of free choice.

versus deterministic arguments This analysis demonstrates Augustine persisted in traditional views until 412 CE and his theological transition was primarily due to his prior Stoic Neoplatonic and Manichaeic influences Zhuangzi: The Essential Writings with Selections from Traditional Commentaries Zhuangzi, Brook Ziporyn, 2009-09-11 This volume is a translation of over two thirds of the classic Daoist text Zhuangzi Chuang Tzu including the complete Inner Chapters and extensive selections from the Outer and Miscellaneous Chapters plus judicious selections from 2000 years of traditional Chinese commentaries which provide the reader access to the text as well as to its reception and interpretation Brief biographies of the commentators a bibliography a glossary and an index are also included Tradition and the Rule of

Li Zhi, Confucianism, and the Virtue of Desire Pauline C. Lee, 2012-03-06 Li Zhi 1527-1602 was a bestselling author with a devoted readership His biting shrewd and visionary writings with titles like A Book to Hide and A Book to Burn were both inspiring and inflammatory Widely read from his own time to the present Li Zhi has long been acknowledged as an important figure in Chinese cultural history While he is esteemed as a stinging social critic and an impassioned writer Li Zhi's ideas have been dismissed as lacking a deeper or constructive vision Pauline C Lee convincingly shows us otherwise Situating Li Zhi within the highly charged world of the late Ming culture of feelings Lee presents his slippery and unruly yet clear and robust ethical vision Li Zhi is a Confucian thinker whose consuming concern is a powerful interior world of abundance distinctive to each individual the realm of the emotions Critical to his ideal of the good life is the ability to express one's feelings well In the work's conclusion Lee brings Li Zhi's insights into conversation with contemporary philosophical debates about the role of feelings an ethics of authenticity and the virtue of desire
